STIMSON SUGGESTS LIMITATION OF USE

Anxious To Prevent Inhuman Warfare Against Unarmed Ships as in World War.

BY C. P. WILLIAMSON,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—A conrted effort by Americans and Brith to effect abolition of the submane was generally expected in conrence circles as conversations on e undersea craft went on.

It was known that only the United ates and Great Britain were comitted to the policy of abolition of bmersibles, with the other three paripants in the parley standing off the subject, but it was understood at both Secretary of State Stimn and Prime Ministers MacDonald no means considered that abolition this category was a dead issue. Just w hopeful either delegation might as to ultimate abolition was not own.

It was disclosed tonight in authoritive circles that each was desirous effecting some agreement such as . Stimson referred to in his radio ech on Tuesday night when he said hoped to "prevent their being d against merchant vessels in the hless and inhuman way" employed the World War.

In suggesting this the American retary of state revived an idea ilar to that contained in the treaty 1922, which was not ratified by nce and hence was not effective, connection with submarines. It s generally believed that the Unit States was willing and even urgent pressing for consideration again of fining the extent to which subrines could be used in war time.

Abolition is the real goal of the ericans, for it is realized that an eement limiting the use of any ship war time is most difficult to ence. It is felt that with the entire egory abolished or severely limitto a status where it could only be sidered for coastal defense would the means most satisfactory to the ericans in dealing with the prob-

The fact that France, Italy and Jadesire to retain this type of vesin their navies leaves the submaproblem one of the most outding for the conference to deal h.

Hearings on Prohi Repeal Are Called

Man, Identity Guarded, Believed To Have Testified on Henry Grady High Construction.

A mysterious witness, whose identity was closely guarded, was before the Fulton county grand jury for more than two hours Wednesday afternoon testifying in that body's investigation into the conduct of municipal affairs and believed to have been called specifically to offer evidence concerning the construction of the Henry Grady High school which is reported sinking beneath the ground level and partly supported by giant beams.

Though the identities of all of the witnesses appearing before the grand jury in the investigation have been guarded, extreme precautions were taken to prevent this man's name from becoming known outside of the grand jury room. He appeared shortly before 2 o'clock when the body was called to meet and until called into the grand jury room a few minutes later was kept in Solicitor-General John A. Boykin's private office. When the grand jury was ready to hear his testimony the solicitor-general's suite was cleared of all save members of his staff and the mysterious witness was led before the grand jurors.

While between 15 and 20 other witnesses remained in the witness room waiting to be heard, the person whose identity was so closely guarded remained before the inquisitorial body until shortly after 4 o'clock. At the conclusion of his testimony the witness was ushered into a private elevator and left the courthouse through the basement.

Collier Is Silent.

W. Rawson Collier, the grand jury foreman, refused to answer any and all questions concerning the activities of Wednesday afternoon and night sessions, which were reported to have been given over almost entirely to activities of the board of education, particularly with reference to construction work.

Credence was given reports that the grand jury was scrutinizing the contract regarding the Henry Grady school's construction by the fact that the blue prints of plans for this school were taken to the courthouse earlier in the day by Dr. McIntosh Burns, president of the board of education. It also was learned that the grand jury was furnished the private reports of a number of persons who investigated the school recently when gaping cracks were discovered in the section given over to locker rooms and the ceiling of one of the main sections began to sag and had to be supported by props as did part of the north wall.

Ten or twelve of the witnesses, all of whom spent considerable time before the grand jury, were said to have been interested in that phase of the investigation pertaining to schools. The remainder are believed to have been summoned to testify in regard to various other matters. These witnesses spent only a few minutes each in the grand jury room.

The citizens' committee, organized to support and sponsor the grand jury in the investigation Wednesday, launched its final campaign to raise funds to assist in carrying on the work of the inquiry. Through its executive board, Chairman H. Y. McCord, Sr., the committee announced that of the $12,000 desired a total of almost $6,000 had been collected or pledged and formal promises of several additional thousands received.

Conference Is Held.

Mr. McCord conferred early in the day with Walter McElreath, chairman of the general committee, and Edgar Watkins, Jr., the committee secretary, at which time he received reports on the funds collected and with the two heads of the general committee mapped plans for the final appeal for subscriptions.

"We are not making any special canvass for funds and do not intend to," Mr. McElreath said, in discussing the conference. "We feel that our cause has generally been made known and that the public is heartily in accord with the spirit and purposes of the committee. Everyone knows that no special fund has been set aside by the county commission for the payments of the costs of the inquiry and that the success of the entire investigation depends a great deal on its thoroughness and it cannot be thorough unless every witness whose testimony is actually needed is brought before the grand jury. Congress Committee To Hear Sponsors of Proposals Beginning February 12.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Congress moved Wednesday to make prohibition enforcement laws more stringent while the house judiciary committee set hearings on resolutions for appeal of the eighteenth amendment to start February 12.

At the same time the government continued drives against rum conspirators with nearly four hundred persons, including many public officials, already under indictment in four cases in four western states.

The house expenditures committee made further progress on the measure to transfer the prohibition unit from the treasury to the justice department, while the move of some congressional wets to drive for 2.75 per cent beer brought notice from the drys that the test would be only on the question of prohibition or no prohibition.

Dropping his warfare on the prohibition enforcement office for the moment, Senator Borah, of Idaho, a dry leader, said 2.75 per cent beer would not help the situation. He added that such legislation would not settle any of the questions now before congress and the administration.

22 Plead Guilty.

At the trial of the Oklahoma conspiracy case, in which 102 persons are accused, 22 pleaded guilty. These included Mayor Knappenberger, former mayor of Earlsboro. Judge Vaught announced sentences would be imposed February 15.

The trial of 23 defendants in Wyoming was continued. These include W. C. Irving, former state law enforcement commissioner.

In Seattle, Wash., liquor racketeers abducted D. Dunning, a federal agent, and after taking him across the city in an automobile, severely beat him after he had been thrown to the street.

At Boston opening arguments were begun before a legislative committee on an initiative petition for repeal of the state enforcement act, with Alexander Lincoln, former assistant attorney general, asserting that the people of Massachusetts have established a definite state policy against prohibition.

HEARINGS TO START ON FEBRUARY 12.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(United News.) — The prohibition situation was cracked wide open today by Chairman George Scott Graham, of the house judiciary committee. He announced that hearings would be held on the numerous wet constitutional amendments starting February 12. All who wish to testify will be heard, he said.

After these hearings the Dyer subcommittee will hold hearings on proposals for modification of the present strict enforcement laws. Many of these would allow light wines and beer, or set up a state dispensary system.

Graham's committee has been sitting on the lid of all such prohibition proposals since prohibition went into effect. The committee is regarded as dry, but Graham is regarded as a wet.

The action, which Graham took on his own initiative under his power as chairman, insures a thorough airing of the prohibition controversy on broad general lines.

Graham expects the full committee hearings to last two weeks. Perhaps a score of constitutional amendment proposals which have been introduced in the current session will be discussed. Several score of modification measures are also before the committee, the archives of which are the last resting place for hundreds of like measures introduced since 1919.

Graham, a remarkable man of 79 years, has been a lawyer since he was 20. He is tall and well built, with a picturesque sweeping mustache like that worn by Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. He made his decision to hold hearings last night without being asked. The anti-prohibition bloc in the

Aged Swedish Queen Is Dangerously Ill

ROME, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Queen Victoria, of Sweden, is very ill, a bulletin issued at her winter home here tonight indicated. King Gustav has arrived at her bedside.

The bulletin said the condition of the queen's lungs and heart was unsatisfactory and that she was therefore in an extremely weak condition.

Queen Victoria, 68 years old, never has had strong health. The air of Stockholm not agreeing with her, a villa was built for her on the Swedish island of Oeland in the Baltic sea. But even the balmy air there failed to alleviate her bronchial catarrh, and she was forced to make repeated trips to Italy and to the island of Mainau, in Lanke Constance, Bavania, which had been willed her.

Expert Divers Seek To Save Trapped Mate

Brave Ice Coated River in Night Effort To Rescue Peter Trans.

QUEBEC, Quebec, Jan. 29.—(AP) Two expert divers who arrived at the isolated village of Riviere Aux Outardes late today by airplane, tonight donned under-water toggery and descended to the bottom of the Outardes river in an attempt to rescue Peter Trans, imprisoned by snagged equipment since Monday.

These divers, Quesnel Morency and Lewis Begin, braving strong currents which it was thought would prevent their attempting to rescue at least until tomorrow morning, decided that further delay on their part might frustrate removing Trans alive. So, casting thought of their own safety aside, each went into the 20 feet of water. Officials of the Ontario Paper Company momentarily expected word of the result of their effort.

Meanwhile relatives in Denmark were kept in touch with the rescue work by cable. Although in an almost inaccessible spot, word of progress from Riviere Aux Outardes was being rushed to the outside world by all available means.

Trans was trapped Monday afternoon while at work in a cofferdam being constructed by the Ontario Paper Company. It has been determined that his lines are fouled but that his air tube is free. This was learned when a volunteer diver went overside in a futile attempt to extricate the Dane.

Arvo Silyala, with no previous diving experience, made the first descent. He found Trans trapped in a "crib" and reported that because of his inexperience he did not try to extricate him.

Silyala said he had grasped Trans' hand but had felt no responding pressure. Officials tonight believed this did not necessarily mean that Trans was dead. They said he might have become unconscious from the intense cold.

Air is being constantly pumped into the diver's helmet, officials hoped to extricate him before midnight but even if this occurred it is doubtful if word would reach the outside world before morning.

MEN LEAVE U-BOAT VIA DIVING BELL

Naval Tests of Submarine Rescue Device Succeed Off Florida Coast.

ABOARD U. S. S. FALCON, Off Key West, Fla., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Reaching down into 68 feet of water in the Gulf of Mexico, the United States navy salvage ship Falcon today enabled two men to escape from a submarine by means of a diving bell in an experiment to test the feasibility of using the safety device in submarine rescue work.

Naval officers said the test, the first of a series to be conducted with diving bells, was a complete success and demonstrated that the device could be used in smooth seas at certain depths to effect the escape of men from sunken undersea craft.

Similar rescue experiments were conducted successfully near Key West a year ago with a safety device known as a mechanical "lung."

In the experiment today the bell was lowered from the Falcon and seated over the motor hatch of the submarine S-4, which had submerged for the test.

Members of the crew in the bell opened the hatches and descended into the submarine, while two of the submarine's crew entered the bell and were raised to the surface.

The feat, the first of its kind in naval history, proved naval officers said that under certain conditions the bell could be used for sending down workmen to disabled undersea craft and in rescuing the crew from them.

The expedition is under the command of Lieutenant Commander Palmer H. Dunbar, while the opening of the hatch and the descent of the bell were under the direction of Lieutenant Charles B. Momsen and Chief Torpedoman Edward A. Kalinoski. Momsen and Kalinoski were the first to test the mechanical "lung" in the experiments conducted near here a year ago.

Additional experiments with the diving bell are to be carried out tomorrow if weather conditions permit, naval officers said, in an effort to determine how deep the device may safely be operated. The mechanical "lung" was successfully operated from a depth of 210 feet and officials hope to go even further under the surface by means of the bell.

Operations of the diving bell were authorized by a special submarine board appointed by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur following the sinking of the submarine S-4 in north Atlantic waters two years ago with the loss of a number of lives aboard.

Three different bells, all similar design, are to be used in the experiments. The one used today is the product of a subway engineer of Brooklyn. Another was designed by a boat company at New London, Conn., while the third was designed by the navy department.

All-Day Fall Registers More Than 3.7 Inches; Colder Weather Seen.

Atlanta's heaviest snowfall of many years, Wednesday not only shrouded streets, lawns, roofs, and auto tops with a blanket of white, but also is believed to have smashed every record for snowfall since January, 1904, when 7.5 inches fell.

Late Wednesday afternoon, Forecaster C. F. von Hermann estimated that 3.5 inches had fallen, which was only two-tenths of an inch behind the record of March 14, 1924. From the time Mr. von Hermann made his estimate, however, it continued to snow. It was snowing when afternoon faded into night and then slackened a bit. But about 8 o'clock at night the snow began to fall as hard as at any time during the morning and afternoon, continuing to do so for several hours.

Mr. von Hermann Wednesday predicted that all forms of precipitation would cease today, and that the temperature would not get far below zero. At midnight Wednesday unofficial thermometers showed a drop in the mercury of 27.

Temperatures Wednesday tumbled a few degrees following the advent of large multitudes of white flakes which completely changed the complexion of the city. The minimum in the morning was 38 degrees, but the freezing point was reached early in the afternoon.

No Radical Drop Seen.

All indications to the contrary notwithstanding, the bureau chief is not anticipating any radical drop for today. A minimum of 30, however, is considered more than sufficient to keep a little covering of white on the ground today.

A pair of exceedingly rapidly-moving low pressure areas were said to be responsible for the arctic-like visitation of Wednesday. One moved from Alabama in a northeasterly direction to the Atlantic coast and the second swept across the southeast from the western part of the gulf, bringing snow, ice and rain to northern Alabama and Georgia. The storm center which reached hurricane proportions in other sections, passed over Atlanta as a snowstorm.

Beginning about 9 o'clock Wednesday morning the swirling flakes were carried along on the icy wings of a northeast wind which was rushing to meet the approaching low pressure area to the west. With the temperature in the upper thirties as the onslaught began, the streets soon were given a generous coating of slush which made the going very treacherous. Automobiles soon carried blankets of white and the tops of office buildings likewise changed their colors.

Mercury Adjusts Itself.

By afternoon, as the soft downpour continued, the mercury in the official thermometer adjusted itself to the situation and the entire city took on an aspect which would have de-

CHICAGO OFFICIAL TARGET FOR BOMB

Futile Attempt on Investigator's Life Climaxes Day of Outrages.

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN,
United News Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—An attempt to kill Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, with an infernal machine climaxed a day of terror for hundreds of bomb-frightened Chicagoans.

The sudden boom of gangster "pineapples" shattered buildings in four widely separated parts of the city before an attempt was discovered to blow up Roche with a charge of dynamite attached to the electric starter of his automobile.

A garage man caught two men attaching a dynamite bomb to the starter button. He grappled with them and they fled, leaving the infernal machine behind. Roche, who would have been blown to bits when he tried to start his car had the bombers been successful, said that any one of scores of gangsters might have been responsible.

Roche is known as a nemesis for gangsters, racketeers and criminals of all sorts. Only a few hours before the bomb was found in his big limousine, he led a police ambush in an exclusive Gold Coast apartment hotel which resulted in the wounding of one robber.

"Pineapple artist," gentry so expert in the business of preparing and tossing bombs that they are reputed to be able to calculate the damage before it is done and thus charge their employers accordingly, did several thousand dollars damage and terrorized hundreds during the night and today.

While motorists streamed down brightly-lighted Michigan boulevard, Chicago's most famous drive, a blast caved in the front of Lewis E. Bower's garage. So terrific was the detonation that windshields of passing automobiles crashed in on their drivers' faces and windows in buildings for almost a block around were shattered.

Before police had started their investigation, residents of an apartment house on the other side of town were thrown from their beds by another black powder bomb. The building was ruined and inhabitants were forced to seek shelter with neighbors.

Two men were injured and damage estimated at $100,000 was done by a bomb which wrecked a one-story building housing a grocery store tonight. The injured men were eating in a neighboring restaurant and were cut by flying glass.

CAPITALIST SEEKS G. L. MILLER & CO. STRUCTURES HERE

BID NOT SUBMITTED TO BONDHOLDERS

Unsold Buildings Involve a Number of the Largest Apartment House Properties in Atlanta.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(Special.) Asa Candler, Jr., has made an offer of $1,450,000 for eight of the nine Atlanta properties of the bankrupt G. L. Miller and Company, it was learned today at the office of Root Clark, Buckner, Holland Company, attorneys for the bondholders committee.

The offer provides for a $450,000 cash payment with the balance as a first mortgage.

This offer has not yet been submitted to the bondholders, it was learned, as United States Judge Julian Mack has not yet set a date for submission of the offer and hearing for all of those concerned. It is believed notification of the offer and hearing will be mailed to the Miller bondholders sometime next week after the date of the hearing is set.

The unsold Miller financed properties were said to involve a number of the largest apartment structures in Atlanta and to represent an orginal bonded indebtedness in the neighborhood of three million dollars, aggregate.

The eight parcels on which Mr. Candler made an offer are as follows:

The Bonaventure Arms, eight-story structure at 789 Ponce de Leon avenue.

St. George, seven-story structure at 1206 Peachtree street.

The St. Andrews, eight-story structure at West Peachtree and Eleventh streets.

The Somerset apartment on Fourteenth street, smallest of the nine Miller financed apartments, was not included in the offer.

Efforts to reach Mr. Candler in Atlanta Wednesday night were unavailing. Members of the family stated that the capitalist was in New York on business.

No comment on the story was forthcoming from J. H. Ewing, head of J. H. Ewing & Sons Realty & Loan Company, who, with his son Charles Ewing, is negotiating the deal.

SAVANNAH BOY WINS SCOUT SCHOLARSHIP

Leo M. Wachtel Among 52 Named for Harmon Awards.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The national court of honor of the Boy Scouts of America tonight announced award of the Harmon scout scholarships for 1929 to 52 scouts. The winners were selected because of unusual services to their home communities, for outstanding attainments and for high achievements as eagle scouts.

Harry Mayeda, 18, of Sacramento, Cal., who is of Japanese parentage, won the highest rating of the 52. The announcement pointed out that Mayeda, though a member of a poor family, worked his way through school. Through his activities in training Japanese-American boys in citizenship he won the friendship of Governor Young, of California. The governor personally indorsed him to receive the Harmon scholarship, after Mayeda had helped his troop, composed of poor Japanese boys, to earn enough money to finance a trip to Japan in the interest of international good will.

Gordon Gilbert Power, 17, of Baltimore, Md., overcame the handicap of loss of an arm six years ago and became not only an exceptional high school and Duke University student but also an able athlete, the announcement said. Another handicapped student who won distinction was Joseph Agee, 17, of 2723 Kincaid street, Fort Smith, Ark. Agee made a good record despite infantile paralysis. Eugene Lloyd Mitchell, 20, negro, of Findlay, Ohio, was another winner. He received high praise for scholastic attainments and personality.

POLICE TRAP THIEF IN CHICAGO HOTEL

Robber Reaches for Gun and Is Shot Down by Officers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—A thief was shot and probably fatally wounded early today by policemen who trapped him in the robbery of a gold coast apartment hotel.

Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, and two police officers were concealed off the lobby of the 211 East Delaware building as the robber entered. The man carried a revolver which he pointed at the night clerk, Abraham Dansk.

Neither Roche nor his men were able to interfere, fearing the thief might use Dansk as a shield or possibly shoot him. The officers remained concealed while the robber took dansk to the seventeenth floor and locked him up.

Back in the lobby, the robber walked to the cash register and was taking $50 from it when he heard Policeman John Greer call out, "Throw up your hands."

The robber whirled, reaching for his gun. Greer fired once, the bullet entering the shoulder and penetrating one lung.

At the hospital slight hope for the man's recovery was given. He was tentatively identified as Andrew Wright, 35 years old.

Acting on tips from underworld sources, Roche has had police guards at the 211 East Delaware building and three other gold coast hotels for several days. The other places marked for robbery were the Pearson, the Seneca and the 201 East Delaware hotels, Roche said.

In raids early Monday Roche arrested several men and women who he believed were responsible for recent gold coast robberies.

Lady Nancy Astor To Broadcast to U.S.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Lady Astor, Great Britain's American-born peeress and member of the house of commons, will broadcast over radio to the United States within about a fortnight.

Her address will be designed primarily for women of America and will urge them to continue their organized efforts for world peace.

The exact date of the broadcast has not been set but it will be the first time a woman has participated in a trans-Atlantic radio feature.

Dudley Field Malone Weds Brooklyn Girl

LONDON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Dudley Field Malone, American divorce lawyer, was married at noon today to Edna Louise Johnson, of Brooklyn. The civil ceremony took place in Mayfair. There was no church service.

The bride, who is aged 24, has been studying art and music for several years in Paris. She met Malone about three years ago in south France.

Sir William Jowitt, attorney general, and Lady Cynthia Mosley acted as witnesses for the couple. The bride wore a beige chiffon frock matching shoes and hat. She was unattended.

Among intimate friends who were present at the wedding were Will Rogers, H. L. Mencken, Frederick Lonsdale, Cyril Maude, Edna Best, Peggy Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Henson, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Davidson, the Baroness Ravensdale, and Sir Thomas and Lady Bridges.

Malone recently was divorced from a former wife, Doris Stevens, the feminist. The couple will honeymoon for two weeks in Europe and then sail for the United States.

INVESTIGATION ASKED IN FRUIT FLY FIGHT

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Florida's troubles over the Mediterranean fruit fly, which Georgia officials fear may ultimately cross the border and play havoc with the state's important annual peach crop, were multiplied today when Chairman Will R. Wood, of the house appropriations committee, offered a resolution calling for a sweeping investigation of the various charges and counter-charges of fraud and waste in connection with the expenditure of federal funds in the eradication campaign. The investigation would be made incident to hearings on the $15,000,000 fund which the Hoover administration has recommended for carrying on eradication work in Florida, but charges already made by Chairman Wood himself reveal that its object will be more to show up alleged waste and corruption than the need for further federal appropriations. There is a certain ironical twist to today's resolution, which was referred to the house rules committee for action, in that the proposed $15,000,000 fund, although recommended and backed by President Hoover and his secretary of agriculture, Mr. Hyde, is vigorously opposed by Representative Wood, who ordinarily may be counted as one of the administration stalwarts in the lower house.

It was Representative Wood, in fact, who first came into the open with the sensational allegations of misappropriation of fruit fly funds in the neighboring state. He has declared that the approximately $4,000,000 of government money which congress appropriated for fly eradication work was not only expended extravagantly, but that the Florida plant board in its administration of the fund used it to employ some 6,000 democrats. Republican organization leaders in the state have told him that the money went to hungry job seekers of the minority party without anything suggesting an equal division of the spoils. Some of the Florida leaders are known to have gone so far as to say that not a single republican or Hoovercrat received a job in the work.

Whether this is true or not remains to be verified, but the charge has evidently impressed the house appropriations chairman who from the start has indicated that the $15,000,000 recommendation will be denied if he has any voice in the matter. And being chairman of the committee with jurisdiction over the legislation it seems safe to say the figure will be trimmed considerably before final action is taken, if it is not defeated outright.

Taking cognizance of the repetition of charges that have come from the office of Chairman Wood lately, Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida, today joined the fray and entered a sweeping denial in behalf of the state. He repudiated the implications of graft and corruption, and denounced no less vehemently the statement that only democrats had benefited in the employment of eradication personnel. While some blunders and mistakes may have been made there was no basis for the charge that crookedness had prevailed, he said.

The resolution by Mr. Wood today would empower a special sub-committee of the house appropriations committee to go to Florida and hold hearings on every phase of the subject, with full authority to summon witnesses and take testimony. From his previous statements it is obvious that the chairman plans to put the fly on the front page and keep it there for some weeks.

U. S. Reformatory For S. E. Proposed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Construction of a federal industrial reformatory in one of the southeastern states was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Hammer, democrat, North Carolina, which would authorize the attorney-general and the secretaries of war and interior to select a site for the institution.

First offenders sentenced to imprisonment for more than one year, not including those convicted of murder, treason or arson, would be confined in the proposed reformatory.

Facing Rum Trial, Aged Man Poisoned

FORT SMITH, Ark., Jan. 29.—(AP) A few hours before he was to have been tried on liquor charges, Darvin E. Weakly, 65, was found dying in his rooms as a result of what officers believed to have been poisoning.

Rushed to a hospital by his two sons, Weakly died shortly after his arrival there.

Dr. Hugh Johnson, city health officer, who immediately began an investigation, asserted it as his belief that Weakly died from poisoning. An autopsy by city chemists was ordered at once.

Weakly was to have appeared in federal district court here today for trial in connection with sale and possession of liquor at the Owls' Club, of which he was secretary. He had entered a plea of not guilty.

Jury Picked To Try Six Auburn Convicts

AUBURN, N. Y., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The jury for the trial of six Auburn convicts charged with murder, first degree, in the killing of Henry Sullivan, during a December prison riot, was completed today, the third in the proceedings.

District Attorney James J. Hosmer prepared to begin opening argument for the prosecution immediately.

OCEAN MAIL HEARING ENDED BY COMMITTEE

Shipowners Testify on Plan To Stop Contracting With With Foreigners.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Hearings were completed today by the house merchant marine committee on the proposal of Representative Davis, of Tennessee, its ranking democratic member, to prohibit the postmaster-general from letting mail contracts to shipping lines that operate foreign flagships in competition with American flag craft.

Much of the interrogation of ship owners who appeared was done by Davis.

The committee set Monday for an executive session to act on the Davis proposal and on the proposed White amendment to the merchant marine act, which would give preference to vessels purchased from the United States shipping board in mail contract awards.

During its final hearing on the bill the committee heard a charge of monopoly in the banana industry made against the United Fruit Company by Representative Reid, republican, Illinois. He asserted the company "controls every banana we eat."

C. D. Doswell, vice president of the United Fruit Company, denied the charges after protesting against the Davis bill. He complained the bill would compel his company to forego its aspirations to build up its American fleet under the Jones-White act or to dispose of its foreign-flag tonnage.

ANOTHER 'PAY' PASSES FOR CHICAGO WORKERS

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—What was to have been pay-day for several thousand county employes turned out to be just another Wednesday. County officials, after planning to meet two postponed payrolls by issuing tax anticipation warrants in small amounts, decided they should wait until the civic rescue committee determined definitely what, if anything, it could do toward pulling the city and county governments back from the brink of bankruptcy.

Silas Strawn, chairman of the rescue group, returned from Washington, but spent most of the day finding out what had happened during his absence. Although it previously had been said that his committee had been pledged $20,000,000 for purchasing tax warrants, Strawn declined to comment on what progress his group had made.

Informed that H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the school board, had sent a representative to New York with $54,000,000 worth of school tax warrants for sale, Strawn expressed hope that "a deal could be made, since it would mean that much less for the rescue committee to raise."

The plan to pay county employes in tax warrants was postponed after Strawn said this move would interfere with any wholesale disposal of the warrants to banks. Funds for completing the reassessment of 1927 were running low and delay in completing the reassessment created the financial famine in Chicago and Cook county, both of which have been unable to collect taxes pending the new assessment.

More than 40,000 city, county and school employes have not been paid this year, pending a solution of the money question, and many of them now are in dire circumstances.

To Protect Flag.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Wainwright bill to prevent desecration of the flag and insignia of the United States today was approved by the house judiciary committee. It is intended to prevent the use of the flag or insignia for advertising purposes.

Talkie Film Star Sues Former Mate

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 29.—(AP) Complaining of non-support of their daughter, Joan Bennett, talking picture star, today brought suit in superior court here against her former husband, John Marion Fox, and his bride of a little more than a month, the former Miss Polly Perkins, daughter of W. D. Perkins, Seattle banker.

The actress said that she was seeking support for the daughter, Adrienne Ralston Fox. Miss Bennett and Fox were married in London September 15, 1926, and divorced two years later in Los Angeles.

The name of the second Mrs. Fox was joined to Miss Bennett's complaint because part of the $1,275 which the actress says is owing became due subsequent to the second marriage and must be paid out of community property.

Blaze Motor Trail.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A party composed of a college professor and three students of the college of William and Mary left here early this morning for Washington to start from that city a 12,000-mile journey by automobile to South America to blaze an international motor trail.

Deming Quits Post To Consider Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(United News.)—William C. Deming, Wyoming publisher, resigned today as president and member of the United States civil service commission, in order to consider whether he shall run for the senate.

In a letter to President Hoover, Deming said:

"While I have reached no decision, it would be difficult in my present position to make a survey of the situation without violating the spirit of the civil service law."

"THE U. S. ARMY BUILDS MEN" ... and Sugar helps

The American soldier thrives on plenty of good food and consumes 50% more sugar daily than the average civilian

Seventeen million, six hundred and forty-five thousand pounds of sugar.

That's what the U. S. Standing Army consumed last year. The individual consumption, estimated at about six ounces per man per day, is based on the 134,505 officers and men in regular service in 1926. This individual figure does not include the sugar content of candy, jams and scores of other items in the regular peace-time ration.

This high average consumption of sugar by the United States Army, whose diet and health are safeguarded by a carefully selected staff of trained medical officers, is more evidence that our adult population is not taking too much sugar in its diet. As a matter of fact, the average man and woman in civilian life consumes a little over four ounces daily.

When food theorists "sound off" about sugar in any form, consider the army—its physical condition—its consumption of good wholesome food and sugar. Then you will realize that a sensible sugar ration belongs in a properly balanced diet. Good food promotes health, and sugar makes eating more pleasant. The Sugar Institute.

1—Heretofore much of the dissatisfaction with the Inner Spring construction has been caused by the tiny sensitive coils crumpling, falling and meshing together after use. Red Cross has overcome this by not only encasing each of the hundreds of springs in an individual cloth container, but each coil is also sewed on at the top and bottom to a heavy fabric. That is why coils in the Red Cross Inner Spring stay straight and true after years of use.

2—All Inner Spring Mattresses have carded cotton between the ticking and the small coils. This is known as a bat. Where cheaply made bats are used the small springs work through and have even been known to come through the ticking. To avoid this Red Cross uses a specially compressed bat made of hundreds of layers of finely spun cotton which is compressed in a special machine. Our experience in the manufacture of luxurious automobile seats has taught us this secret of perfect bat construction.

3—Inner Spring Mattresses are so soft and resilient that users often are conscious of the tufts on the mattress. To avoid this Red Cross has done away with tufts and in their place uses a tape tied construction which is much more expensive to build.

4—These features which safeguard the long life of Red Cross Mattresses make their price a little more than similar type mattresses of cheaper construction, but the small difference in cost makes a difference in years of satisfactory service.

"Liquor Crazy" Defense At Texas Murder Trial

Counsel for Defendant, Former Judge, Pleads Insanity by Bootleg Liquor.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Two physicians listened today while John W. Brady's own counsel read a long indictment against him as a man who killed a woman because his finer instincts had been destroyed by bootleg liquor. When it was finished they testified in effect: "Such a man is insane."

Brady, on trial for the murder of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, 28-year-old stenographer with whom the defense said he had had a long "affair," heard from E. A. Berry, chief of his lawyers, the whole story of the defense case as Berry described it to Doctors Goodall and Joe Wooten, slight, mustached, elderly brothers.

The 59-year-old defendant, a former civil appeals court judge, did not alter his expression perceptibly as Berry said, in substance, to the Wootens, one after another:

"Doctor, it is in evidence here that John Brady until a few years ago had an exceptionally bright mind and held a high place in the public service and the public trust.

"It is in evidence here that a few years ago he started greatly overindulging in bootleg liquor. That he early became surly, morose, lost his interest in his practice, abused his wife and treated her with utmost unkindness.

"It is in evidence here that he became enfeebled; that he suffered pains in his legs and arms, that he suffered dizzy spells and at times was unable to carry on a coherent conversation.

"It is in evidence here that he lost virility; that he became intensely nervous; that his voluntary muscles sometimes would quiver.

"It is in evidence here that three or four years ago he entered into an affair with a young single woman here in the same town where his wife lives.

"It is in evidence that his friends and his wife knew of this illicit relationship.

"It is in evidence here that he killed this girl on the night of November 9, 1929, after drinking heavily."

Dr. Goodall Wooten, first of the two on the stand, glanced occasionally at Brady, his patient for 35 years and his acquaintance for half a century, as Berry continued.

As the attorney concluded the physician said his own observations had convinced him that Brady was a "chronic alcoholic" and that he would say now that Brady—such a man as Berry described—was "clinically insane" and insane on the night he stabbed Lehlia Highsmith.

Safety Standards For Airways Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Support of a standard of minimum requirements to promote safety on air passenger lines was pledged today by representatives of a majority of air transport operators to Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics.

Details of the general plan will be worked out Friday at another conference. The proposed minimum requirements then will be submitted to all operators, and regulations will be made effective on a sliding scale, some becoming immediately operative, while others will be worked in as time and facilities make them available.

Price Admits Part In Detroit Killing

DETROIT, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Byron Summerville and Harold Price were said by police this afternoon to have confessed to participating in the slaying of George Einkorn and Louis Davis during an attempt to hijack Einkorn's saloon here November 29, last. Harold Gress, alleged leader of the gang, has made no statement yet.

The three suspects were assembled in Detroit last night after having been arrested at widely separated points. Summerville was arrested in Detroit. Gregg was brought back from Elgin, Ill., and Price was brought back from Rome, Ga.

Joseph Yeomans, reported to have been a fourth member of the gang, was fatally injured in the gun battle in the saloon. His body was found frozen in a lagoon on Belle Isle some days afterwards.

Harold Price, alias "Buck" Price, a member of a prominent Floyd county family, was arrested recently. He waived preliminary hearing the first of the week and arrived in Detroit Tuesday night, where he confessed his part in the murder of two saloonmen last November.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Federal Judge J. W. Woodrough today sustained a demurrer of the Great Western Sugar Company, dismissing the government's suit charging the company with an attempt to restrain interstate commerce through a "price war" begun in 1925.

Oath To Abstain From All Liquor Sought in Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(United News.)—Every government employe, including congressmen, would be required to take an oath to abstain from use of intoxicating liquors and narcotics under a bill introduced by Representative Stone, republican, Oklahoma.

The measure would prescribe the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear or affirm that I will support the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I will obey all laws of the United States now in force or hereafter enacted; that I do not use nor will I use intoxicating liquor or narcotics in any form; that I take this obligation freely without any mental reservations or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God."

Don't Barter Peace, Says Woman Leaguer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Addressing the women's patriotic conference on national defense, Mrs. Donald MacRae, of Indianapolis, tonight voiced a prayer that "our national security will not be bartered away in exchange for temporary economies or for empty pledges of peace."

Mrs. MacRae, who is national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, said there was need for Americans to fight the battles of the American delegation in London on home ground to give the envoys confidence in demanding America's full rights in naval strength.

Three-Year-Old Boy Hero of Home Fire

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Jan. 29.—(AP) Grant City, southwest of here, today claimed a three-year-old hero in little Bobby Lockridge. The child removed his two-year-old baby brother and his six-month-old sister from danger when a blaze started in the home yesterday while the mother was away.

Clothing lying near a stovelid caught fire, and Bobby pushed the crib in which the baby girl was lying into the next room and escorted the brother out, closing the door after them.

Bobby then ran screaming for his mother, Mrs. Harold Lockridge, who had gone to a grocery. She returned and extinguished the blaze with slight damage.

'SARGON GAVE ME HEALTH WHEN I WAS IN DESPAIR'

"I Actually Believe I Owe My Life To This Wonderful Medicine," Says Stone Mountain Woman.

"I actually believe I owe my life to Sargon! I say this because it took me at a time when I'd almost despaired of ever getting well, and brought me back to splendid health!

"I often wonder now I stood up under the strain of the past ten years

MRS. MINNIE B. WILSON.

—why, one can easily imagine what I'd gone through with that would cause me to lose fifty pounds in weight.

"I'd been forced to take to my bed last February, with sharp cutting pains like neuritis all through my shoulders and back and even extending all down my right side. When I'd try to stay up for a few days from time to time I'd be so weak I could scarcely drag one foot before the other and I was so nervous I'd feel like screaming at the top of my voice! Between my pains and my nerves, it seemed out of the question for me to get any restful sleep and my strength was failing fast! My appetite had fallen off to almost nothing and my stomach would upset so easily on what I did eat. I'd often have to have it pumped out. My liver was badly disordered and there toward the last just as surely as a week's time would roll around I'd go through a siege of biliousness that would mean terrific attacks of vomiting. My eliminations were irregular—more often too free, and being subject to the other extreme at times I certainly had trouble keeping this condition regulated. I became awfully discouraged after taking nearly every kind of medicine I heard of, without any lasting results, and I even had had X-ray pictures taken but they failed to shed any light on the cause of my trouble.

"I've taken nine bottles of Sargon and I've gained back every pound of the weight I lost, I have just worlds of strength, and every ache and pain has left me entirely! My nerves are back to normal and I sleep just fine and wake up every morning with a feeling of energy and vigor that I hadn't experienced in ten long years! I have no trouble doing my housework now and have even become active in church work at the Stone Mountain Presbyterian, where I'm Secretary of the Foreign Missions Board Auxiliary. I have a marvelous appetite and can eat anything I like without the slightest bad effects.

"I also took the Sargon Pills along with the liquid and they stimulated my liver and regulated me perfectly, and I never know what it is to have a bilious attack any more.

"I could stay here and talk all day and then not say all the good things Sargon deserves, but I stand ready to tell anybody, any time, more about what this wonderful medicine did for me."

The above statement was recently made by Mrs. Minnie B. Wilson, Stone Mountain, Ga.

Go to Jacobs' Main Store, 48 North Broad St., Grant Bldg., and meet the Sargon Man. He will give you the astonishing facts about this wonderful new medicine which is accomplishing such remarkable results, all over the country.

Sargon may be obtained at all Jacobs' Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

Chevrolet Motor Company Officials Here for Regional Meeting Today

M. D. Douglas (left); R. W. Peek (center) and L. S. Costley, officials of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who will have leading parts in the southeastern regional sales conference of the company, which will be held in Atlanta today. Mr. Douglas is in charge of the headquarters convention party that is coming from Detroit. Mr. Peek is zone sales manager, and Mr. Costley regional sales manager.

Nearly 500 Chevrolet dealers, their bankers and star salesmen, are expected here this morning for a Chevrolet Motor Company meeting, business show and banquet. The feature of the day's program will be a sales presentation in the Erlanger theater, starting at 1:30 p. m., which will be followed by a banquet at the Biltmore hotel at 6:30.

Today's meeting will be one of a series of 42 similar sales conferences that are being held by the company this winter from coast to coast in a comprehensive effort to apprise the company's dealer organization of the plans which Chevrolet has arranged for another banner year in 1930.

Heading the Chevrolet party will be M. D. Douglas, high official from the Detroit offices. Associated with Mr. Douglas in the direction of the day's activities will be a staff of officials from the central office and experts in the various phases of automobile merchandising and service.

Plans for 1930.

What Chevrolet plans to do in 1930 and how the world's largest six-cylinder manufacturer proposes to accomplish its goal will be outlined to the retail organization of this area here today. Having broken its own sales records repeatedly year after year, the Chevrolet organization, in keeping with President Hoover's plan for a furtherance of prosperity this year, is pushing 1930 sales plans with keen enthusiasm.

On the afternoon program at the Erlanger theater talks will be illustrated in the form of playlets, depicting the proper procedure to be followed in the successful operation of a retail automobile business. All the properties of the dramatic stage will be called on to provide the dealer audience with a lasting picture of approved methods of conducting a retail automobile business in the most efficient manner.

The actors in the playlet will be members of the Chevrolet official party. The men who will take the various roles in the Chevrolet sales presentation have been rehearsing their parts for two months under the direction of skilled instructors.

Stage Equipment.

More than a carload of show equipment, including thousands of dollars worth of scenery, drops and curtains, has been brought here to provide the settings. All of this material was designed and built in a special factory which Chevrolet maintains for the purpose in Detroit. A veteran crew of stage hands will handle the backstage operation of the huge Chevrolet production. One of the features of the program will be two Movietone films, one on service and another on the used car subject.

The show embraces seven acts. Following the introductory address by Mr. Douglas, is the presentation of the 1930 Chevrolet six, with a discussion of the many improvements incorporated in the new product.

The upward swing of the commercial car business lends special significance to the second act. This playlet introduces the new Chevrolet truck line and through a clever arrangement brings out in entertaining fashion many of the features that are causing the new commercial line to win added popularity this year.

One of the most beautiful settings ever attempted in an industrial presentation is promised for the third act, which is devoted to service. The drops are of special cloth with flake silver letters, "Four Million," underlined with the words "Satisfied Owners." How extensively the nation-wide Chevrolet dealer organization is preparing to provide adequate service for the millions of its cars now operating on the highways is effectively brought out.

Sales Demonstration.

Perhaps the most interesting of the various playlets is the fourth act, involving the sale of a car on the stage. Set in an average Chevrolet dealer's salesroom, this act delineates the most efficient method of making a sale. From the approach when the customer first enters the salesroom to the signing of the order, the process is carried through in approved fashion.

The fifth act is a movietone on used cars, depicting in entertaining fashion excellent reconditioning processes in this most modern form of amusement. Accounting and its great importance in the successfubl operation of a retail business is featured in the sixth act.

The closing playlet is the most elaborate of the program and reveals a scientist in his dimly lighted laboratory pondering a weighty problem. It treats of the responsibility for the sale of the Chevrolet quota for the year in fascinating and logical fashion. Through the effective use of backdrops, the scientist is carried from a picture of the country as a whole through regional and zone divisions, representative's territories and communities, until the answer steps forth in the person of the Chevrolet salesman.

In the evening the visitors will be guests of the Chevrolet Motor Company at an elaborately staged banquet at the Biltmore hotel. L. S. Costley, regional sales manager of Atlanta, will preside and introduce the speakers, among whom will be Mr. Douglas and R. W. Peek, zone sales manager.

At 9 o'clock this morning the 100 Car Club, a Chevrolet organization, composed of men who sold 100 or more cars last year, will hold its annual meeting and installation of officers of 1930.

In addition to Mr. Douglas, the following men representing the Detroit office of the Chevrolet Motor Company will be with the official party and take part in the program: C. D. Asbury, J. M. Glass, J. J. Dobbs, C. J. Seifert, Carl Luce and N. H. Pearson.

Mr. Peek and Mr. Costley will act as hosts to the official party, dealers, bankers and salesmen.

Bankers Attending.

Accompanying the dealers will be the following bankers from towns in the Atlanta zone:

C. A. Blunt, Decatur; James S. Peters, Manchester; I. M. Stor, Lithonia; S. P. Wilburn, Woodbury; A. G. Mathews, East Point; J. E. Phillips, Covington; R. F. Strickland, Atlanta; Robert M. Johnson, West Point; J. H. Powell, Newnan; Jewel Bell, Griffin; Roy Askew, Chipley; J. A. Mandeville, Carrollton; M. L. Johnson, Bowdon; C. M. Milam, Cartersville; J. W. Massey, Lafayette; John M. Graham, Rome; E. T. Hudson, Ellijay; A. B. David, Calhoun; W. F. Bird, Dallas; L. M. Awtrey, Acworth; L. R. Collins, Marietta; P. W. Bonner, Tallapoosa; Arthur Colquit, Cedartown; George Harrison, Rockmart; W. E. Elliott, Canton; J. C. Turner, Jefferson; C. C. Kimsey, Cornelia; George L. Hubbard, Commerce; J. S. CENTRAL AMERICA'S HOSPITALS PRAISED

Flying Doctors Complete First Section of Aerial Clinic.

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Jan. 29. (AP)—Praising modern and efficient hospital facilities of Central American cities, five flying surgeons from the United States completed at 4:30 p. m. today the first section of their 6,808-mile aero medical exposition into 11 Central and South American countries.

The surgeons arrived here in two Sikorsky amphibian airplanes after a six-day flight that started in Miami, Fla., and included visits in eight national capitals. Tomorrow they will attend opening ceremonies at Panama City of the Pan-American Medical Association's convention upon which their 18-day flight was based by its sponsors, the American Medical Association and Pan-American Airways, Inc.

Dual purpose of the clinic is to foster increased co-ordination and co-operation between physicians and surgeons of the three Americas and to bring to Central and South American practitioneers reports and demonstrations of latest surgical progress in the United States.

Through their six-day program, the flying clinic has visited Havana, Merida, Yucatan; Belize, British Honduras; San Lorenzo, Honduras; Guatemala City, Guatemala; San Salvador, San Salvador; Managua, Nicaragua, and San Jose, Costa Rica. The surgeons flew here today from Punta Arenas, where they were taken by special train after spending the night at San Jose.

Fort Myers To Honor Edisons With Plaque

FORT MYERS, Fla., Jan. 29.—(AP) A bronze memorial plaque, picturing Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison in bas relief, will be unveiled here on a pediment of natural shell rock on February 11, on the occasion of the inventor's 83d birthday, it was announced today.

The memorial, erected in the city park, was created through the efforts of Mayor W. J. Wood and a committee of civic workers.

The plaque was designed by Maurice Kidjel, local sculptor. It will be illuminated perpetually in honor of Mr. Edison's golden jubilee light.

Announcement of the plans was kept secret until after Mrs. Edison gave her approval today. Appointment of the committee to carry on the arrangements was made immediately afterward.

Woman, 100 Years Old, Is Dead From Burns

PARAGOULD, Ark., Jan. 29.—(AP) Mrs. Belle Sloan, believed to have been more than 100 years old, died today from burns received last night when her clothing became ignited from an open fireplace.

Mrs. Sloan died at the home of Mrs. Nina McDaniel, with whom she made her home.

Mrs. Sloan had told residents of Paragould she was born in 1820 or 1830 at Harrisburg, Ark.

Why Do Doctors Prescribe Cod Liver Oil?

Not for its fishy taste.
Not for its repulsive smell.

PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE COD LIVER OIL JUST FOR ONE REASON.

Because it contains Vitamins A and D and these two Vitamins build up the power to resist disease when one is in a weakened condition.

If it weren't for these two precious and magical Vitamins your doctor wouldn't tell you to get Cod Liver Oil when you are losing weight.

It is to get these two health promoting, strength increasing, energy creating Vitamins into your system that Cod Liver Oil is prescribed in wasting diseases, in bronchitis and chest colds—in anemia and convalescence—in feeble old age and when children are puny and frail.

And now here is good news for those who use Cod Liver Oil for any ailment, disease or abnormal condition—you won't have to take repulsive liquid Cod Liver Oil any more—no, never again.

For now a learned chemist has extracted these priceless Vitamins from the pure Vitamin tested Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and put them in pleasant to take sugar coated tablets.

The useless greasy oil is thrown away.

Two of these tablets equal in Vitamin potency one teaspoonful of Vitamin tested Cod Liver Oil—the recognized dose.

If you take two of these health restoring tablets after each meal and two at bedtime, you will be getting about all the Vitamins A and D that your system requires.

If you want quicker action, take 3 or 4 for each dose for the first 10 days.

These new tablets, brimful of Vitamins are called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets and you can get a box at any drugstore in America.

For every ailment, sickness, rundown or underweight condition for which cod liver oil is prescribed or recommended McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets are equally as good.

Remember that Doctors prescribe Cod Liver Oil for its precious Vitamins—you get these Vitamins in McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets—you are sure to get them—take your Vitamins straight. 60 tablets 60 cents. All druggists.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence

You men who would keep trim and fit ...you women who covet the tantalizing curves of the truly modern figure—when tempted to do yourself too well, light a Lucky instead. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Ben J. Conyers, Prominent Attorney, Commits Suicide

Street in Fort Myers, Fla., Is Scene of Tragedy; Suffered Nervous Breakdown Recently.

Apparently despondent over ill health, Ben J. Conyers, 65-year-old member of the Georgia bar and one of Atlanta's most aggressive legal figures, shot and killed himself at 9:25 o'clock Wednesday morning as he walked along McGregor boulevard, slightly more than a block from the winter homes of Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford, in Fort Myers, Fla.

J. B. Conyers, cousin of the dead man and a justice of the peace in Fort Myers, was the last person to talk with the Atlanta attorney. Earlier in the morning the pair met and the magistrate offered to take Mr. Conyers downtown in his car. Mr. Conyers replied that he felt fine and "preferred to walk." Less than half a block from where this conversation took place he ended his life with a bullet through the brain.

The veteran attorney suffered a nervous breakdown following the prolonged trial of J. S. Slicer in the local courts and he was confined to his home here at 3660 Peachtree road. Three weeks ago he left for Florida, accompanied by his wife and a trained nurse, Miss Amelia Meets, intending to spend the season at an apartment house in Fort Myers while he recuperated. He appeared to be on the road to recovery and often was seen at a recreation park. Though nervous, he was improving steadily and apparently was convalescing.

BEN J. CONYERS.

Mrs. Conyers was prostrated when she was informed of the tragedy, but rallied under medical attention and set out for Atlanta later in the day by automobile in order to make arrangements today for the funeral. Mrs. Conyers was accompanied by J. B. Conyers, her husband's cousin. The body will arrive here today over the Southern railway.

Mr. Conyers' death was instantaneous and a coroner's jury, headed by his cousin, J. B. Conyers, returned a verdict of suicide. He shot himself with a new pistol, evidently bought for the purpose, according to the jury's finding.

Wednesday morning Mr. Conyers left his apartment where he and his wife and the trained nurse had been staying since January 1 to go on his daily walk, during which he is supposed to have bought the pistol. On his return route he stopped near the home of Thomas A. Edison and placing the pistol to his head pulled the trigger. He was dead when residents of the neighborhood reached him.

According to Mrs. Conyers, her husband had given no intimation of his act, that he had appeared to be normal in every respect, and improving from his sickness rapidly.

He was a member of the law firm of Colquitt and Conyers and for more than 20 years was a leader of the Georgia bar. He and his partner, Walter T. Colquitt, have figured in many spectacular legal battles, one being the defense of officials of the Adair Realty & Trust Co. in federal court at Gainesville last year on charges of using the mails to defraud. Mr. Conyers was of defense counsel in the trials of W. D. Manley, former chain bank president and also was called to aid the defense forces in the Harsh-Gallogly murder trials.

In addition to his connection with famous cases, he was known for his work as legal advisor for the Central of Georgia railroad and the old Georgia Railway and Power Company, later the Georgia Power Company. He was a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity, the Atlanta Bar Association and a steward in the First Methodist church.

Mr. Conyers was born February 23, 1864, in Atlanta, and spent his boyhood in Cartersville, where he attended grammar school. From Kenmore High school, at Amherst Courthouse, Va., he went to the University of Georgia, where he graduated in 1884 with a scholastic record which since has never been equaled at the university.

For several years Mr. Conyers taught school in Seale, Ala., and then in Perry, Ga. He returned to Atlanta as a claim clerk with the Georgia-Pacific Railway. His first law practice was with Judge E. C. Kontz. At the time of his death, he was a member of the law firm of Colquitt and Conyers.

Mr. Conyers married Miss Rebecca Tate, of Elbert county. In addition to his wife, he is survived by three sons, Ben Conyers, Jr., Tate Conyers and Christopher Conyers; three brothers, Sam T. Conyers and James H. Conyers, of Atlanta, and Judge C. D. Conyers, of Brunswick, and a sister, Mrs. F. D. Key, of Green Cove Springs, Fla.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rebecca Tate Conyers, three sons, three brothers, one sister and a number of other relatives. His twin sons, Ben, Jr., and Tate, now are attending the University of Georgia, while the youngest son, Chris, is a student at Fulton High school. His brothers are Judge Chris Conyers, of Brunswick, ex-judge of the superior court there; Sam T. Conyers, clerk of the superior court of Atlanta, and James H. Conyers, of the United States mail service, also of Atlanta. His sister, Mrs. Foster Key, resides at Green Cove Springs, Fla.

Atlanta Chamber To Give Annual Dinner Tonight

Plans have been completed for the "best annual dinner in the history of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce," according to B. S. Barker, executive vice president of the organization. It will be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the chamber building and two dining halls will be required to care for an expected attendance of more than 500.

Mr. Barker stated Wednesday that admission will be by tickets only. These may be obtained from chamber headquarters and must be obtained before tonight, he said.

Reuben Arnold, prominent Atlanta attorney, and Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the Georgia State College of Agriculture, will be among the speakers on the program, and Philip H. Alston, retiring president, and Horace Russell, new chief executive of the organization, also will be heard.

Attractive entertainment features have been arranged. George Berkey and his orchestra will furnish music during the dinner. In addition, "The Foundation Four," a vocal quartet, will render several numbers. Decorations have been arranged in an elaborate manner.

Singleton To Speak On Illiteracy Today

Dr. Gordon G. Singleton, director of division information and statistics of the state department of education, will speak before the City Club at 12:30 o'clock today at the Piedmont hotel. He will take as his subject for discussion "Illiteracy." Judge E. C. Kontz will preside.

New Plea for Funds Voiced By Community Chest Head

Provision for Unfortunates Dwindles; Emergency Is Faced, Frank Miller Says.

Atlanta's provision for its unfortunates, those to whom the bitter weather and unemployment, sickness and misfortune, have brought hardships, has dwindled to a minimum that means debt for its societies of social service and a desperate public emergency if the work of necessary relief goes on, according to the official monthly audit of the Atlanta Community Chest, completed Wednesday.

Less than $8,000 was available for the 39 agencies of the Chest in December, a month of more appeals for assistance than most of the agencies had ever received before. The cost of their operation was nearly four times that amount.

The emergency was met in December by anticipation of revenue which was due in January, when the quarterly installment on pledges made in last fall's campaign would be available, according to Frank Miller, executive director of the Chest.

This means a drain upon the ordinary resources which will become increasingly greater, according to Mr. Miller, particularly in view of action of city council in cutting from the budget of city expenses all appropriations to these agencies.

Only by restoration of these appropriations to the finance sheet, payment of all overdue pledges by contributors for 1929 expenses, and by increased contributions for 1930, can the situation be remedied, Mr. Miller said. The December audit by Ham Eidson & Company showed receipts as follows: On 1927 subscriptions, $5; on 1928 subscriptions, $175; on 1929 subscriptions, $6,522.47; on 1930 subscriptions, $7,993.75; refund, 1930 campaign, $8.25; total, $14,704.47.

Expenses were: Available for member organizations, $7,785.35; Chest administration, $1,232.18; expenses, 1930 campaign, $1,646.33; interest, $71.25; returned checks, $86.50; borrowed money repaid, $750; total disbursements, $11,541.61.

The cash balance January 1 was $3,162.86, but demands upon the Chest for payment to the societies amounted to approximately ten times that amount, without including the amount of debt under which the Chest operates, which totals nearly $50,000 and which has been inherited from past administrations.

Means to relieve the emergency will be considered by the executive committee of the Chest Friday.

Alaskan Youth On Long Journey Reaches Atlanta

A 19-year-old ruddy-cheeked, stockily-built Alaskan, from an isolated trading-post at Little River, Alaska, ten miles north of Nome, and more than 6,000 miles, as the crow flies, from Atlanta, who slept Wednesday night under one blanket at police headquarters expects today to resume afoot a journey begun December 21, when, with $100, he set out for Miami, Fla.

The youth, Harold Essex, arrived Wednesday afternoon from Chattanooga, making half the journey, he said, unknown to its driver, atop a bus, enjoying a snow-pelting which would have been misery to most anyone. He left his home by emerging through a periscopic contrivance in the roof into an 80-below temperature and took a "reindeer-taxi" for the first leg of his journey.

Of English-American parentage, Essex said he was en route to the Florida city, where his brother, Chester, operates a cab company. This is Harold's first trip beyond the "police jurisdiction" of the Alaskan trading-post, but the brother has been in the states six years. Their father and mother operate a supply store in the Alaskan snow-blanketed wastes, not far from the Bering sea.

His money expended when he reached Kansas City, the youth since has made his way by "bumming" rides and earning an occasional dollar by doing chores about police stations.

Escorted to a restaurant near headquarters late Wednesday afternoon by a generous newspaper reporter, Essex asked for "deer steak," a common delicacy back home, and expressed some little surprise that the little cafe had none on hand.

Philadelphian Asks Source of Sonnet

The original source of the sonnet, "To a Mocking Bird," is sought by Lewis G. Sterner, of Byberry road, Somerton, Philadelphia, Pa., for the purpose of quotation in a thesis on "The Sonnet in American Literature," according to a letter received Wednesday.

"To a Mocking Bird," by Richard Henry Wilde, is found, among other places, in the library of southern literature, the letter points out. Mr. Sterner, in asking for information on the original source of the sonnet for his doctorate thesis, said: "I would like to quote from an original source, if that is at all possible."

Mr. Sterner requests that anyone having the desired information write him in care of his Philadelphia address, and adds any helpful information will be "very much appreciated."

Road Board Aid Asked In Laying Gas Mains

The Atlanta Gas Light Company Wednesday applied to the state highway board for permission to install gas mains on the state highway right-of-way from Atlanta to Marietta.

Colonel Sam Tate, chairman of the board, said he did not know whether the board had authority to give such permission, whether by sale of the rights or otherwise.

Representatives of the applicant company were told that the board would take the matter under advisement.

Fiduciary Leaders Plan for Year Today

The board of directors of the Georgia Fiduciaries' Association will be entertained at luncheon by the Atlanta Clearing House Association at the Capital City Club at noon today. Plans for the year will be mapped out at this time.

Officers of the association are: H. F. Pelham, of Atlanta, president; W. R. Luttrell, Columbus, vice president, and Haynes McFadden, secretary. Other members of the board include: Robert G. Stephens, Atlanta; Walter S. Cothran, Rome; A. S. Kitchen, Augusta, and Leo Leader, Albany.

"Trouble Shooter" Injured in Crash

W. C. Mason, Jr., and W. C. McKulvy, "trouble-shooters" for the Postal Telegraph Company, narrowly escaped death near Inman Yards early Wednesday afternoon when a heavy truck on which they were riding, plunged over a 20-foot embankment and turned over several times.

Mason, who lives at 225 Winn street in Decatur, suffered a badly wrenched right shoulder and a dislocated right wrist, while McKulvy escaped practically unhurt. They were carried to Grady hospital for treatment by H. S. Jenkins, who was passing at the time of the accident.

The two were en route to a point between Marietta and Cartersville to fix wiring damaged by the weather, when the slushy roads caused them to go over the embankment.

George G. Crawford Heads Steel Company

George Gordon Crawford, a trustee of Georgia Tech and a nephew of George Carswell, secretary of state, has been named president of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, of Pittsburgh, according to announcement Wednesday. Mr. Crawford is a native Georgian, having been born and reared in Milledgeville. He received his college education at Georgia Tech and has been a trustee of that institution for ten years.

Bank Closed.

DOTHAN, Ala., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Dothan National bank, the city's oldest financial institution, failed to open for business today. A sign placed on the doors said the action was taken by the board of directors pending the arrival of a national bank examiner. The closing of the bank was unexpected. It was capitalized at $400,000 with a surplus of $60,000.

Big Crowd Braves Snow To Enjoy Hayes Concert

Though Handicapped by Poorly-Chosen Program, Negro Tenor Adds to Reputation Here.

The local reputation that Roland Hayes, negro tenor, has earned in two previous appearances stood him in good stead Wednesday night. Snow and ice, usually anathema to concert fans, proved no deterrent to an appreciable number who gathered at the city auditorium to hear him.

Hayes, who was presented by the Southern Musical Bureau, is an accomplished artist. In his concert last night he was handicapped by a program ill-chosen for the display of the true breadth of his dramatic power.

For the most part the numbers were light. Handel's "Rendil sereno al ciglio," "Koechlin's "Le The," and Caesar Franck's "Nocturne," fair examples of his selections, are delightful songs, but fail in the opportunity they present for the demonstration of a singer's real ability.

"The Dream Song," from Massenet's "Manon," a final encore rendered by request, contributed more toward the evening from a sheer musical viewpoint than any of the other numbers. In it Hayes showed his exceptional ability.

His last group of selections, negro spirituals, were keenly appreciated. Before a mixed audience he seemed more at home in them. They were far happier than the others, which, though beautifully and delightfully rendered, seemed restrained in a degree.

Among the spirituals were "Done Made My Vow," "Choose Your Seat," "Keep Me From Sinking Down," and "What Shall I Do?" As encores he gave "My God is High" and "Going Home."

Other numbers included "Cara, si, tu mi consumi," by Bononcini; Handel's "Pack, Clouds Away"; Deparc's "L'Invitation au Voyage"; Schubert's "Du Bist die Ruh"; Henchel's "The Angels Dear"; Quilter's "I'll Go With Father a-Ploughing", and Rachmaninoff's "In the Silene of Night." As an encore he also gave George Henchel's "Little Lamb."

Hayes last night was also under another handicap. Ten hours of consistent snowfall proved insufficient notice for the thorough heating of the auditorium. Not only his audience but Hayes himself suffered from the cold. It is probable that it was not without its effect. Certainly it detracted from the enjoyment of those present.

Hayes was ably accompanied by Percival Parham, negro pianist.

Harry Lauder Seat Sale Opens Today

The engagement of Sir Harry Lauder, the international entertainer, who will appear at the Erlanger theater for two performances only, Saturday matinee and night of this week, is unquestionably one of the season's most interesting events. Sir Harry's warm friends and admirers on this side of the globe are legion, for it was in the United States and Canada that he won his first artistic triumphs outside of Scotland and England. Thousands of native Americans, and other thousands whose families and traditions lead them back to former days in the British Isles, hail a Lauder engagement as one of the most important of the year's events in the theater.

During his absence from these shores Sir Harry's musical muse was busy, for he composed a number of characteristic songs which he will offer here for the first time during his local engagement. They are said to be built along typical Lauder lines, with verse and melody and story all entertainingly told in the real Lauder style. A very generous revival of the popular old songs is also promised.

Sir Harry's company of entertainers is credited with being far above the average this season. The seat sale for the Lauder engagement starts today at the Erlanger box office, open from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Tickets may also be had at Phillips & Crew Piano Company. The great number of advance mail orders received would indicate capacity houses at both performances to be given here, so that an early reservation of seats is strongly advised.

Apartment Held Up And Cash Box Stolen

Two unmasked white men early Tuesday night entered the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy, located over a store at 563 South Pryor street, and at the point of a pistol forced Miss Nettie Spruell, a roomer in the Kennedy home, to turn over to them a money-box containing $25, according to reports of Call Officers Olin Williams and W. H. Evans.

Attracted to the living room by the screams of Miss Spruell, Mr. Kennedy was held at bay by one of the bandits while the second completed the task of prying open the box. Ascending to the street the men escaped in a green automobile.

FLORIDA STORM TAKES LIFE, WRECKS HOMES

High Wind Cuts Destruction Swath at Lake Weir, Woman Killed.

OCALA, Fla., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A tornado dipped into two communities in Marion and Flagler counties today, killing a negro woman, injuring a negro infant and leaving considerable property damage, before it was believed to have passed out the northeast coast of Florida to the Atlantic.

The Ocala Star received reports of property damage in Marion county of about $50,000.

Miss Susie Bullock, a niece of Judge W. S. Bullock, of Ocala, had a narrow escape at the home of her sister at North Lake, when a piece of timber was driven through the wall of the house.

A negro at North Lake saw his automobile picked up by the wind and dropped 150 yards away. Portions of buildings were reported hurled through the air several hundred yards.

The storm struck first shortly before noon, but because communication and power lines had been destroyed in the tornado's path word did not reach Ocala until the afternoon when the lines were restored.

City Must Pay 25 Cents Fee On Moving Day

Another "serious" complication developed Wednesday in plans of the municipal government to occupy the $1,000,000 new city hall at Washington and Mitchell streets.

Walter C. Taylor, city clerk, ruled that the city government must obtain a moving permit costing 25 cents at least three days before a stick of furniture is loaded into the large moving vans which will be called into service.

Although the raising of the money will not be a tremendous task, there developed some doubt as to who should pay for the permit.

Under a law passed at the last session of the Georgia assembly, all those who move in Atlanta must obtain the permit, and Mr. Taylor has ruled that the borough must comply with the letter of the law in every detail. He further complicated matters by declaring that a voucher on the treasurer will not be accepted by his office, which issues the permits.

Speculation was rife as to who will purchase the moving permit.

L. Glenn Dewberry, superintendent of buildings and grounds, Wednesday stated it was the business of the mayor to provide the permit in as much as he is the nominal head of the local government.

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale was out of his office ill, and Mayor Pro Tem. J. Allen Couch held that he would take no action pending return of the mayor.

Regardless of who pays the money, one thing is certain, the borough will comply with the law, and when the moving day arrives, and it won't be long now, the transfer officials will be armed with the requisite permit.

New "Fan-Tan" Gives Banquet To Press Folk

Honor guests at an "advance banquet" at the Fan-Tan, new Chinese-American restaurant, at 24 Cain street, which will open formally at 11 o'clock this morning, a group of newspapermen and women and theater folk Wednesday night were dined sumptuously, though quite informally, and given the "first shot" at Atlanta's most unique eating place.

The Fan-Tan embodies a decorative scheme Oriental throughout, with walls adorned with brilliantly-colored dragons, Chinese ladies and what-not. Two huge Buddhas, wrought in clay, glare at the diners from either end of the room, while a benign moon—full, like the diners were at the conclusion of Wednesday's repast—beams down on all and sundry. Indirect lighting effects, which give the impression of sunlight filtering in through a window, are particularly unusual. The dinner, combining Oriental and American delicacies, was delicious.

Howard Haire, classified advertising manager of The Constitution, fulfilled the duties of toastmaster at the function, and performed adequately, especially in that he desisted from inviting speeches from the assembled guests.

W. A. Wells, prominent for many years in Atlanta hotel and restaurant circles, is manager of the Fan-Tan.

The menu—your guess is just as good as ours—which was offered (and devoured) Wednesday night, is as follows:

Jing-Har Journale
Relish Georgianne
Mo-Koo-Gai-Gonk Oriental Filet Mignon Constitutional
Pommes Gate City
Asparagus Municipal Salad Fan-Tan
Assorted Breads
Butter
Oriental Delicacies
Camembert Cheese
English Biscuits

Women Are Injured When Struck by Auto

As they stepped from the sidewalk late Wednesday night in front of the Sears-Roebuck store on Ponce de Leon avenue, Mrs. Stella Lawson, of 103 Park place, Decatur, and Miss Louise Hamilton, of 2260 Cottage Grove avenue, were struck down by an automobile driven by R. A. Sobel, of 431 Callan circle, N. E., according to reports of Call Officers Robert Floyd and R. L. Mosely who furnished Sobel a copy of reckless driving charges.

Sobel said the women apparently stepped from the sidewalk to reach the safety zone to take a street car, and that his machine struck the concrete structure when he attempted to avoid striking them. Mrs. Lawson, who received severe bruises about the body, was removed to a private hospital. Miss Hamilton was treated at Grady hospital for cuts about the head.

Railway Association Honors Atlanta Man

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A. Taurman, Birmingham, was re-elected president of the Electric Railway Association of Equipment Men, Southern Properties, and Nashville, Tenn., selected as the next convention city as the semi-annual meeting closed here today. The next meeting will be held June 23-25.

W. H. Maloney, Atlanta, was elected vice president, and L. O. Eiffert, Birmingham, re-elected secretary-treasurer. Eiffert reported that attendance at the meeting just closed was the largest since the association was organized seven years ago.

Abandonment of Cages In Convict Camps Seen

Georgia Criticized for Use of System, E. L. Rainey, Commission Chairman, Says.

The prospect that cages for the housing of prisoners engaged in highway work will shortly be abandoned was held out by E. L. Rainey, chairman of the state prison commission, Wednesday.

Georgia has recently been the object of criticism from several sources for the use of cages for housing the convicts in road gangs.

"When I first came on the commission most of the counties were using cages to house prisoners working on the roads. Now there are only a few left and they won't last long. "Cages were adopted because travel was slow in those days and it was almost impossible to keep prisoners in a central place and work them on roads miles away.

"With trucks it is a simple matter to move prisoners any distance. As a result counties are building modern stockades as fast as they can.

"The automobile has also been responsible for more intelligent treatment of prisoners. With speedier cars came a demand for much better roads, roads that took skilled engineers to build. County wardens are also road superintendents and now many of these men in charge of prisoners are trained engineers. Naturally prisoners receive more humane treatment.

"The lash has been abolished, for example, and the stock and solitary confinement are our only punishments. Under the law a prisoner can be kept sitting in stocks only an hour. Leasing was outlawed years ago."

The term "chaingang" is actually a misnomer, he said. A few more dangerous prisoners are shackeled, but there are no gangs.

"Confinement and idleness start mutinies," he said. "We've never had a mutiny. It's reasonable that men working in the open are more healthy. Our convict death rate last year was only 8.8, including those in ill health when they came to us. I seldom go to the state penitenetiary without being asked for transfers to road gangs.

"The amount of clothing, bedding and food prisoners get has been increased in the last few years," the commissioner said. "We keep strict tab on medical inspections. A sick man can't work and is an added expense for care. The thing to do is to keep them well. We have also increased the noon rest period. In the summer it is two hours."

A merit system is based on the "clothes make the convict" idea. The lowest in good marks wear stripes.

Georgia license plates are made in a prison factory now and eventually Rainey hopes to furnish all state supplies that can be made without competition with other labor.

Entry of Banks in Realty Field Seen by Strickland

Banker Points Out Advantages of Move in Address Before Atlanta Board.

Rapid strides being made by the south in industrial and financial advancement will enable the outstanding banks of this section before long to enter the field of real estate loans, Robert Strickland, Jr., vice president of the First National Bank, indicated in his talk Wednesday before a gathering of Atlanta realtors.

The entry of commercial banks into a field hitherto unexploited by these institutions, except i regions of great wealth, and the advantages that this move would bring to property ownership was pointed out by the prominent banker at the weekly meeting of the Atlanta Real Estate Board.

"The time is not far off," Mr. Strickland stated, "when the large commercial banks of this area will find a definite proportion of their deposit funds being invested in real estate loans. Notwithstanding a popular misapprehension, national banks are permitted by law to make real estate loans and are doing so in sections where there is a sufficient surplus of funds to warrant long-time loans."

Mr. Strickland expressed the opinion that the growing prosperity of the south would shortly enable its financial institutions to extend the valuable loan service to real estate owners. He explained why the need of liquid collateral in short-term loans to meet the seasonal and daily demand of commercial trade now absorbed the financing facilities of the banks.

"Real estate is the underlying necessity of all man's activities," the Atlanta banker asserted in outlining the importance of the profession responsible for the manipulation of real property. "From earliest history down to the present day no modern development has supplanted the factor of real estate as the economic basis.

"Every step in the country's prosperity enhances the value of real estate and every property development contributes to the country's prosperity. This fact indicates the indissoluble relationship of these two vital elements, and the responsibility of those engaged in the real estate profession."

Mr. Strickland touched on the problem of taxation laws, expressing the opinion that they must eventually be changed from their present antiquated form to apportion more equally the burden between real property and that vast amount of other property which now escapes taxation. This would react to the advantage of property owners, he showed.

Mr. Strickland was introduced by Alvin E. Cates, president of the Atlanta Real Estate Board. Brief talks preceding the principal address were made by Morris Brandon, prominent attorney and head of the property owners' division of the realty board; B. S. Barker, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce; T. Corbit, visiting field representative of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, apartment house division, and A. L. Price, farm property representative of the John Hancock Insurance Company.

U. D. C. Head Warns Against Solicitor

Unauthorized solicitation of funds for the Atlanta chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has been reported to Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, president of the local group, by several Atlanta firms, she stated here Wednesday, and she warns all concerns to be on the lookout for a woman who is said to be posing as a regular collector.

"It has been reported to me that a woman has been soliciting funds from Atlanta businessmen for the Atlanta chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy," Mrs. Stevenson stated. "This is absolutely unauthorized and I want to warn all Atlanta people to be on their guard against this practice."

Central of Georgia Gets New Industries

"New industrial enterprises totaling 259 were established in cities, towns and other territory served by the Central of Georgia during 1929," says a bulletin issued by A. E. Clift, president of the road.

"This is an average of one new industry for each 7 1-2 miles of road," the bulletin continues, "and the figures do not take into account additions and expansions to existing plants. The new enterprises are not confined to any single branch of industry, but cover a wide variety.

"Recognizing the south's many advantages the Central of Georgia, in 1888, organized an industrial development department, the object of which is the upbuilding and development of the territory. Besides the general industrial agent in charge, and an industrial representative, this department has a consulting staff consisting of a textile engineer, a geologist, a chemical engineer, and a ceramic engineer. During the past several years much field and research work has been done, and results of this are available for any interested person. Through newspaper and magazine advertising, booklets and by personal contact, the railroad keeps the industrial possibilities of the south before the public and seeks to find suitable locations for new industries or those contemplating changes. The Central of Georgia believes in the future of the territory it serves. It desires to co-operate in industrial development, not only by supplying the best transportation service in its power, but by every other means."

GAS KILLS WOMAN

Another Woman and Child in Critical Condition.

ROANOKE, Va., Jan. 29.—(AP)—One woman is dead and another woman and a 4-year-old boy were in a critical condition as a result of being gassed here today.

Mrs. Viola Short, 28, was found dead in her home here by a boarder coming to his noon meal.

Miss Lula Bush, 22, of Bedford county, and William Short, Jr., 4, were in a hospital in a serious condition. Gas leaking from a pipe under the house is believed to be the cause of the tragedy. Police are investigating.

Catarrh is Terrible Drain on Vitality

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper purification of the blood by the lungs and also prevents refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to diseases such as head and chest colds.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested by Nose and Throat Specialists to relieve the irritation and reduce the congestion of the mucous membrane the most effective and agreeable are those contained in the preparation known to your druggist as Runion's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, Runion's White Wonder Salve gives quick and most delightful relief from the irritation and congestion. Clean, greaseless and absolutely stainless, Runion's Salve is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—a joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with catarrhal irritation of the nose and throat.

SENATOR HARRIS' NEW POST.

The assignment of Senator Harris to the military affairs committee of the senate is an event for general congratulation in Georgia. That committee deals with many matters of high importance to the state, because of the location within the state of so many functions of the national military establishment. They include Fort Oglethorpe and the Chickamauga national military park, the fourth corps area headquarters and Fort McPherson here in Atlanta, Fort Benning and the artillery school there, Fort Screven at Savannah, and Veterans' Hospital No. 48 in the Atlanta area.

Additionally we are strenuously seeking to have a great branch of the National Home for Soldiers and Sailors located in this Atlanta area and Senator Harris has been the earnest friend of that project. As a member of the committee on military affairs his voice on behalf of the home will be all the more potential.

It is, then, a distinct gain for the state and for the military establishment in general that a senator so informed and adept as Senator Harris is should be assigned to the important committee that deals with the national defense by the military arm and with the interest of those who have served and suffered in that defense in past wars.

DEATH OF BEN CONYERS.

The tragic death of Ben J. Conyers by his own hand yesterday at Fort Myers in Florida sent shock of sorrow throughout the city. His intimates knew he was in the depression of a nervous breakdown from strenuous legal work and had gone south to seek recuperation, but none thought that the melancholia would evoke an impulse to self-destruction.

The bar of the city and state has not often had a more brilliant or a more popular member. As a student at the University of Georgia he became conspicuous for his mental alertness and ability to absorb knowledge almost intuitively. He entered professional activities with such avidity and abilities as to early rank with the foremost advocates at the bar. His services, always energetic and faithful, gave him large clientele and competence.

There could be no urge to end his career but one of those strange psychic provocations that often arise from a sense of physical futility. Those fatalistic human episodes are beyond satisfying explanation.

That large public in Atlanta and Georgia that knew Ben Conyers as a scholar, a social favorite, and as a lawyer who was an ornament and power in the courts of the commonwealth, will feel a poignant grief from his passing and long hold him in affectionate memory and honor. Their profound sympathy will attend the bereaved members of his family.

THE LAST CONFEDERATE.

Old veterans who wore the gray in the War Between the States will read with regret the announcement that Major Charles Manly Stedman, of North Carolina, their only comrade in the congress of the United States, is to retire from that body voluntarily. Having reached the ripe age of 89 years yesterday, Major Stedman had one of his colleagues announce to the house of representatives that he would not offer for re-election this year. He yields to his own inclination and the wish of his family and friends, and will give up the activities of a congressional service that will have covered 20 years at the end of his present term.

During the score of years Major Stedman has been an active and conspicuous member of the congress. His figure has been a noble one, his courtliness most agreeable to his colleagues of every section and party, and his energy in the prosecution of public legislation remarkable. He is a fine exemplar of the dignity of the old southerner and of the chivalry of that young south that threw itself with such headlong heroism into the struggle for southern independence.

There will be universal regret in North Carolina to see him lay aside the office he has so long adorned and the public leaders of the democratic and republican party will alike be sorry to say farewell to so superb a character and so useful a servant. Nevertheless he will leave behind him no unworthy memories and will take to the youth of his state the example and record of one who never shirked a duty or failed in a responsibility.

EQUALIZE THE 'OMETERS.

If the Grand Mogul of Meteorology who serves Uncle Sam at Washington as expert mixer of the nation's weather has anything in his laboratory that he has not shown in this area he is defrauding our climatic curiosity.

Thus far he has sifted into our winter a series of samples ranging from the delectable to the disgusting. We have had rains that would have satisfied the thirst of Noah, winds that would have rejoiced Pirate Jean Lafitte fleeing from a Spanish cruiser, cold snaps and snows equal to any that make Oklahoma the winter theater of a vaudeville of the elements, and hot spots that made us shed our topcoats and say "how summerish!"

Really we are furnished by the joint efforts of nature and the national weather bureau with the most accommodating climate to be found on the continent. Its infinite variety has made it attractive to hundreds of thousands of people who have come hither to enjoy it and to make Atlanta the notable health habitat that it is.

Although we have boastful boosters who will assure visiting skeptics that here mercury has been known to freeze and alcohol to boil, especially under the Volstead act, the historic fact is that persons do not freeze to death here and no coroner has ever pronounced one "dead from sunstroke!"

Still, the scientific sharp who operates all the atmospheric "'ometers" at Washington and across the continent might well "have a heart" toward us indigenous southerners to whom the Creator allotted none of the protections of fur or feathers. We thrive best physically and produce best for the national welfare in an equable state of the elements, so that it will redound much to the general good for the weather man to unmix his recent outputs in this direction. We do not covet a rivalry with either Yuma or Medicine Hat!.

STILL TARIFF TINKERING.

The efforts of the federal senate to make a new tariff act continue with daily torrents of talk and figures, and with slight prospect of the mangled bill getting into conference between the two houses before the middle of February. Then, we are warned, it will take another month or six weeks to reach agreement upon a conference report.

Thus lobbies and local demands and political debt payments are keeping the business of the country in a state of suspense, seriously affecting production, the employment of both capital and labor, and holding in check the purchasing power of the people.

The condition is yet another informing lesson of the evil system of political tariff making. A people as generally intelligent and ingenious as ours ought to be able to set up a scientific system by which necessary tariff rates could be adjusted whenever required, without regard to partisan advantages and wholly in the interest of the non-political businesses and industries of the nation.

It should be intolerable to a people so numerous, widespread and variously interested in regional and seasonal production and trade to continue the victims of political dickering with the vastly important government function of tariff protection. The degeneration of tariff legislation into a great game of grab and graft for special interests should be stopped if there is wit and justice enough left in public opinion to force a reformation which would establish plain equities between producers and consumers, the latter being in the vast majority.

The present aspect of tariff tinkering in the congress is one that humiliates the spirit of American equal rights and the American ideal of "government for the people."

It looks as if we shall be obliged to lend France money to continue her navy building program until 1942.

The people of this country may differ on most every subject but they are as a unit in expressing what they think of the weather this winter.

Knock For Scotland.

Thomas Johnstone, under-secretary of state for Scotland, has landed a blow on the solar plexus of Scottish traditions. Speaking at Greenock, he declared boldly that "Robert the Bruce" was a feudal bully, and the story of Bruce and the spider is an invention. As if this was not a bitter enough pill for patriotic Scotsmen to swallow, he cast a further slur on the fair name of the Bruce by declaring that, far from watching spiders in an island cave, he was spending his time amid the comforts obtainable at the court of the Norwegian king. "his is the third time within a month that the proud traditions of Scotland have been assailed. Not long ago someone declared that Bruce was an Englishman, and that the men who fought under him at Bannockburn were not kilted Highlanders but Anglo-Saxons. A short time afterward an intrepid Englishman braved the wrath of the clans by claiming Wallace as an Anglo-Saxon.

Bolshevik Rumor.

The clown who told the following story to a circus audience in Moscow was sentenced to a month in jail. On coming onto the stage he was asked by another man where he had been. "In heaven," he replied, "where I asked St. Peter to help me as life was so bad in Russia. St. Peter referred me to Elijah, who possessed a chariot and horses with which he might assist. On addressing myself to Elijah, I was asked what was the matter and how things were faring in Russia. I replied that food, houses, land, horses and carts and everything else were requisitioned by government. In that case, said Elijah, I cannot help you, in that my horses and chariot would be requisitioned too; but go to Moses, who is very wise and may be able to do something. I went to Moses and asked him to help me. Moses asked me why I was complaining about Russia, that it was the first complaint he had had from there, and who was I? I replied, a Russian, of course. O, then, said Moses. I understand. I can't do anything for you. All my people are splendidly situated there."

Week-End Prohibition.

The Magyarsag, a Budapest paper, reports that the home office is perfecting a scheme for the introduction of prohibition in Hungary during the week-ends. It is proposed that all restaurants, inns and bars shall be closed from Saturday midday till Monday morning; and the dancing establishments, cafes and similar localities shall be forbidden to sell alcohol during holidays. The Magyarsag is informed that the ministers of France and agriculture hold strong doubts about the suitability of week-end prohibition, and it is not impossible that the plan may be wrecked during the debate of the ministerial council. If the plan is put into action a hard struggle is predicted all over the country.

WHAT BECOMES OF THE VARICOSE VEINS?

It is almost a year since any doctor of standing has met the inquiry of a patient interested in this new method of disposing of varicose veins by chemical obliteration, with a laugh and the assurance that it is only a newspaper doctor's pipe dream.

Better than any mere opinion of a doctor or an "authority," to my mind, is the verdict rendered by the patient himself months after the treatment is finished. I have heard patients mildly admit satisfaction with the results of operaion for varicose veins. Perhaps that isn't a fair criterion, because it is human nature to take whatever benefit or improvement one derives from a conventional or an ordinary medical treatment as granted or expected, and not a thing to boast about. On the other hand it is quite as human to make a great stir over any apparent benefit or gain one derives from a strange, unusual or unconventional form of treatment. This peculiarity of human nature may have something to do with the verdict of the patient who has received treatment for varicose vein. Still, one cannot help being impressed by the frequency with which patients who have had the chemical obliteration treatment use the word "magic" in their final verdict.

Every little while I receive a letter from some one who, having noticed a reference to the subject in this column, writes to tell of his (more often her) experience with the new treatment, and how the vein or veins have "disappeared as if by magic." I know very well how such a phrase is abused by quacks and charlatans. But I think it is fair to apply it here.

What becomes of the enlarged and weakened veins treated by these chemical injections? They become gradually excluded by a germ-free clot, and after several weeks they gradually shrivel and shrink into an unnoticeable fibrous thread; the deep veins carry on the circulation, all right.

I am still unprepared to refer readers everywhere to doctors who administer this treatment. As a rule the younger or more progressive physicians in every community will be found using it with success; the old-timers and the backward doctors are "afraid of it," of course. The treatment, much safer than surgery, is practically painless; does not detain the patient from his usual occupation, and can be administered in the doctor's office. This is all the detailed information I can give about it. If I suffered from varicose veins (with or without ulcers) I should want this treatment.

B'nai B'rith Leader Describes Hillel Foundation.

Dr. Isaac M. Rubinow, newly-appointed executive secretary of the national order of B'nai B'rith and prominent figure in the social service profession, addressed a gathering of Atlantans Wednesday under auspices of the local chapter, I. O. B. B.

At the Wednesday luncheon, Dr. Rubinow outlined the purpose of the Hillel Foundation as intended to promote various extra-academic interests among Jewish college students throughout America. Chapters of the Hillel Foundation are being established and maintained on the campus of all large universities, Dr. Rubinow stated.

The Hillel Foundation movement is sponsored by the national and local division of I. O. B. B. Activities of other branches of the B'nai B'rith also were described.

LOOKING AND LISTENING

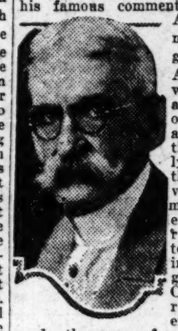
Atlanta's Ward-Heeler Government Should Be Dumped for a Modern System.



When James Bryce, the great English statesman and diplomat, wrote his famous commentary on "The American commonwealth" the government of American cities was a byword and shame all over the nation and throughout the world. Shortly after that there arose a revulsion against municipal misgovernment and corruption, leading to a new regime in most of the greater cities. Citizens whose rights and properties were being made the prey of profiteering politicians aroused themselves to take a strong interest in city affairs and to go to the polls for the election of honest and capable city governors. Even New York city was purged and for years administered by reform governments.

Evil Effects of the World War.

The coming of the World War and our eventual entrance into it carried the larger interest of our people's minds and eyes away from our own country to the fighting fronts across the ocean. At home our chief business became the assembling of armies and navies and the keeping them equipped and supplied to carry American arms to a final victory.

Meantime the lesser interests of city government were neglected by the people generally and fell again into the hands and complete control of those political sappers and miners who make public office their private mines of plunder and profit.

It is only within the last few years that the local evils growing out of the World War events and absorptions have erupted to the public view. They grew so large and virulent that, like boiling lava in a volcanic peak, they forced their own revelations, so that municipal scandals have broken out in all parts of the country. So that today, again, the mismanagement and corruption in city governments have become a great shame to the American people.

* * * *

A Reform That Did Reform.

One of the things that grew out of the prewar revolt above referred to and that worked well, persisted, and has grown to great popular favor, is the newer system of city government—the form of commission government, or city manager government, singly or combined.

The new form requires the abolition of aldermanic and councilmanic control, and of the dickering, trading and grafting by groups of ward politicians who get into city offices solely for what they can get out of them.

It seems now to be very surely demonstrated by abundant experiences that no considerable city that has outgrown provincial ways and taken on even near-metropolitanism can be safely governed by men elected by the ward representative system. For instance, Atlanta never had any municipal rows and suspicions of scandal until we changed to the plan of electing the city council by wards. Every old citizen knows that to be the fact.

* * * *

The Form With Growing Adoption.

The form of city administration that is growing in popular favor is that of a small commission, usually of five citizens elected on a ticket generally voted for citywide. One of the five becomes mayor to preside over commission meetings and officiate as head of the city in usual functions. The affairs of the municipality are allocated in five departments, such as finance, education, protection, construction and public welfare, with a commissioner as supervisor over each. The commission formulates and legislates the general policy of the city, but employ a highly competent city manager to execute the details of the policy, to hire and fire the city employes without dictation or interference even by the commissioners, and to be responsible to the commission and the citizens for the efficiency with which he performs his duties—just as the general manager of any other sort of big corporation or industry would be.

* * * *

How Well the Plan Works.

How well and satisfactorily this typical plan works seems proven by the fact that there are 392 cities in the United States that have adopted it, refuse to abandon it, and that the number is being added to annually.

There are 12 Georgia cities that have the plan in operation. They are Albany, Brunswick, Cartersville, Columbus, Cordele, Decatur, Eastman, Griffin, Quitman, Rome, Tifton and Waycross, and we do not hear any rumblings of scandal, graft and corruption in contracts coming from any of them. Maybe they had "sich" in other days and that explains why they have city manager governments now.

It may be very distasteful to those who are beneficiaries of the present mayor and council ward politics system to have any change for the better made in it. Those who are put usually want to stay put. But there is certainly a growing volume of sentiment in Atlanta right now for a quick change to the commission and city manager system.

* * * *

No Good Reason Against It.

It is not possible for any thinking person not already a part of the present system to find a tenable reason against the change to the new style of city administration.

That which has been said to me against it is that it would put the business of a big city like Atlanta into the control of too few men and make the city manager a dictator of what the people might have!

But that silly objection gets no support in cities like Cincinnati and Cleveland in Ohio; or Indianapolis in Indiana; or Norfolk and Lynchburg in Virginia; or Miami and West Palm Beach in Florida; or Austin and San Antonio and Fort Worth in Texas; or Kansas City in Missouri; or Rochester in New York, not to name scores of others, whose citizens have found the plan easy and economical to operate.

The people at large elect the commission and hence have power over it more completely than when councilmen are elected by wards; and the commission does the fixing of the city's program and hire a competent manager to execute it on strictly business principles.

* * * *

Time To Move Into 1930.

We people who live in Atlanta and are earnestly desirous to see her grow into the dominant metropolis of the south, incomparable for good government and popular prosperity, must slough off the ideas and habits we brought here with us from Red Oak and Roswell, or perhaps Campbellton, back in the early '50s.

We are living now in the twentieth century and should stake our sentiments in 1930 instead of the years "befo' de wah" of 1861.

It is my humble, but solemn, judgment that no greater blessing could come to the city than to have the great majority of its people demand of the general assembly next year a commission government charter, with a city manager executive, and put our municipal affairs upon the sane, safe, economical and progressive basis of a big business corporation.

Times Representative Berger Sees Bright Outlook for Business

Louis S. Berger, a member of the staff of the advertising department of the New York Times, has been making a tour of the south, studying business conditions with relation to advertising. He spent yesterday and the day before in Atlanta.

"I have been all over the country," said Mr. Berger yesterday, "and while I find better ground for the belief that the south is in as good, if not in a better position than any other part of the country in the manner in which it is overcoming the recent stock market break of last fall, I have been impressed with the fact that the feeling generally is less optimistic here than in other parts of the country.

"There seems to be a general tendency to move cautiously as if business is skating on thin ice. In the north and west the feeling generally is that whatever crisis may have existed has passed, and that the business curve will steadily move upward.

"In the south it appears to be largely a psychological matter, and my prediction is that as soon as business shows evidence of making a steady "comeback" in the north and east the south will make a quick step in the same direction.

"Indeed, I find evidence everywhere that pessimism is giving way to optimism and the uniform opinion as expressed to me is that the business record of this year, as a whole, will be better than that of the year before.

Marked Turn For the Better.

"My observation in the various cities visited in the south is that there is an extreme conservatism on the part of merchants and businessmen generally—perhaps undue caution. People are afraid that the stock market crash of a few months ago would cause a business depression. Their fear started a letdown in production and in sales effort to the extent that unemployment and attendant lowering of consumer demand developed. The general improvement in the New York market area should lead to greater optimism in the rest of the country.

"The recovery in business during the last few weeks has been sufficiently marked to warrant a more optimistic attitude than I have generally found in the south. Tangible signs of improvement are found both in industrial operations and wholesale as well as retail trade. There is an increase in demand for and output of steel. Construction contracts awarded since the beginning of the year have also been in encouraging volume, the daily average being much larger than in December. Credit conditions certainly present no serious obstacles to business expansion, at any rate in the chief industrial centers, and although conditions are not so easy in certain country districts as in New York and other leading cities, credit is generally available for business purposes at moderate rate.

"Since the market collapse and the ensuing unsettled conditions in general business, special interest has been taken in trade progress, with the result that sales volume is being checked from week to week in many cases. These reports indicate that the leading retail organizations are doing quite well and should show an increase for the month now almost over. New York concerns for the most part have enjoyed small gains and information from retailers in other sections of the country is of a favorable sort, except where weather conditions have imposed handicaps.

"While some cities report no great improvement President Hoover's report that employment is on the increase was a bright note last week, although there is still a tendency of the unemployed to drift to the cities, particularly New York, giving labor figures there indications which probably do not prevail in many other sections of the country.

Advertising Promotion Essential

"In general, the results attained since the holidays have required special effort, but they have been satisfactory enough to assure merchants that no real setback need be suffered if proper steps are taken to promote consumer demand.

"Atlanta, the center of business and industry in the south, should develop similar improvements and reflect the general sound business conditions which should prevail.

"We up north have great interest in and wholesome respect for the city of Atlanta. In the past few years readers of the metropolitan dailies and national magazines have been informed thoroughly and consistently by your Forward Atlanta Commission of the advantages inherent in your strategic position, industrial and trade conditions, and we are convinced that the north cannot hope for complete business success without making liberal use of the advantages that Atlanta offers.

"I cannot refrain from taking this opportunity to congratulate the leaders of the Forward Atlanta Movement for the foresight, energy and thoroughness with which they have made Atlanta's marvelous growth known to the rest of the country—a knowledge which I am sure will have no little influence in the continued development of Atlanta, both as an important center of industry and trade and an ideal place in which to live."

Mrs. Sanford Honored By Democratic Party

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—Congressman Charles H. Brand, who is the Georgia member of the democratic national congressional committee, has appointed as associate member for Georgia Mrs. S. V. Sanford, of Athens, to succeed Mrs. Florence Perkins Mann, of McRae.

Mrs. Sanford is the wife of the dean of the University of Georgia, who is also chairman of the University of Georgia Athletic Association.

Mrs. Sanford is vice president of the Georgia Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Short Selling Not Widely Practiced — Report on U. S. Steel Earnings Staggers Wall Street. Pulp Substitute Urged.

When E. H. H. Simmons, president of the New York Stock Exchange, at the close of one of the worst bear days in the stock market in November, said that the amount of short interest was only one-seventh of 1 per cent of the total listed sales, it showed cold figures as nothing else could the fact that short selling is not widely practiced.

"This short selling business—I can't quite understand it," is the way one stock market bull expressed himself to the writer.

Should short selling be permitted? In some countries it is prohibited.

But in a falling market, short selling is undoubtedly the best stabilizer. It creates "potent buying power."

"Had short selling been more extensive, the stock market decline might not have gone so far nor so fast. The absence of short selling was due to the sad experience of bears in the protracted bull market," says one market observer.

When the elder J. P. Morgan said "never sell United States short," he was only expressing the common sentiment and feeling of the shrewd investor.

The report of the United States Steel Corporation, showing net earnings for 1929 of $258,659,000, staggered even Wall Street. It is the corporation's best record since the war. The net earnings increased over 1928 by more than $1,250,000 a week.

Think of a company setting aside for depreciation more than $5,000,000 a month! After taking out of net earnings every conceivable kind of a depreciation, there was left $197,531,000. Preferred stock dividends took $25,219,677 and common stock dividends took $63,408,000. This left a surplus of almost $109,000,000 as against $39,000,000 for 1928.

The record years of the United States Steel Corporation were 1917 when net earnings soared to a little more than $295,000,000 and 1916 when they hit their all time record peak of $330,574,000.

Ingot steel production is now running at the rate of more than 77 per cent of capacity as against 72 per cent a week ago, and 67 per cent two weeks ago.

The steel business is looking up.

"Find a substitute for pulp, or cut down the size of newspapers," is the suggestion of W. D. Robb, vice president of the Canadian National Railways, speaking before the Canadian Pulp & Paper Association in Montreal.

"Some 6,328,000 cords of pulp wood, worth $75,000,000 in 1928, were fabricated into finished goods, worth more than $185,000,000," said Mr. Robb before this gathering. "So the value of the raw material was multiplied two and one-half times by the manufacturing process. Rayon, too, is demanding more pulp. So is the paper box business."

"Conserve our forest" is becoming a national slogan in Canada. Sir Henry Thornton agreed with Mr. Robb and called attention to the need of substitutes whereby production may once more overtake consumption in the Canadian forests.

Sir Henry's point is primarily that Canada badly needs scientific research study in the solving of this very important problem which concerns not only Canadian business, but American as well.

Next to wheat, paper is Canada's main export.

France reports a decrease of more than $50,000,000 in exports last year over 1928, and an increase of $193,000,000 in imports in the same period, causing an unfavorable trade balance of $330,000,000.

Ordinarily such adverse figures would cause great alarm, but not in France. For her "invisible items" more than counterbalance the unfavorable balance in merchandise. These "invisible items" in the case of France are largely tourist trade. Americans alone spent nearly $300,000,000 in France last year.

The total foreign trade of France last year was $4,335,000,000—a new high record.

World trade is progressing satisfactorily. Britain's imports and exports before the war were about $7,000,000,000 as against $10,000,000,000 now. Germany's trade in the same period has gone up from $5,000,000,000 to $6,500,000,000; Italy's from $1,200,000,000 to $1,900,000,000; and that of France from $3,000,000,000 to $4,330,000,000.

But these figures are not altogether accurate, owing to the rise in prices. Germany shows an apparent increase of 30 per cent over the year 1913 in dollar values, but her actual tonnage figures are about 15 per cent below 1913.

International trade, in spite of all the handicaps to overcome, is growing both in volume and in value.

When the New York Telephone Company announced a $14,000,000 rate increase, in accordance with the decree of the United States district court, which declared that the company's rates shall return 7 per cent on its capital investment, that company started something.

The state of New York, through the public service commission, is trying desperately to work out a new telephone rate schedule to be put into effect on Saturday next as the only way left to block the new rate which the telephone company itself arbitrarily set.

The problem is a far-reaching one. What will be the ultimate effect in public utility regulation when a federal court lays down an edict which vitiates to a large extent the activity of the state authorities?

It looks as though this New York telephone rate case is the wedge which will split wide open the whole utility regulation problem. Out of it may grow drastic legislation whereby the state will attempt to recapture the power which apparently has been taken over by federal courts.

The problem of public utility regulation, an economic problem, is fast becoming a big political one as well.

You Can't Fatten Prize Cattle Where Sheep Crop the Grass

By Robert Quillen

Public and private schools need an intelligence test to weed out those who will get no profit from further instruction.

Every Tom, Dick and Harry is going to college—memorizing lessons, cramming for tests, and emerging triumphant with diplomas that have lost their significance.

Not one in five is fired with any passion for learning, and not one in five would finish his course if required to work and sacrifice to pay his own way.

Most of them go to college because it is the orthodox thing to do; because a college degree is a social advantage; because their parents require them to go, or because college life is more pleasant than the alternative they are offered.

They have no right in college.

The theory is that every youth in a free land has a right to an education, and it would seem unjust to deprive one child of this right because he is less brilliant than another.

His greater need should make his right more secure.

But the dog in the manger has no right to keep the ox from the hay, and those who cannot or will not profit by instruction have no right to handicap those who can.

All educators agree that able and eager students are held back by stupid and indifferent pupils who consume the time and exhaust the energies of instructors.

And because the instructors themselves are helpless cogs in a machine—whipped by their need of bread and butter—afraid to offend—they smooth the way for the witless, promote the stupid to be rid of them, and at last award diplomas that indicate no more than a riddance of rubbish.

It is a foolish and unjust system.

There is no reason or justice or common sense in requiring a youth to remain in school a specified number of years, memorizing daily lessons he does not understand or wish to understand, when it is obvious that he will forget what he has learned within a year and profit by it in no way at all.

There should be an annual test in every school and college to weed out those who have gone as far as they can and those who are worthy of no further attention.

The stupid and the indifferent should not be coached and coddled and awarded unearned honors at the expense of those who are egaer to learn.

Nobody wastes time and energy or plays the hypocrite to give weaklings a high rating in football.

HEAVIEST SNOWFALL IN 13 YEARS HERE

lighted the heart of any home-loving Eskimo.

Mr. von Herrmann estimated the amount of the snowfall at approximately 3.5 inches Wednesday afternoon and intimated that it might easily go above this figure. Added to .3 of an inch January 18 and 2.1 inches December 22 and December 23 last month, the total for the winter comes to approximately 6 inches, a figure which has not been surpassed since 1912 and has been surpassed only seven times in the entire history of the local bureau.

March 14, 1924, saw a snowfall of 3.7 inches, a figure which Mr. von Herrmann stated might be surpassed on this occasion, while on December 12, 1917, 4.5 inches were recorded. Prior to that time, 7.5 inches had been recorded in January, 1904, the heaviest snowfall on record here in a 24-hour period. The winter of 1928-1929 produced only .02 inches while the preceding season .1 of an inch fell here.

NEAR-HURRICANE WHIPS OUT OF GULF.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29.—(AP)—A storm of near-hurricane proportions that ripped out of the Gulf of Mexico near the Florida coast today whipped high winds in a northeasterly direction through Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia and brought a sudden drop in temperature with rain, sleet and snow.

Storm warnings issued from both the New Orleans and the Washington weather bureaus told of the threat and increasing intensity of the storm in its spread from a low pressure area off the coast of Florida toward the Texas coast and its northeast swing up the Atlantic seaboard.

The brunt of the disturbance entered the mainland along the Mississippi coast, unroofing small buildings and causing minor damage at Gulfport, and swerved through interior Mississippi and Alabama into Georgia.

At 2 p. m. the Washington bureau located the storm as centering in the vicinity of Thomasville, Ga., traveling in a northeasterly direction and increasing in intensity. Winds of gale force were looked for and storm warnings were out tonight along the Atlantic coast north of Delaware breakwater to Sandy Hook. A light snow accompanying the cold wave fell at Meridian, Laurel and Vicksburg, Miss., while the fall increased as the cold wave enveloped Alabama and Georgia. In Birmingham and Atlanta the ground was covered with snow.

The cold hand of winter tonight extended down into extreme north Florida with continued cold promised there tomorrow. The north Mississippi delta, north Louisiana and portions of Arkansas which suffered severely in the recent series of freezes escaped the worst of the new wave.

Colder weather was predicted throughout the south tonight with a freeze reaching almost to the gulf coast in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana and near freezing in northwest Florida. Tomorrow the temperatures are expected to rise in the southwest with continued cold in the southeast.

DRY LAW HEARINGS TO START FEB. 12

house, after deciding to press for 2.75 per cent beer modification proposals, decided to ask for hearings recently but never made a formal request.

Graham made his announcement unheralded at a meeting of his committee today. The meeting also gave Representative Andrew, republican, Massachusetts, an unadvertised hearing on his resolution to direct the Hoover-Wickersham law enforcement commission to investigate proposals for modifying the Volstead act. No action was taken on it.

Several of the ablest of the anti-prohibitionists in congress are members of the judiciary committee, including Representative LaGuardia, republican, New York, and Representative Dyer, republican, Missouri, who recently urged on President Hoover the advisability of legalizing 2.75 beer.

Prominent wets and drys both will be sought to appear before the hearings. Likelihood was seen that President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, one of the leading wet spokesmen, would appear.

Beer Draws Fire.

Meanwhile the 2.75 per cent beer plan drew the fire of Senator Borah, Idaho, prohibition spokesman, who said such a brew would be of benefit to no one. As far as requiring all congressmen and federal employes to swear not to drink. Borah said "the present oath of allegience is all right with me."

Senator Carter Glass, Virginia dry, called to the senate's attention a protest from John Paul, United States attorney for western Virginia, protesting that the Hoover-Wickersham plan to substitute court commissioner hearings for jury trials would tend to demoralize his widespread district's enforcement. Paul said the plan would result in a "flood of criticism of the government on its failure to enforce the law."

Chairman Williamson, of the expenditures committee, reported that his committee probably tomorrow would report out to the house for action the bill to transfer prohibition enforcement to the justice department from the treasury.

Drys Divided.

The division among drys as well as wets over the Hoover-Wickersham proposals was shown by the close vote of 10 to 7 by which this committee today turned down a plan to take away from the treasury alcohol diversion regulation. The Hoover-Wickersham plan would leave this in the treasury. The committee amended the bill to require the attorney general to investigate, if he deemed it necessary, any alcohol permit situation. A fight on the floor on alcohol is foreseen. House passage of the bill is believed certain, however, and soon, but senate action is problematical.

The house meanwhile voted $11,000,000 more for prohibition enforcement, making a total of $44,000,000, for next year, by passing the supply bill carrying funds for the justice, commerce, state, and labor departments. The $11,000,000 goes to the justice department, about $33,000,000 for prohibition having previously been voted to the treasury.

MYSTERY WITNESS CALLED IN PROBE

these are persons who live away from Atlanta. There has been no provision to pay the expenses of these witnesses. It will come only from the popular subscriptions of those who are interested in the cause of good government."

Mr. McElreath said members of the executive board, Mr. Watkins and himself had tentatively arranged a conference with Mr. Collier and Mr. Boykin for Saturday morning at which the committee would make any reports it may have for the information of those in charge of the investigation and otherwise lay plans for the assistance it is to give in completion of the investigation, which is now expected about March 1.

Assistance Promised.

Further assistance is to be given the grand jury in the investigation by the Atlanta Surety and Casualty Association, which at a meeting Wednesday noon at the Piedmont hotel voted "to support its officers in giving the grand jury and Solicitor-General Boykin any assistance they may be able to render during the inquiry."

Frank Maloney, president of the association, said that he felt sure many companies who are members of the association would be able to give help in the investigation, particularly with regard to the city's purchase of insurance policies and bonds.

INSURANCE COMPANIES TOLD OF NEW RULING

William B. Harrison, comptroller-general, Wednesday notified insurance companies doing a health and accident business in Georgia of a new ruling on unilateral policies.

Mr. Harrison said that reports were reaching his office that some companies were offering policies which might easily be misinterpreted by agents and make it possible for unscrupulous agents to take advantage of the "unwary and ignorant."

"Where cancellation of the insurance can be effected by refusal on the part of the company to renew for any subsequent term, and the company reserves the right to exercise this option without regard to what the insured may do or fail to do in connection with his policy, the Georgia insurance department looks upon such a contract as unilateral in its terms, and therefore not allowable."

"It is ordered," it was also stated, "that the issue of such policies as are open to the foregoing objections cease immediately, until they can be so modified by reprinting or by rubber stamp impressions as to make them clear and unmistakable in their terms, plain even to the unwary and the ignorant.

"It is further ordered that specimens of all accident and health policies offered for sale hereafter in this state shall first be submitted to this department and by it approved before authority to issue can be given."

New York Financiers Pass Through City

A party of New York bankers, including G. L. Ohrstrom, president of G. L. Ohrstrom & Company, bankers; former Senator Thomas P. Gore, M. H. Simond and others, passed through Atlanta Wednesday en route to Birmingham where more than 400 prominent men of the country attended a city-wide celebration Wednesday night in observance of the coming of natural gas to that city.

L. Curzon Hoffman, Jr., executive vice president of the Atlanta Gas Light Corporation; Judge Reuben R. Arnold and William H. Sadler were among the party of Atlantans who joined the party here. The celebration in Birmingham was held under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce there.

Mrs. Sanford Honored By Democratic Party

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—Congressman Charles H. Brand, who is the Georgia member of the democratic national congressional committee, has appointed as associate member for Georgia Mrs. S. V. Sanford, of Athens, to succeed Mrs. Florence Perkins Mann, of McRae.

Mrs. Sanford is the wife of the dean of the University of Georgia, who is also chairman of the University of Georgia Athletic Association.

Mrs. Sanford is vice president of the Georgia Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Josephus Daniels To Speak At Emory Press Institute

Chamber of Commerce Will Give Dinner in Honor of Former Navy Secretary.

Josephus Daniels, author, editor and former secretary of the navy, will speak on "The Newspaper and the Future American Civilization" at the Georgia Press Institute at Emory University February 20-21.

He will speak at noon on the second day of the institute. At 6 o'clock Friday night, February 21, the visiting editors will be entertained at the Chamber of Commerce cafe with a dinner given by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce in honor of Mr. Daniels.

Mr. Daniels, after attending Wilson Collegiate Institute became editor of the Wilson (N. C.) Advance at the age of 18.

In 1885, 23 years old, he was admitted to the bar, but did not practice. In the same year he took over the editorship of Raleigh State Chronicle, which journal he consolidated in 1894 in the North Carolinian. Ten years later he became editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, with which his former paper was consolidated.

Mr. Daniels was twice a delegate to the national democratic convention, and from 1896 to 1916 was a member of the democratic executive committee.

He served as publicity manager for the Wilson forces in the 1912 presidential campaign and in 1913 was appointed secretary of the navy. Mr. Daniels remained in the cabinet until 1921. Upon his retirement he resumed active editorship of the News and Observer.

Since 1921 Mr. Daniels has written several books, including "Life of Woodrow Wilson," "Our Navy at War," and "The Navy and the Nation."

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.—(adv.)

SENATE REFUSES CUT IN STRAW HAT TARIFF

Votes Down Four Proposals But Delays Final Decision.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—With an eye to spring and possible growing importations from Italy, the senate turned back four attempts today to slash the increased duties carried in the pending tariff bill on straw hats, but deferred until tomorrow a decision as to what rates should be approved.

A combination of eastern democrats and republican regulars sent down to defeat in rapid succession amendments offered by Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, a democratic member of the finance committee, to cut materially the bill rates and in some instances to go below existing law.

The rate on braids used in the manufacture of hats, if containing a substantial part of rayon, was raised from 15 per cent on the plain and 20 per cent on dyed, as at present, to 45 per cent. This was a compromise suggested by Chairman Smoot, of the finance committee, in place of the committee's original proposal for a rate of 90 per cent on braids containing any rayon, however small.

The first amendment offered by Barkley, which was defeated, 39 to 36, would have substituted a rate of 60 per cent on unsewed hats for the $4 a dozen and 50 per cent carried in the pending and house bills. The present rate is 50 per cent.

Barkley attempted to compromise on this item by proposing that the 60 per cent duty apply only to unsewed hats valued at $8 or less a dozen, but this was rejected by a single vote 39 to 38. This would have left the higher rate on the costlier headgear.

A third proposal to cut the bill duty on sewed straws from $4 a dozen and 60 per cent to 70 per cent, as against an existing levy of 60 per cent, lost by 40 to 36. Another amendment to allow the higher bill rate to stand on the higher priced types and to leave the duty at 60 per cent on those worth $8 or less a dozen was defeated, 40 to 37.

When the senate recessed for the day, a fifth amendment by the Kentuckian to make the rate on sewed straws 36 per cent, the same as fixed by presidential proclamation several years ago, was pending.

Severance Granted In Trial for Murder

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Ray Mathews, former Turner Falls, Mass., shoe salesman, and his bride of a few weeks, Dorothy Lange Mathews, Eau Claire, Wis., former heiress, will be tried separately for the murder of Clifford O. Crawford, carpenter and fisherman, of Savannah, Ga., and Mayport, Fla.

Crawford's body was found in a field near here one night last November. He had been hit on the head and his pockets rifled. The couple is said by authorities to have confessed taking him for a ride for the purpose of robbery. They got $10, it was reported.

Yesterday they pleaded not guilty to a charge of first degree murder returned by a county grand jury; were granted a severance, and trial dates set for February 10 and 24, respectively. Mathews is alleged to have admitted knocking the old man down but said death come from hitting his head against an automobile hub.

Oil Probe Halted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Abandonment of the grand jury investigation of oil companies in the west for alleged price-fixing was announced today by the department of justice. It was said the department planned now to proceed by filing complaints in equity.

Escaped Convicts Held for Murder

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 29. (AP)—Watson Moulthrope, Roland Lalone and Leo Landry, escaped convicts from Connecticut, were indicted by a grand jury late today on charges of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Detective W. D. Smith during a gun battle with officers on a downtown street here on the night of January 17, last. Authorities said the trio would be arraigned within the next few days.

Smith was killed and Detective Willie Jones was wounded seriously when they attempted to arrest the convicts on suspicion that the automobile they were driving had been stolen from Massachusetts.

Landry was captured here by two pedestrians several days after the shooting when hunger drove him from beneath a house where he had been hiding for 48 hours. He denied he fired any of the shots that struck the detectives.

Moulthorpe and Lalone were arrested last Friday night in Pensacola, where they had fled to seek employment on a boat. They were returned here Sunday.

BERENGUER BEGINS ON GOVERNMENT TASK

MADRID, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Spain today set about finding a new government to replace the dictatorship exercised by General Miguel Primo de Rivera since 1923.

King Alfonso cancelled all royal audiences and engagements in order to be free for a conference at any time with General Damaso Berenguer, who has been charged with the work of forming a cabinet.

General Berenguer, who discussed the situation with his majesty in the morning and again in the afternoon, said late today that his list of ministers probably would not be completed until tomorrow. He refused to confirm or to deny persistent reports in Madrid that Francisco Cambo, former minister of finances, would be offered that portfolio in the new government. Senor Cambo at Barcelona likewise refused to discuss the matter.

General Berenguer has spent a large part of his time since the resignation of Primo de Rivera last night in conferring personally with persons of great political influence and with men whom he considers possible material for his cabinet. He has kept in touch with leaders all over Spain by telegraph and telephone.

King Alfonso is being kept informed about every detail of the developments and will finally approve the list of ministers before it is made public.

General Primo de Rivera appeared to be greatly enjoying the prospect of realizing what he has said he most wants—a good long rest.

Bidding farewell to King Alfonso and to the country, he issued an official note ending: "And now to rest a little, to recover my health. Two thousand three hundred and twenty-six days have been filled with inquietude, responsibility and labor, but after a rest, if God wishes, I shall return to serve Spain until I die."

He spent most of the day cleaning up business pending before the government and getting things in shape to turn over to his successor. He has expressed a belief that it will be necessary for the government to continue under some form of dictatorship for a few years. He pledged his personal loyalty to the king and said he welcomed the incoming government.

After General Berenguer has taken the oath of office, for which no public ceremonies are planned, Primo De Rivera will give any assistance possible in acquainting his successor with the details of the government's work.

Despite minor disorders during demonstrations, Spain so far has treated the change of government with approval. The appointment of Berenguer is taken as being the first step in the king's policy of restoring constitutional government through political parties, general elections and a parliament.

Berenguer himself has declared that he comes into office as a soldier but will act as a civilian. The old political parties, which were thrust into the background during Primo's dictatorship will begin reorganizing soon, and Count Romanones and former Premier Sanchez Guerra have been mentioned as possible premiers if General Berenguer ultimately retires to make way for an exclusively political government.

Some of the cabinet posts already have been attributed to various influential political personalities. General Berenguer himself intends to take over the army ministry as well as the presidency of the council of ministers, and the Duke of Alba, one of the foremost noblemen of Spain, has accepted the portfolio of public education.

In well informed quarters Colonel Marza is being mentioned as the possible minister of the interior, Senor Estreda as minister of justice; Gabrielle Maura, public works; Senor Cambo, minister of finances, and Sangro Ros Polano, minister of labor.

The judge replied by sending Henry to jail for 20 days on a contempt of court charge.

A COLUMN of the CAPITOL

By Harold Stephens

"Thar's gold in them thar hills!" Meaning those up Dahlonega way. Prospecting goes on apace . . . . It is a hit and miss affair, with little regularity to it. A company or a group come in, stay for a period of weeks or months, and go their way.

And sometimes come back again. Though no substantial industry has so far developed about Georgia's gold fields, the results of prospecting are sufficiently encouraging to maintain interest.

There is gold there. No doubt of that. And some day a paying vein may be discovered. When that happens Lumpkin and its neighboring counties will boom.

Georgia gold occupies a place of honor among the specimens in the state museum of geology at the capitol. A score or more of nuggets, ranging from a small size to almost a hundred pennyweight, compose the exhibit.

They are carefully guarded. The glass of their cabinet is of heavy plate, and the door is locked. When the custodian of the museum is absent or the state department of geology closed the nuggets are transferred to a heavy safe.

Dahlonega once had a mint devoted to the manufacture of gold coins. Its time, from 1838 to 1861, corresponded roughly with the "Golden Age" of the south, when it knew its greatest power.

In the 24 years of its operation the Dahlonega mint manufactured 1,381,740 pieces of coin, with a value of $6,133,569.

Manning S. Yeomans, state entomologist, is the "baby" of the state capitol. He is the youngest man to hold a capitol office and reputedly the youngest in the history of the state.

At the time he assumed office in September, 1928, he was 27 years of age. He is now 28. Yeomans graduated at the University of Georgia in 1924, taking a Bachelor of Science degree and majoring in horticulture. His father is Judge M. J. Yeomans, of the Patuala circuit. Yeomans is a bachelor.

This year, on May 1, Colonel Sam Tate, highway director, will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ownership of the Georgia Marble Company, at Tate, Ga.

In the quarter of a century marble has become one of the major industries of Georgia. Colonel Tate's company, the only one engaged in quarrying marble, nationally advertises Georgia marble. Last week "Time" carried an advertisement pointing to its use in the Bok singing tower at Mountain Lake, Fla., the "Taj Mahal of America."

* * * *

Colonel Tate's pride is not in the accomplishments of his company, but in the democratic spirit, the culture and the moral of the communities which have grown up about his quarries and plants. Employers meet employed on a level basis socially. The communities maintain model schools. And they have no police. . . . In one community of 420 whites and 125 negroes there has not been a conviction on any charge in a decade.

* * * *

The fly in his present ointment is inaction. . . Since he assumed office last year his task has been to "sit on the lid" and hold things in shape until indebtednesses can be paid. Georgians want a program of highway development. And no one of them more than Colonel Tate. Friends say that his enforced official inaction has filled him with a sense of disgust.

Instructions Start In Public Speaking

First of a series of ten lessons in public speaking will be given tonight at 6:30 o'clock by the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce in room 716 of the Grand Theater building. Miss Adelle Eastlack will be in charge.

Thursday's meeting will be principally for the purpose of organization and regular weekly classes will follow on each Monday night.

STATE ROAD BUILDING PLANS ARE HELD UP

Approval of Projects by Federal Bureau Now Awaited.

State highway board's plans for early road construction must be held up pending approval of the projects by the federal road bureau, it was announced Wednesday by Colonel Sam Tate, chairman of the board.

The board had advertised for bids this week on a number of projects but, due to the fact that virtually all of them are for federal aid roads, approval of the federal authorities must be obtained before Georgia can proceed.

The chairman stated that it is probable that Georgia will let contracts this year for $10,600,000 of federal aid highways. He said that an extra appropriation now before congress may make $1,300,000 per year available to this state in addition to the present federal aid. Should the appropriation pass, Georgia will have $5,300,000 of federal aid available this year.

No intimation of the roads to be included in the contracts now held up, pending federal approval, has been given by the board.

Body Pays Highest Dividend of Any Organization in State, President Says at Meeting.

Viewing the work of the Georgia state board of health from an economic viewpoint, Robert F. Maddox, chairman of the executive committee of the First National bank of Atlanta, and president of the state board of health, Wednesday declared at the annual meeting of the health board that it paid the highest dividend rate of any organization he has ever known.

While he is in constant touch with the work of the health department, Mr. Maddox expressed himself as astounded at the report of Dr. T. F. Abercrombie, state health commissioner, that the department's work in 1929 had prevented the death of 1,029 persons. The international valuation of the potential earning power of a man 30 years of age at $30,000 is conservative indeed, according to Mr. Maddox, and he expressed the belief that Dr. Abercrombie's estimate of $15,000,000 financial value through this accomplishment was low.

The meeting of the board yesterday was the largest attended held in recent years. Those present were, besides Mr. Maddox and Dr. Abercrombie, Dr. J. G. Dean, of Dawson; Dr. John A. Rhodes, of Crawfordville; Dr. A. C. Shamblin, of Rome; Dr. A. A. Lowry, of Valdosta; Dr. C. R. Brice, of Gainesville; W. R. Neal, editor of the Savannah Morning News, of Savannah; Dr. M. S. Brown, of Fort Valley; M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools; Dr. Arthur D. Little, of Thomasville, and Dr. H. R. Carter, of Madison.

In addition to receiving Dr. Abercrombie's annual report and transacting routine business, the board re-elected Dr. Abercrombie as state health commissioner for another six-year term. Dr. Abercrombie, with Wednesday's meeting, completed 12 years as state health commissioner.

Accomplished Praised.

In his reported to the board, Mr. Maddox praised the accomplishments of the health department as related by Dr. Abercrombie's report and paid tribute to the latter in expressing the belief that he has no superior as a state health officer in the nation.

Mr. Maddox told the board that he keeps in constant touch with the financial administration of the department and believes the money appropriated by the legislature and other contributing agencies to be wisely administered.

"I want to call attention to another fact," said Mr. Maddox, "and that is that the health department keeps within its appropriation, whatever it is. In fact, it was so administered that at the end of the last biennium, there was a slight balance carried over. There are no deficits in the health department.

"Looking as the work of the department from an economic viewpoint, as I naturally do, I conceive it to be of the greatest economic value to the state. In fact, there is no activity, public or private, of greater potential economic value than public health work. The figures cited by Dr. Abercrombie are not extravagant in the least."

Mr. Maddox stressed the importance of curbing the ravages of malaria and pellagra, the state's two most pressing health problems. "For every death from malaria there are 400 cases of it, I am told." Mr. Maddox said. "There were 667 deaths from this cause last year, making more than 266,000 cases in the state."

Work of Dougherty county in eliminating the mosquito was praised highly by Mr. Maddox, who declared he would like to see other counties emulate this example. He also declared he sees a growing closer union between the medical and dental professions and the state board of health than he has ever seen in his long association with public health work in Georgia.

$500 Given Sanitarium.

Dr. Abercrombie announced the bequest of $500, without condition, to the State Tuberculosis sanitarium at Alto by Mrs. Ida Cook, of Milledgeville. The bequest was formally accepted by the board and will be devoted by beautifying the grounds of the institution at Alto.

The commissioner told the board of the appropriation by the last legislature of $100,000 to be used, under the direction of the state board of health, to treating cancer patients in Georgia. He said that while there was no institution specified in the law, it was his understanding, and he believed, the understanding of the members of the assembly, that it was to be spent in the Steiner clinic in Atlanta. He says he has asked officials of the Steiner clinic what they desire to do, but has had no reply from them and no application for any part of the money.

Dr. Little asked that a portion of the money be allotted to the John D. Archbold Memorial hospital, at Thomasville, which is doing some work on cancer. No action was taken on his request, although sympathy was expressed with the idea.

Mr. Neal invited the board to hold its semi-annual meeting in the summer at Tybee Island, where, he said, all Georgia gathers. No formal action was taken on this invitation, but it seemed to meet with general approval and no other invitations were extended.

Following adjournment of the session luncheon was served at the Piedmont hotel, where the meeting was held.

Deaths Are Reduced.

Dr. Abercrombie's report to the board showed 36,085 deaths in Georgia in 1928 and 34,788 in 1929, a reduction of 5 per cent. In five years, he said, the number of cases of typhoid has been cut in half, diphtheria reduced 27 per cent, tuberculosis 22 per cent, diarrhea and enteritis 63 per cent and diseases of early infancy 46 per cent.

He called attention to the increase in the number of counties which have adopted the Ellis health law. There were six in 1920 and 36 in 1930.

Rapid strides were shown in the promotion of dental hygiene, the practice of obstetrics and in tuberculosis control. Last year the sanitarium at Alto treated 711 persons in the institution and 156 outside.

While malaria continues to be one of the major health problems of the state, Dr. Abercrombie reported progress in mosquito control. Three counties, Dougherty, Richmond and Houston, adopted county-wide drainage measures in 1929. Through the distribution of quinine, principally in counties with health offices, the ravages of malaria are being greatly reduced.

Laboratory Service Demand.

A steady growth in the demand for laboratory services was reported by the health commissioner. In 1918 there were 6,118 specimens examined; and in 1929 there were 70,886. A reduction of almost 50 per cent in rabies treatments in five years was reported. Vaccine for the treatment of typhoid also has decreased, as has vaccine for diphtheria. In the latter, however, there has been a corresponding increase in vaccine used for the prevention of the disease.

To combat pellagra the laboratories have in the past year begun the distribution of powdered yeast, more than four tons being distributed at actual cost. Dr. Abercrombie paid tribute for work being done in the training school for mental defectives at Greenwood. During the last year 236 children were admitted.

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation cause piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. He tried it in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 96 per cent, and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Jacobs' Drug Stores today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you, or costs you nothing.—(adv.)

Dr. Oglesby Assumes Duties Here Sunday

Dr. Stuart R. Oglesby, of Hot Springs National Park, will assume his new duties as pastor of the Central Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Dr. Oglesby had served for a number of years as pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Hot Springs and during his ministryship there formed many friends. Regret over his departure was express by the Hot Springs New Era in a lengthy editorial.

The church in Arkansas advanced materially under his leadership and he was known especially for his work among the young people of his church and in the community. The editorial said, in part: "Dr. Oglesby has taken a vital interest in every phase of civic and community work. He has been identified with the Y. W. C. A., Boy Scouts, Community Chest, welfare and charitable work, while his interest in, and activity for, the promotion of the aims and ideals of the various civic clubs has been fruitful. His rare ability and pleasing manner make him an outstanding minister and citizen, and any community will be graced by his presence and ministry."

CRICHTON RITES TODAY

Bishop Mikell and Dean de Ovies To Officiate.

Funeral rites for Professor E. C. Crichton, whose death Tuesday at the residence, 3503 Piedmont road, closed a career in business education which began almost half a century ago, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill chapel. Bishop H. J. Mikell and Dean Raimundo de Ovies, of St. Philip's cathedral, of which Professor Crichton was a member, will officiate. Burial will follow in West View cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Robert Troutman, Henry Troutman, Dr. C. Glenville Giddings, Crichton Callaway, I. T. Callaway, Jr., and W. C. Caye. Vestrymen of St. Philip's cathedral will form an honorary escort.

Professor Crichton, who was 67 years of age, and founder of Crichton Business college, suffered a nervous collapse four months ago from which it is said he never recovered.

In addition to his widow, surviving members of the family are two children, Mrs. Cleves Symmes and Dr. Robert Crichton, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles D. Giddings and Mrs. I. T. Callaway, all of Atlanta.

Supply Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The annual supply bill for the state, justice, commerce and labor departments for the fiscal year 1931, carrying $113,599,000, was passed today by the house and sent to the senate.

Strides of City Prove Amazing To Dan Carey

Reporting himself "perfectly astounded with the growth of Atlanta since his last visit here, eight years ago, Dan Carey, one-time city hall reporter for The Constitution and former superintendent of parks here, arrived Wednesday with Mrs. Carey and their two children to spend a few days visiting relatives and friends. They are at the Georgia Terrace.

"It surely doesn't look like we can call this section the Sunny South any more," Mr. Carey said, as he looked into the falling snow. "Atlanta doesn't seem like Atlanta to me in more ways than one. Of course, the snow is strange here, but what is strange to me is the wonderful growth of the city. I do not think that at any time in the city's history it has ever made such strides as it has since I was here eight years ago."

Mr. Carey is connected with Kings' Feature Service and is stationed at Buenos Aires.

Gifts to Charity Upheld By City Attorney Mayson

Mayson Also Declares Purchase of Warehouse, Garage and Hospital Annex Are Legal.

Reinstatement of $88,643.35 stricken from the finance sheet of council at a special session held last Friday was ruled legal Wednesday by City Attorney James L. Mayson, and Councilman Wiley L. Moore, chairman of the finance committee, issued a call for a meeting of that body at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Council struck $104,680.35 from the January budget following insistence of the Fulton county grand jury that funds for payment of interest and principal on purchase of the John A. White and Chosewood parks on a deferred payment plan be taken from the sheet.

Every item which did not receive the official okeh of the city attorney was stricken from the sheet, including about $51,000 which was allocated to various charitable organizations.

Under the ruling just laid down by Mr. Mayson purchase of the warehouse garage and the annex to Grady hospital on a deferred payment plan is legal and can be continued.

Along with the park payments, the city attorney ruled that the $1,500 to the High Museum and the $3,000 for the Atlanta convention bureau is illegal. All other appropriations were upheld.

A list of the allocations which were stricken from the revised sheet follows:

Interest and principal on notes for White and Chosewood	$ 11,537.00
Atlanta Childs Home	4,000.00
Carrie Steele Home	1,000.00
Churches' Home for Girls	3,000.00

Hurt in Snow Fight.

While engaging in a snowball battle Wednesday night at Forsyth street and Marietta with Mrs. Pearl Booker, of 354 Washington street, Frank W. Allen, who rooms at the same address, received a fracture of the left shoulder when he slipped to the sidewalk, according to police reports. He was removed to the residence for treatment.

Fire Calls.

Fire calls for Wednesday as recorded at department headquarters:

3:28 p. m.—Delaware and Essie; false alarm; Companies 10 and 13.

7:40 p. m.—70 Pine street, N. W.; residence, caused by alleged carelessness with a cigaret; small damage; Company 11.

Accidentally Wounded.

Paul Brand, 18, of a Chattahoochee avenue address, was treated at Grady hospital Wednesday night for a flesh wound in his left leg, which, according to police, was received when a .32-caliber revolver he was handling at the residence accidentally discharged. Brand was dismissed after receiving treatment.

ATLANTA HELD LIABLE FOR SEWER DAMAGES

Stewart Ave. Citizens May Recover $1,500 for Losses From Overflow.

The right of a citizen to recover against the city of Atlanta for damages suffered when property is flooded by back-water from clogged sewers was upheld by the court of appeals Wednesday.

The decision was in the case of J. C. and J. W. Flemming, Stewart avenue residents, one of whom sued for $1,034.88 for a ruined amateur radio station, and the other for $500 damage to a dwelling. The verdict of the court of appeals affirmed that of the Fulton superior court overruling a demurrer to the complaint.

"After a city has established a drainage system to carry off water from its streets, the city is under a ministerial duty to exercise ordinary care in maintaining the drains in such a condition that they will not become clogged, and thus cause water to overflow onto adjoining premises, thus damaging property both real and personal," the court said.

The cancellation of a fire insurance policy cannot be effected without notice to the insured and a refund to him of the unearned part of the premium, the court held in another decision. It was in the case of the Union Fire Insurance Company vs. Paris, France and Stone.

The court of appeals reversed the Floyd city court in the case of Hatcher vs. the Georgia Power Company in a decision holding that customers furnishing light to a private consumer are not responsible for injury or damage caused by improper or faulty insulation of appliances.

"Where wiring or other electrical appliances on private premises are owned and controlled by the owner or occupant of the premises, a company which merely furnishes electricity is not responsible for the insulation or condition of the wiring or appliances," it was stated.

Road Expenditures Increase Is Voted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The senate today passed the Elliott bill to increase the federal road aid expenditures from $75,000,000 annually to $125,000,000 for the next three years.

The measure, however, was returned to the house for concurrence in an amendment to increase the limitation of payments which the secretary of agriculture may make to the states to $25,000 a mile, exclusive of the cost of bridges of more than 20 feet clear span.

Buckthorn Bark and Glycerin Stop Cause of Stomach Gas

The simple buckthorn bark, glycerin, saline compound (known as Adlerika), acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and brings out foul matter you never would believe was in your system. This old matter may have poisoned you for months and caused GAS, sour stomach, headache or nervousness.

Try this simple proof: Take any medicine that acts on lower bowel only, as most laxatives do. After bowels have moved take Adlerika and in a short time you will be surprised at how much MORE old matter and GAS is brought out!

Dr. H. L. Shoup, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika reduces bacteria and colon bacilli."

Dr. A. J. Lancaster writes: "In gastro-intestinal diseases (where good bowel action is needed) Adlerika has no equal."

J. E. Puckett says: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

Remarkable QUICK Benefit

Just ONE spoonful Adlerika relieves gas bloating and sour stomach. Many people who have wasted years taking pills or remedies that clean only PART of bowels, are astonished at the QUICK benefit from Adlerika.

Let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing and see how good you feel!

Send That Suit This Morning

A Heavy Date for the Week-End?

NOW is the time for all good men to get ready for the week-end. Don't put on airs about it! No use pretending---we dry cleaners know already that three-fourths of the population of Atlanta are old-fashioned enough to make Sunday their "dress up" day. So if you're bent on looking specially fine this week-end tell it to one of the phone numbers listed below.

You'll be introducing yourself to the kind of dry cleaning that gives a garment new life. We make it clean---clean as the fresh linen on your dinner table. The color is freshened. The cloth has the lustre and feel of newness. It is pressed fine and smooth to "set" right as you wear it and fit becomingly.

If you've never sent us your things, maybe you don't know how fine they can look after months of wear.

If you've never seen the miracles our experts work on wilted garments, perhaps you've never realized what a wonderful force dry cleaning is---for bigger and better week-ends!

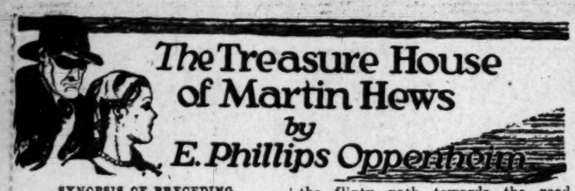
The Economy Center of Atlanta



The Treasure House of Martin Hews

by E. Phillips Oppenheim

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING INSTALLMENTS.

Martins Hews, a legless cripple, lives in a huge, sinister house called Breezeley Mansion. The place is full of mysterious electrical devices, and Martin Hews gets about in an electrically controlled chair.

Major Owston, who tells the story, is a soldier of fortune, who applies for a job as Hew's bodyguard. While the matter is under consideration, Beatrice Essiter, Hews' niece, appears, and secretly offers Owston 20 pounds if he will leave the house and never return. He rejects the offer.

A London gang leader, Jim Donkin, arrives at the house with a girl named Rachel. He has killed a man in a fight with a gang employed by Hews' chief enemy, a master criminal, known as Joseph. Under Hews' direction, Major Owston spirits Donkin away aboard a fast launch headed for sea. Rachel is left under Hews' protection.

The evening of Donkin's escape, Major Owston is definitely hired to guard Hews. He gets instructions from the cripple's personal attendant, Minchin. Then, as he takes a walk in the dreary waste land in front of the house, a strange figure approaches through the darkness. It proves to be Miles, the butler. Suddenly a huge light of amazing brilliance sweeps the landscape, blinding both of them. As it is switched off, Miles is trembling violently.

"I will take it for granted," he said, "that you are not on speaking terms with your tailor, and I will telephone to mine. You must have some clothes. Most other things we can provide you with. For the present, you will sleep here. Before the week is over, I shall probably have other work for you in the West End. That must wait, however, until you have your clothes, and until your rooms are engaged."

A bell rang softly. The white light flashed out, the door opened. My employer's expression became almost benevolent.

"Come in, Minchin," he invited—"come in."

A man entered and approached the table respectfully. He was dressed in sober black, and there were many points about him that seemed to indicate the well-trained gentleman's servant. He was a person of curiously nondescript appearance, with small features, bald head, and slanting eyes set rather wide apart.

"Minchin," his master announced, "this gentleman, Major Owston, has accepted a post of responsibility in the household. He will sleep here tonight. You will give him the laurel suite on the ground floor. He will need a great many articles for his toilet, most of which you will doubtless be able to provide."

"Certainly, sir."

"In five minutes," Martin Hews concluded, "return and show Major Owston to his rooms."

The man departed. My new employer turned towards me, and the indifferent note left his tone. His expression had become almost ferocious. I was as nearly afraid of him as I have ever been of any man in my life.

"Owston," he said, "from now on, until we part, you are my man. Don't question my orders. Often I am against the law. I alone plan; you obey. You may refuse to carry out my instructions and quit my services, but if a breath of my doings reaches the outside world or a confidence of mine is betrayed, you pay—you pay to a very ugly limit. It that understood?"

"Perfectly," I assured him. "I have my own principles left, such as they are, and nothing will make me swerve from them, but the world has treated me badly, and I am not squeamish."

With that, he touched a button under his desk, and Minchin reappeared.

The apartments to which he conducted me were a revelation in comfort and luxury. There was a pleasantly furnished sitting room, with a bedroom and large bath room communicating, all on the ground floor, and the windows of all three were protected by iron bars.

"Mr. Hews thought, sir," Minchin confided, "that you had better become acquainted with the constitution of the household. In addition to the ordinary domestic staff we have five footmen in the house and three electricians. The house, as you may have noticed, is full of electric devices. Even the master's carriage runs up or down stairs in grooves connected with an electric dynamo. Then there is a complete set of burglar alarms indoors and out, and the secret doors are all worked in the same manner. We have a huge searchlight in the tower, and some other smaller contrivances that Mr. Hews will probably tell you about himself. The master wishes you to keep for the present the automatic you have, and there are other weapons and ammunition in the cupboard."

"Who actually lives in the house beside the servants?" I asked.

"Miss Essiter, Mr. Hews, and yourself, sir."

"Why, there must be 40 empty rooms!" I exclaimed.

"There are a great many," he admitted. "Still, there are visitors—foreign chiefly—coming and going all the time, and the whole of the north wing has been converted into a museum for pictures and such like. The master often spends several hours a day locked in there. . . . At what time will you take your dinner, sir?"

"At any time that is convenient," I told him, trying, by adopting a casual tone about the matter, to conceal the fact that I had had no luncheon.

"It will be served about 8 o'clock then, sir," he announced, and took his leave.

Presently the room became a little close, and I took advantage of a cleverly concealed door, and, finding the fastening with some difficulty, opened it and stepped out into the night. A slight drizzling rain was falling, which cooled my cheeks, as I strolled down the flinty path towards the road. There was scarcely a sound to be heard except the melancholy hooting of steamers crawling up the river, and prospect all around was as dreary as ever. Suddenly I was aware that my solitude was about to be disturbed. A motor car or taxicab had stopped in the road some two hundred yards away, and a man was proceeding on foot towards me.

Although it was a dark night, the vehicle had approached without lights and the footsteps that every moment I could hear more distinctly seemed to be those of a man seeking as far as possible to avoid attention. Even when he came in sight—a large, bulky figure, wearing a bowler hat and a long mackintoch—his progress was furtive, and at his first glimpse of the light of my cigaret he appeared to hesitate. In a moment or two, however, he came on, and paused as he reached my side. I recognized him at once. It was Miles, the butler, who had admitted me.

"Good evening," I greeted him. "You have had a wet walk, I am afraid."

He lifted his hat with an effort at politeness.

"A miserable walk, sir," he confided.

My immediate reply was interrupted in a singular fashion. I suddenly felt blinded, bathed in a great sheet of light. I shielded my eyes with my hand and swung around. A brilliant shaft of electric illumination from the further tower had caught us both, played on us for a moment, and traveled over the mud-soaked wilderness to the road beyond. The water in the dykes glistened, the wizened trees stood out one by one. About halfway to the station, the vehicle in which Miles had arrived was clearly visible, being driven very slowly, and still without lights. Then, as suddenly as it had appeared, the searchlight was shut off, and the darkness around us seemed more intense than ever. I realized to my surprise that the man by my side was trembling violently.

"Bless my soul, sir, what was that?" he gasped.

"A searchlight," I explained. "Minchin told me they had one in the tower."

"Curse their spying ways!" he exclaimed, with an abrupt vehemence that astonished me. "As though a man couldn't take a little jaunt to see a friend without their wanting to know all about it! It's a strange household, sir."

He lifted his hat and hurried back towards the house. Presently I followed his example and returned to my room. Here I found a surprise in store for me. Seated in the easy chair that I had drawn up to the fire was the young lady who had traveled down with Donkin from London that afternoon. She was still wearing the dark red gown and tam-o'shanter in which she had arrived. Her feet were upon the high fender, and she was smoking a cigaret from the opened box that I had left. She started at my unexpected appearance.

"Heavens, how you scared me!" she exlaimed. "Is this house all secret doors and passages? Don't anyone walk about like a Christian being?"

"I believe they generally do," I assured her. "I haven't seen much of the place myself yet. Making yourself comfortable, I hope?"

She turned her head and looked at me for a moment through her dark, velvety eyes.

"Oh, I'm o. k., thanks," she remarked, sinking a little lower in the chair. "Gives me the creeps, this place does, though. Tell me about Jim. You got him off all right?"

"With about five minutes to spare," I answered, drawing up another and smaller chair to the other side of the hearthrug. "Mr. Joseph himself, I believe it was, arrived with a small band of desperadoes before the motorboat was out of sight."

She looked thoughtfully into the fire, and I found myself studying her. Her frock was daring, but in its way well-fashioned. It disclosed the lines of her exquisite little figure with purposeful artistry. Her dark, glossy eyebrows were gathered together in a little frown, and her brilliantly colored lips were distinctly pouting.

"Why can't they leave me alone, that's what I want to know?" she asked. "I expect you're wondering why any two men should go kind of wild about me."

She showed her beautiful white teeth as she smiled, and her soft, dark eyes coquetted for mine. She was the London type, without a doubt, the child of the East End streets, but she had her charm.

"You're good-looking enough to turn anyone's head," I assured her, "but you must remember that I'm a great deal older; besides, I'm rather a dull person."

"You ain't going to put on airs with me all the time, I hope?" she said. Then she stood upon tiptoe, smacked my cheek lightly with her hand, and darted away with a little mocking laugh. For a moment I lingered there. I must confess, half angry. Then I forgot all about it. From somewhere in the upper regions of the house came the most appalling shriek of terror I had ever heard in my life.

I never doubted but that this was was a job for me in my new capacity as protector of the household, and I sprinted off down the corridor towards the hall, meaning to ascend at once to my employer's room. I had scarcely gone half a dozen paces, however, before Miss Essiter appeared around the corner, coming toward me.—There was no sign of alarm in her face. She was calm indeed and unruffled.

"Didn't you hear that cry?" I exclaimed. "There is something wrong in your uncle's room."

"There's nothing wrong that need concern you Major Owston," she assured me coldly. "When you are wanted you will be summoned."

Extemporaneous Speeches Attracting Interest

Reports From All Over State Indicate Keen Interest Among High School Students.

Reports from every congressional district in the state show keen interest among high school pupils in the national oratorical contest on the constitution, which is again being sponsored in Georgia this year by The Constitution.

Especial interest has been aroused in the plan adopted for this year's contest under which each contestant will be called on for an extemporaneous speech in addition to his or her set speech.

At the zone and national finals, each contestant, at the conclusion of his 6-minute set speech, will be handed a slip of paper containing the topic which he is to discuss extemporaneously for not more than 4 minutes, as soon as the other set speeches have been delivered. This means that if there are seven speakers on the program, each speaker will have about 45 minutes or an hour in which to collect his thoughts before speaking on the ex-tempore topic. This arrangement will work a slight hardship on the last and next to last speakers. That will be more than offset, however, by the advantage of speaking last or next to last in both the prepared and ex-tempore portions of the program.

The judges will take into consideration the performance of the contestant, both on the prepared and on the ex-tempore topic and will be asked to attach equal importance to each.

Each speaker will be allowed to leave the platform at the conclusion of his prepared speech, to consider his extemporaneous topic, returning to the platform in time to give that speech.

During that period of retirement and thought, the contestant must not consult persons or books. In making his extemporaneous speech, the speaker must not use or have before him either notes or reference books.

Contestants will be expected to use practically the entire 4 minutes. The judges will be so advised but will not be restricted further in that regard.

The topics for the extemporaneous speeches will deal in each case with some additional and more particularized phase of the prepared speech. The topics will be announced by the national management for each zone and national finalist, and will differ for each speaker and each occasion.

In selecting topics, the national management will have this object in view: To test the breadth and genuineness of the speaker's understanding of the subject of his prepared speech, by compelling a development of new or untouched phases thereof.

A speaker using a platitudinous prepared speech will be given a topic rigorously particularizing on the basis of his generalities.

In case a contestant uses his entire 4 minutes a whistle will be blown, whereupon he must stop instantly or be disqualified.

Legion Honors Her

Miss Monia Michael, of Athens, Ga., "The Poppy Lady," has been awarded the distinguished service medal of the American Legion for her part in originating the Memorial Day poppy program. The medal which will be conferred at the annual convention in October has been awarded only three other persons and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge is the only other American woman so honored. Miss Michael is shown here cutting popies from her garden in Athens. Seed from the garden came from cemeteries of Flanders Fields.

ITCH

(Parasitic Scabies)

Diagnosis: Now prevalent. Attacks skin between fingers, also toes, arm pit, elbow, groin and thigh. Intolerable itching compels scratching, which only spreads infestation.

Treatment: Apply Sulfex Skin Lotion as directed on label. Sulfex quickly destroys the adult parasites and eggs. Stops itching. Money back if you are not perfectly delighted. Price 50c at drug stores, or by mail, postpaid. Sulfex Laboratories, Box 60, Desk B, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

Sellers of Bay Rum Are Given Freedom

T. S. Najjar and Miss Marian Robinson Wednesday were acquitted by a jury in Judge Jesse M. Wood's criminal court of Atlanta following trial on a charge of selling bay rum for beverage purposes. Attorneys Luke S. Arnold and James L. Key, representing the defense, contended that the defendants did not know that the liquid was being used as a beverage, and that bay rum is a toilet article prepared under a specific formula approved by the federal government.

The state, through Solicitor John S. McClelland, tried to show that the defendants bought unusually large quantities of bay rum, and produced witnesses who testified to seeing men drink it on the premises. After brief deliberation, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Motorcade Planned To Masonic Home

Preliminary plans for a motorcade of Atlanta Masons to the Masonic home in Macon, Ga., were discussed at the weekly meeting of the Masonic club at the Piedmont hotel here Wednesday afternoon. Decision to make the trip on the third Wednesday in February was unanmiously approved.

An address by A. G. Miller, past grand master of the Georgia lodge, was the principal event of the program and it was after his plea for even better support of the Macon institution, that the motion was passed to have the Atlanta Masons visit it themselves.

Beauty Salon Moves To Peachtree Arcade

Beaute Bob salon, 30-32 Peachtree Arcade, will open today. The salon formerly was located at Jacobs main store. The same staff which was in charge at the Jacobs location will be located in the new establishment. The new shop is equipped with all modern appliances for complete beauty salon service, said to be one of the most up-to-date in the south.

Forrest Adair, Sr., Still Improving

Forrest Adair, Sr., was reported to be improving at Piedmont hospital Wednesday night, after being confined there for a week from an attack of paralysis. During the day he rallied and regained complete consciousness, but later Wednesday lapsed into his former condition. However, attaches were of the opinion that his condition showed a decided improvement.

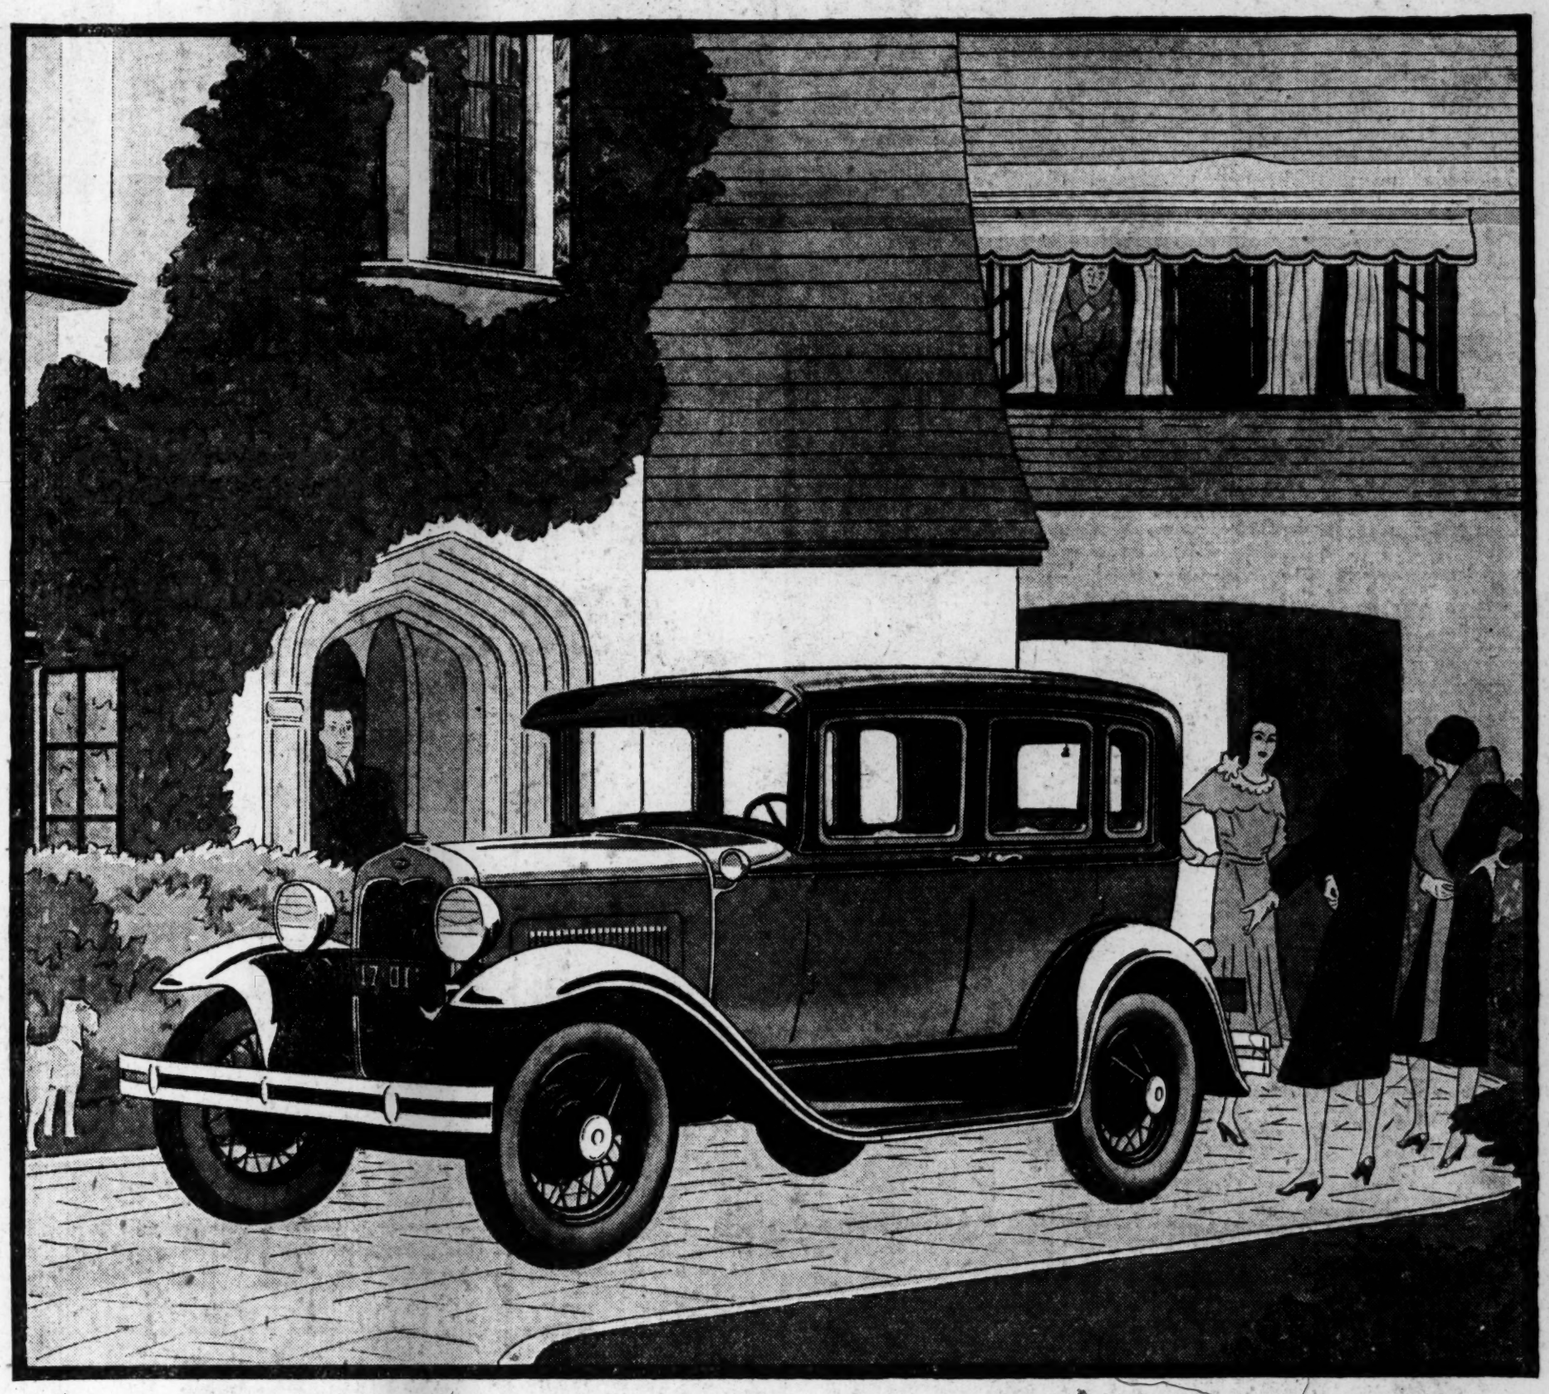
New Beauty for the New Ford



THE NEW FORD TOWN SEDAN

In the Town Sedan you see a distinguished example of the unbroken sweep of line which adds so much charm and grace to all the new, roomy Ford bodies. Radiator, hood, cowl, lower roof line, fenders, wheels—every point of design reflects the new style and beauty that have been placed within the means of every one. All of the new Ford cars are finished in a variety of colors.

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

THE introduction of the new Ford bodies has set a new high standard of motor car value. From the new deep radiator to the tip of the curving rear fender, there is an unbroken sweep of line—a flowing grace of contour gaining added charm from the rich and attractive colors.

You will take a real pride in the smart style and fresh new beauty of the Ford just as you will find an ever-growing satisfaction in its safety, comfort, speed, acceleration, ease of control, reliability and economy. In appearance, as in mechanical construction, craftsmanship has been put into mass production. New beauty has been added to outstanding performance.

A feature of unusual interest is the use of Rustless Steel for the radiator shell, head lamps, cowl finish strip, hub caps, tail lamp and other exposed metal parts. This steel will not rust, corrode, or tarnish and will retain its bright brilliance for the life of the car. Here, as in so many other important details, you see evidence of the enduring quality that has been built into the new Ford.

UNIVERSAL CREDIT COMPANY PLAN OF TIME PAYMENTS OFFERS YOU ANOTHER FORD ECONOMY

YOU CAN'T DRIVE YOUR CAR MUCH LONGER ON A 1929 LICENSE PLATE!

Nor will your drive for increased sales in 1930 be successful, if you depend on 1929 methods! Unquestionably this year will be one with plenty of business, but only for those firms that go out after it--aggressively, intelligently.

Intelligent advertising will help--greatly. But intelligent advertising embraces far more than the preparation of good "copy," attractive artwork. It contemplates the use of the right medium, the medium that is most economical, effective, thorough.

"1930 ADVERTISERS" ARE TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE "14,000 BONUS" OFFERED BY THE DAILY CONSTITUTION

Your advertisement, placed in the columns of the daily Constitution, reaches 14,000 more homes than if you placed it in the second ranking Atlanta paper. It will reach a larger reader-audience than would be possible through any other daily in the entire Southeast!

Homes that take The Atlanta Constitution are homes that possess real buying power! Advertisers, recognizing this fact, enabled The Constitution last year to record an advertising lineage gain of 11.4 per cent, against a gain of only 4.5 per cent for the second paper and a loss of 13.08 per cent for the third Atlanta paper.

'Kiddie Revue' To Be Presented By Decatur Woman's Club Feb. 1

Miss Dorothy Dyrenforth will take the part of Jill, the bride, and Kenneth Treadaway will be cast as Jack, the groom, in the "Kiddie Revue" sponsored by Decatur Woman's Club in the junior high school auditorium in Decatur Saturday evening, February 1, at 7:45 o'clock. Fifty attractive children will take part and Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, of Atlanta, is directing the play, while Mrs. Roy Jones is president of Decatur Woman's Club. Tickets will be on sale at the door, the admission being 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for children.

A musical program opens the show, followed by the "Wedding of Jack and Jill," old-fashioned costumes to be worn by bride and groom, and the bridal party. A reception follows the second scene, the assemblage of guests being entertained by special numbers featuring Miss Martha Verdi and the bride's attendants, in "Tiptoe Through the Tulips." Miss Betty Verdi will sing "I Love You Truly," these talented children being daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Verdi. Mrs. R. D. Hobby, pianist, and Miss Mary Leffingwell, violinist, will render the music. The chairmen are Mrs. R. C. Henderson, Mrs. Sam Fromshon and Mrs. Walter McDaniel.

Memorial Garden Is Planned By the Cherokee Garden Club

Honoring the memory of the late Mrs. Eugene Black, Jr., beloved young Atlanta woman, the Cherokee Garden Club, of which she was a charter member, will plant a rose garden at the Henrietta Egleston Hospital for Children, according to recently formulated plans of the club, of which Mrs. Charles Orme is president. Mrs. Black, through her pleasing personality and love of flowers, had become endeared to every member of the club which held one of its first meetings at her home. The garden promises to be one of the beauty spots of the hospital.

During the past year the club has planted all of the shrubbery at the Henrietta Egleston hospital and has been responsible for many of the beautiful flower beds which surround the building. Several hundred hyacinth bulbs, which have been recently donated by a friend of the organization, will be planted around the building. The grounds of the hospital were laid off by a landscape gardener chosen by the club.

The club, which was organized March 10, 1928, with a view to beautifying not only individual gardens but assisting in worthwhile city garden movements, has grown and expanded its field of activities during the past year and functioned to the mutual advantage of members and the community. Outstanding speakers have addressed the club since its organization, among these being Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun, president of the Garden Clubs of Georgia; Mrs. John Royal, of Decatur; Mrs. Thomas Erwin, whose interest in gardening has been an impetus to many worth-while projects, and Mrs. Bruce Hall, of Decatur.

Officers of the club are: Mesdames Charles Orme, president; Eugene McNeil, first vice president; G. A. Nicolson, second vice president; Robert Foreman, Jr., corresponding secretary; Glenn Ryman, recording secretary, and Floyd McRae, treasurer. Chairmen of the various committees are: Mesdames Charles Freeman, chairman of publicity; W. S. Manry, plant and seed exchange; Philip Lengel, program; Clark Howell, Jr., conservation; Arthur Clarke, garden hints and question box; L. F. Montgomery, flower show; Charles Ranson, charity.

Beaux Arts Group Of High Museum Names Hostess

Mrs. Thomas K. Glenn will act as hostess at the tea at which the Beaux Arts group of the High Museum of Art, of which Mrs. Henry B. Scott is chairman, will entertain from 4 to 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the members' room of the museum, 1262 Peachtree street, honoring members of the Atlanta Art Association. The tea will be coincident with a preview of one of the outstanding exhibits which is soon to be placed on view at the museum.

The Beaux Arts group was organized with a view to stimulating interest in the activities of the institution, Sunday January 12, prior to the reception honoring A. Henry Nordhausen, of New York city, whose exhibit is on view in the auditorium gallery of the museum. The group has been instrumental in decorating and equipping the members' room, which is proving a popular rendezvous for members of the Atlanta association who gather here before and after reviewing the exhibits on view or for an informal cup of tea.

MILK is digested easily and completely

Scientists find that 97% of Milk builds bone . . muscle . . blood . . nerves and vital organs
HOW easily children's little stomachs do their important daily work on pure milk! No wonder it is called the "most nearly perfect food"!
According to experiments made by noted nutrition experts, from 97% to 98% of the elements contained in milk are completely digested and absorbed in the body! Only the smallest fraction, 3%, of this, Nature's most wonderful food, is waste. The rest builds strong bones, firm muscles, rich blood, sound nerves and boundless energy.
Safe, delicious-tasting Foremost milk is rich in all body-building elements—proteins, carbohydrates, minerals, vitamins. It helps to digest other foods. It digests quicker than meat, eggs, fish or bread. And it nourishes the body better than other, more expensive and less digestible foods.
The quality of Foremost is as high as only fine herds and pastures, and the most modern dairying methods can make milk. Sanitary dairies, sterilized utensils and bottles, immaculate attendants—all these help to make its purity absolutely safe. Then, doubly to safeguard your little one's health, Foremost is also pasteurized.

DELTA TAU DELTA ANNOUNCES THE ARTISTS' BALL

February 14 Is Date Set For Bohemian Affair

The interest of the college set centers in the announcement of the annual artists' ball to be given Friday evening, February 14, in the ballroom of the Shrine mosque by the Delta Tau Delta fraternity in honor of the visiting delegates to the southern division conference. The original artists' ball was conceived shortly after the installation of the Georgia Tech chapter, 12 years ago, and is always an outstanding event of the college set social calendar. This year the artists' ball brings to a brilliant culmination the southern division conference of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, which assembles representatives from 18 chapters in the south. Norman MacLeod, president of the Arch chapter, will come from New York to attend the meetings, and Thomas I. Miller, retiring president of the southern division, will preside over all sessions. The Delta loving cup will be awarded for the most attractive costume. An ensemble ballet will provide entertainment during the intermission.

Chaperons for the occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Zahner, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Aldermann, Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Neely, E. C. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Theatrical interest in Atlanta centers in the production of "Aren't We All" by the Little Theater of the Studio Club, Friday evening, January 31, and Saturday evening, February 1, in the clubrooms at 104 1-2 Forsyth street. The play has been in rehearsal for several months under the direction of Janet Millis Shepherd.

Woodmen Circle Holds Meeting.

Maple Grove, No. 86, Woodmen circle, will hold a public meeting at 8 o'clock Thursday, January 30, in the hall at the Red Men's wigwam on Central avenue. The program will be in charge of Miss Margaret Hanson. All groves are invited and a special invitation is extended to the Woodmen of the World. This is one of a series of meetings that will occur once a month with various forms of entertainment for the public. It is expected that the state manager and national director, Mrs. Clara B. Cassidy, will be present. In view of the illness of the state president, Mrs. Emma Brooks will not be present.

Mrs. John Hanna Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. John M. Hanna, of Dallas, Texas, national president of the Y. W. C. A., the guest of Mrs. Samuel Francis Boykin, is being cordially welcomed by the Atlanta organization. Mrs. Archibald Davis was hostess yesterday at a luncheon at her home on Peachtree road in compliment to Mrs. Hanna. Mrs. Boykin was hostess Wednesday afternoon at a tea at her home on West Andrews drive in honor of her guest. Mrs. Boykin was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Guy Woolford, president of the local Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. Fred Patterson, Mrs. R. M. Crumley, Mrs. Emmett Quinn, Mrs. James E. Carlton, Mrs. Lee Ashcraft and Mrs. E. M. Underwood.

Mrs. N. C. Kissell Honors Daughter.

The guests included Virginia Ann Rumbley, Isabell Nassenplug, Cecelia Clark, Bessie Helen Ross, Veda Barnwell, Virginia Parks, Dorothy Parks, Margaret Christie, James Bowman and Harrold Ballenger. They all played rook and other games, high prize being won by James Bowman and the booby prize by Bessie Helen Ross. Miss Ann Kissell assisted her mother in serving.

All-Day Prayer Held Today.

An all-day prayer service will be held by the women of the Gordon Street Presbyterian church today at the church. "The Church in China," the foreign mission study book, presented by Mrs. W. A. Ozmer, secretary of foreign missions of the Atlanta Presbyterian will be an interesting feature of the program. The service will begin at 10:30, with lunch at 1 o'clock.

Miss Grady Lane Honors Club.

Miss Grady Lane entertained the Weowna Bridge Club at her home on Parkway drive yesterday. The next meeting will be with Miss Vivian Holcombe at her home on Bryan street in February.

Former Atlantan Visits Here

Mrs. William Russell Huntley, of Buffalo, N. Y., who with Mr. Huntley, are numbered among Atlanta's most important mid-winter visitors. Mrs. Huntley was formerly Miss Janie Speer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Speer, of this city, and her annual visits to her former home are always the inspiration for innumerable social gaieties. Mr. and Mrs. Huntley, who are guests at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel, leave Saturday for Miami and Palm Beach, Fla., where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

Motion Picture Tea To Be Given Friday Afternoon at Woman's Club

The official tea at the Atlanta Woman's Club Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock will be featured by an unusual and spectacular program which will be in charge of Mrs. Newton C. Wing, chairman of the division of motion pictures. Miss Ethel Parker, attractive Atlanta girl, now starring at the Georgia theater, will be honor guest and together with her dancing partner, Fred Babb, and their Philippine sextet, will put on an act. A. C. Cowles, who is in charge of the bookings for the Publix theaters, will be an honor guest and will speak on "What Constitutes Boxoffice Appears." In the absence of Mrs. John R. Hornady, Mrs. Irving S. Thomas will make the opening address and introduce Mrs. Wing, who in turn will present the speaker.

Special guests will include the following well known men who are connected with the picture show industry, together with their wives: R. T. Newton, divisional manager of the Fox theater; Carter Barron, manager of the Capitol; Monty Seamon, manager of the Georgia; Robert Hix, manager of the Paramount; Sig Samuels, manager of the Metropolitan; Evelyn Harris, director of advertising for the Southern Bell Company; Dr. Witherspoon Dodge, pastor of the Central Congregational church, will also be a special guest. This will be one of the most brilliant teas of the whole regime and all club members, together with their friends and families, are invited to make reservations and come. A special invitation is being extended by Mrs. Wing to the members of the Better Films committee, of which she is president, to be present on this occasion. A number of private parties have been arranged and others who desire to entertain two or three of their friends are invited to take advantage of this unusual program. Tables may be secured for bridge parties previous to the tea without further expense to the hostess. Those so entertaining are to provide their own cards and pads.

Besides the committee on motion pictures, Mrs. Wing will be assisted by Mrs. Irving S. Thomas, Mrs. M. L. Thrower, Mrs. J. P. Billups, Mrs. W. P. Lunn, Mrs. Odis Poundstone, Mrs. Arthur H. Hazzard, Mrs. Harry G. Poole and Miss Mary Cayce. Reservations should be made by noon on Thursday by calling Mrs. T. E. Simmons, hostess of the club, over phone Hemlock 4636.

Senior Hadassah Holds Meeting.

The meeting and membership tea of the Atlanta Senior Chapter of Hadassah was held Monday at the Jewish Progressive Club. Mrs. J. J. Hellman, delegate to the recent regional conference in Chattanooga, read her report. Mrs. Hellman was elected president of the southern region at the convention. Miss Eleanor Raoul was the speaker of the afternoon and left a message on the "Value of Organization in Modern Times."

Valdosta U. D. C. Honors Veterans.

The Valdosta Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy observed Robert E. Lee's birthday with a program dinner for the veterans and the wives of veterans at the Woman's building recently.

The dinner was served by Mrs. J. C. Hunt and her committee. Mrs. A. E. Stokes led the program, which included a reading and war-time music by Mrs. A. H. Denmark.

Mrs. F. L. Pratt Continues To Be Honored at Parties

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gordon Roper were hosts last evening at a dinner party at their home on Habersham road in honor of Mrs. Frederick L. Pratt, of Buffalo, N. Y., who is the feted guest of Mrs. John M. Slaton. Covers were placed for Mrs. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Roper, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Shallenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Cowles, former Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton and Franklin L. Mikell.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Inman will honor Mrs. Pratt at dinner this evening at their home on Andrews drive. Mrs. Robert C. Alston will be hostess at a small luncheon party Friday in compliment to Mrs. Pratt.

Enthusiastic Rehearsals Are Begun For Junior League Follies

Under the able direction of Wallace Milam, noted professional stage director of New York, rehearsals have begun with much enthusiasm for the elaborate production of the Follies of 1930 to be staged by the Atlanta Junior League at the Erlanger theater beginning February 24. The rehearsals for the young ladies in the cast are held in the Pompeian room of the Atlanta Biltmore every morning from 10 until 12 o'clock, and every afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock. The young men taking part in the production rehearse Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Piedmont Driving Club from 7 until 8:30 o'clock.

Cast Is Trained.

Mr. Milam is training the members in the cast in the most systematic and professional manner, and they are being drilled in the same way as dancers in the largest professional theatrical productions. At the beginning of the rehearsals Mr. Milam directs the cast members in the most strenuous forms of exercises, including limbering and stretching, which gets them into condition to participate in the dancing. Following the physical exercises a form of ballet training takes place, the girls and boys being formed into groups, and taught how to keep in step and dance in unison. Then they are instructed in the fundamental principles of tap dancing and steps used in musical comedy dancing.

It is most interesting to watch the attractive group of debs, sub-debs and young matrons, who are arrayed in the most stunning green romper costumes, go into the steps in the manner of trained chorines. Small groups of girls gather in separate corners and practice while the others are going through their steps with Mr. Milam.

Various Committees.

Mrs. Walter H. Wellborn, Jr., is the general chairman for the Fallies, Mrs. Grady Black is chairman of talent, and Mrs. Robert White, Jr., is chairman of the fashion show which will be a feature of the presentations. Other chairmen for the production include Miss Palmer Dallis, program; Mrs. George Street, finance; Mrs. Robin Adair, night club hostess; Mrs. DeSales Harrison, publicity; Mrs. J. C. Harris, photographs; Mrs. Charles Black, Jr., tickets.

The funds netted from the Follies will be applied to the children's ward maintained by the Atlanta Junior League in the Henrietta Egleston Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Bickelhaupt Is Luncheon Hostess.

Keep Free from FAT in excess; it's easy now

Modern science has found that excess fat is largely due to an under-active gland. Starve as you will, exercise as you will, you are bound to fail unless you correct the cause.

That gland largely controls nutrition. When it is weak, too much food goes to fat, too little to fuel and energy. So modern physicians, in treating obesity, supply the gland substance which is scant.

That is the method employed in Marmola prescription tablets, prepared by a famous medical laboratory. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Anybody, in any circle, can see what a change has come. Excess fat is disappearing fast. New youth and beauty, new health and vitality, are conspicuous everywhere.

If you are abnormal in your weight, a certain gland is abnormal. Try Marmola. Feed the factor lacking. Watch the pounds go, the new vitality return. You will be amazed and delighted. But the formula in each box of Marmola will tell you the reason. To people who know, there is no excuse today for obesity. Start to remedy that ill condition now.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

Man Says He Took Black-Draught After Each Meal and Soon Got Relief.

North Charlotte, N. C.—In telling how he was benefited by Thedford's Black-Draught, Mr. John M. Creps, of 902 Charles Avenue, this city, writes:

"I had three spells of indigestion, one after another. I suffered a lot of pain. My back ached and I had pains in my stomach frequently. It felt like my breath was cut off in my chest.

"I was bothered this way for about a year. A friend whom I told about my condition asked me to try Black-Draught.

"I began by taking a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal, and found that I soon got relief.

"I have been taking Black-Draught for fourteen years, and I find that it prevents headache and constipation. We keep it in the house all the time. I have told a lot of people about it, and gladly recommend it to others."

Many people have written that they found relief from pains after eating by taking Black-Draught in the manner described by this North Carolina man.

Costs only 1 cent a dose.

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT For Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.—(adv.)

"What a difference," says GEORGIA mother

"MY little daughter, Agnes, suffered from constipation until she was very weak and pale," says Mrs. L. M. Overton, 230 Milton Ave., S. E., Atlanta. "She got so we had to force her to eat, and nothing agreed with her.

"What a difference there is since we've been giving her California Fig Syrup. She began to pick up with the first dose. Now she's well, strong and happy, with a splendid appetite and wonderful color."

When bad breath, coated tongue or fretfulness warn of constipation, don't wait. Give your child a little California Fig Syrup. A child loves it. Headaches, feverishness, biliousness vanish with its use. Weak stomach and bowels are strengthened. Appetite improves. Digestion and assimilation are assisted. Weak children are strengthened.

To identify the genuine, endorsed by physicians for 50 years, look for the word California on the carton.

FARM CO-OPERATION URGED BY CAMPBELL

Diversification of Crops Asked by Agricultural Head at Tifton.

TIFTON, Ga., Jan. 29.—(AP)—J. Phil Campbell, director of extension work for the United States department of agriculture and the Georgia State College of Agriculture, told farmers assembled here today that the agricultural outlook for Georgia is based on faith, hope and charity, and urged balanced diversification of crops this year.

Mr. Campbell, the first speaker of the south Georgia farmers' conference, said the farmer expressed faith in God for a favorable season when he planted his crop. After cultivation, he said, the farmer hopes diseases, pests, storms and floods will pass him by, and after the harvest exhibits charity in turning his product over to dealers to feed and clothe the world.

The speaker repeated government warnings against overproduction of cotton, tobacco, peanuts, dairy products and poultry. He said the outlook was good for hogs, and advised planting a peanut crop large enough for hogs to harvest.

Mr. Campbell said the federal farm board was the greatest move for the farmer's benefit and one from which worth-while accomplishments may be expected provided farmers co-operate with the board and help it do for them what they have never done for themselves.

The conference is being held under auspices of the Georgia State College and the Georgia Coastal Plain Experiment station. It will continue for three days.

Live stock is the topic scheduled for discussion tomorrow, and the co-operative marketing program Friday. Approximately 100 farmers attended the first session.

Georgia Fairs Body To Hear Farm Head

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 29. (AP)—C. B. McCullar, president of the Association of Georgia fairs, announced here today that Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, has accepted an invitation to address the eighteenth annual convention of the association here February 12.

Mr. McCullar said the meeting had been scheduled for February 6-7, but was postponed today until February 12-13 in order to secure the attendance of Chairman Legge. The invitation was extended upon behalf of the association by Congressman W. W. Larsen, of the twelfth Georgia district. Congressman Larsen has accepted an invitation to introduce Chairman Legge at the meeting. Fair secretaries, county farm agents, and other agricultural leaders from southeastern states are expected at the convention, Mr. McCullar said.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Story of the World War —The Defense of Verdun.

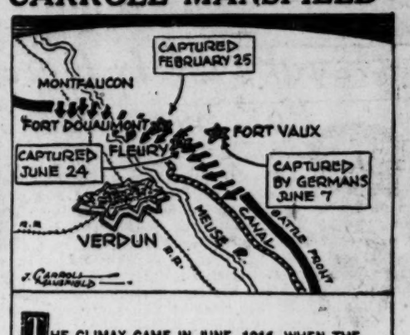
by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

ALL THROUGH THE SPRING OF 1916 THE GERMANS HAMMERED AT VERDUN, MAKING LITTLE HEADWAY AGAINST THE FRENCH, WHILE THEIR OWN CASUALTIES INCREASED ENORMOUSLY. VON FALKENHAYN, CHIEF OF THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND, SOON SAW THAT THE OFFENSIVE AGAINST VERDUN WAS A MISTAKE. BUT, FEARING THAT TO ABANDON THE CAMPAIGN WOULD RESULT IN A LOSS OF PRESTIGE, HE CONTINUED HIS ASSAULTS.

VERDUN BECAME THE SYMBOL OF FRANCE'S RESISTANCE. FRANCE "BLED WHITE" IN ITS DEFENSE. NEARLY EVERY REGIMENT IN THE FRENCH ARMY TOOK ITS TURN AT VERDUN, AND THE YOUTH OF FRANCE DIED IN ITS BLOOD-DRENCHED TRENCHES BY TENS OF THOUSANDS.

BEFORE THE ENEMY'S ONSLAUGHTS THE FRENCH LINE BENT BACKWARD, BUT DID NOT BREAK. IN APRIL, PETAIN, THE DEFENDER OF VERDUN, WAS PROMOTED TO COMMAND THE ARMIES OF THE FRENCH CENTER. TO NIVELLE, WHO SUCCEEDED HIM AT VERDUN, PETAIN PASSED ON THE IMMORTAL WATCHWORD, "THEY SHALL NOT PASS."



THE CLIMAX CAME IN JUNE, 1916, WHEN THE GERMANS CAPTURED FORT VAUX AND FLEURY, BUT WERE REPULSED AT VERDUN'S LAST RAMPART. THEN, IN JULY, THE BRITISH BEGAN THEIR GREAT DRIVE ON THE SOMME, AND THE GERMANS WERE FORCED TO TURN FROM VERDUN TO MEET THIS COUNTER-THRUST.

Wilted vegetables become fresh in the Frigidaire HYDRATOR

This new moist air compartment gives lettuce and celery that "fresh from the garden" taste. See it demonstrated at our showroom... NOW

NOW you can have tender celery that breaks with a snap. You can have lettuce that crackles with crispness. You can have better-flavored vegetables and salads than ever before. For every household Frigidaire is now equipped with the Hydrator.

Simplifies marketing—saves time and trouble

This marvelous new compartment combines cold and moisture in a way that freshens vegetables and keeps them full-flavored until they come to your table. It enables you to buy celery, lettuce, tomatoes and other salad materials in larger quantities. You can make fewer trips to market. And you can have all of these benefits without sacrificing the dry, frosty cold in your other food compartments. For the Hydrator confines the moisture to this one drawer.

Demonstration now going on

Besides the Hydrator, Frigidaire is also equipped with the famous "Cold Control" . . . a simple, patented device that permits Frigidaire's extra power to be used for faster freezing of ice and desserts. And to make Frigidaire still more convenient, still more practical, still more beautiful . . . every household model is now rust-proof Porcelain-on-steel inside and out.

But see all of these features. See for yourself how they save time, work and trouble. By all means see a complete demonstration of the Hydrator. Call at our display room today.

Mrs. Mary Solomon Passes at Waycross

WAYCROSS, Ga., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary Jane Solomon, 65, formerly of Taliaferro, Ga., died in Waycross at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. N. Highsmith.

She was the widow of the late Pete Solomon, of Broxton, and is survived by four daughters, Mrs. J. C. Highsmith, Mrs. J. C. Womble and Mrs. A. N. Highsmith, of Waycross, and Mrs. R. D. Odum, of Jacksonville.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the residence. The Rev. W. W. Wigglesworth, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church, officiated. Interment was in Oakland cemetery.

Gets 60-Day Term On Liquor Charge

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Elbert Oliver, who was rescued yesterday from a precarious position on the Bay street viaduct over the Central of Georgia railway tracks, today was sentenced to 60 days in jail on a charge of being intoxicated.

Judge John E. Schwarz, in police court, imposed the sentence when he learned that Oliver had been before the same court twice previously on a similar charge.

Oliver was saved from probable death by F. A. Von Eberstein, who seized him as he was about to fall from the viaduct to the tracks 30 feet below. Police believe Oliver was attempting suicide.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nixon entertained at dinner last evening at their home on Rumson road, honoring Miss Frances Estelle Robinson and Kelly Hinde.

Sparks College Owners Lose Insurance Suit

MACON, Ga., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A directed verdict in favor of four insurance companies who were defendants in suits involving $55,000 as result of destruction by fire of two buildings on the campus of the Sparks, Ga., college, was ordered here today by Federal Judge Bascom S. Deaver.

The suits had been filed by P. E. Pepper and G. B. Owners, of Tampa, Fla., who had purchased the buildings after the college was discontinued.

The companies, Liverpool, London & Globe Fire Insurnace Company, Phoenix Fire Insurance Company, Hartford Fire Insurance Company, and Glens Falls Fire Insurance Company, attacked the validity of the insurance policies and contended that the evidence did not warrant a judgment for the plaintiffs. Previously they had charged that the fire was the result of a conspiracy.

The directed verdict was made when the plaintiffs had rested.

Columbus Property Values Show Increase

COLUMBUS, Ga., Jan. 29.—(AP)—An increase of $671,161 in property values in Columbus was shown in the report submitted to the city commission yesterday by the local board of tax assessors.

Tax valuations showed an increase of $356,462 in 1930 over 1929, while the gain in non-taxable property was $314,700.

Total valuation of taxable and non-taxable property in the city is $42,744,573.

Bland Named Head Of Lumberman's Club

COLUMBUS, Ga., Jan. 29.—(AP)—D. G. Bland, Lumpkin, Ga., was elected president of the Roofer Manufacturers' Club, a lumberman's organization, at its ninth annual meeting here yesterday.

Other officers elected included: Vice presidents, J. G. Reynolds, Leon Clancey, Albany, Ga.; H. K. Thurston, Thomaston, Ga., and W. R. Melton, Cuthbert, Ga.

The meeting closed last night with a banquet attended by approximately 200 lumbermen from Georgia and Alabama.

The next meeting of the club will be held in Columbus March 11, it was announced.

German Army Captain Visitor at Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ga., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Captain Walter Warlimont, of the German army, who is spending a year in the United States observing American military activities, arrived at Fort Benning last night for a two-day visit at the infantry school. Captain Warlimont is the guest here of Major Talman Smith.

Captain Warlimont will leave tomorrow for Fort Sam Houston, Texas, where he will be attached to the second field artillery brigade.

Man Is Found Dead In Room at Savannah

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Samuel H. French, 84, believed to be from Clayton, Mich., was found dead in his room here today. Death was said to be due to natural causes.

Information obtained by undertakers from papers in his possession and other sources indicated that the aged man was formerly in the hotel business and that his family is well known in Sylvania, Ohio. A nephew, Robert E. French, Jackson, Mich., was said to be secretary-treasurer of the Michigan department of Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War. He was notified of his uncle's death.

CommendRutherford's Work for Veterans

GRIFFIN, Ga., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Quimby Melton, returning today from the sixth district American Legion convention in Macon last night, announced the meeting had voted telegraphic commendations to Congressman Sam Rutherford for his work on behalf of southern veterans.

Railway Meeting.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The passenger committee of the American Railway Accounting Officers' Association began a two-day meeting here today to discuss passenger accounting.

Representatives of the chief railroads of the United States and Canada were in attendance. Chairman R. C. Bromm, of New York city, was presiding.

GREAT CHANCE TO KID HIM.

There are times when lack of a Murad is extremely uncomfortable.

"Aw, naw they didn't," roared a voice that came from the direction of the lake and the depth of a 48-inch chest. "That's my drive from No. 18."

ALL THE AUBURN GOSSIP.

If it is going around, Zipp Newman, of the Birmingham News, will hear it—and print it, too. Here is Zipp's latest grapevine on the Auburn situation with a sidelight from Clemson:

"As long as the head coach's position at Auburn is vacant, there will be rumors. Man can't go without his little rumors. They appear to be as essential as daily iron. The very latest rumors have Tom Lieb holding out for a three-year contract at $12,000 per and Josh Cody willing to take the Auburn assignment in the event Tom Lieb fails to come to terms.

"Auburn authorities have been in correspondence with Tom Lieb for more than three weeks—it is understood that one contract has been sent to Knute Rockne's assistant—but Lieb wants a three-year contract instead of a two-year guarantee that his job will be safe from the wolves—a name applied to the boys who pay little down, but take a lot for granted.

"Tom Lieb would like to have the Auburn assignment. And Auburn would like for Lieb to take the Tigers' fate in his hands. But according to the latest hand-embroidered information there is a year's difference between Lieb and Auburn.

"Should Lieb accept the Auburn offer, he will most likely take two assistant grid coaches with him to the Cornerstone—men who understand the Notre Dame system.

"News that Josh Cody is interested in the Auburn opening may come as a surprise to quite a few. It was generally understood that Josh Cody was the king at Clemson—a happy sovereign who had brought prosperity to his kingdom. Our K-14 unearthed the information that Clemson supporters are well sold on Josh—but other conditions are not as pleasant as they might be.

The old Commodore star has certainly pulled Clemson out of the back wash in football, basketball and baseball. He has made the Clemson Tigers feared throughout the Southern conference. Clemson is no longer regarded as a foe to try out tricks on."

JOSH IS A GREAT BUY.

And it is a cinch that Josh Cody would do well for the Plainsmen.

If Clemson authorities are dumb enough to let the greatest rebuilder of football hopes the section has ever seen get away from them, Auburn would do well to bring Big Josh down there, turn him loose and watch the Plainsmen get back into the football wars.

THE KENTUCKY-CENTRE ACT.

More neighborhood comment: Bill Keefe, in the Times-Picayune, also gets a laugh out of the effort of the Kentucky state legislator, a graduate of Centre college, to punish the university for breaking relations with the Praying Colonels. He says:

"Every now and then, even in our state, a legislator will make himself the laughing stock of the people in general by trying to pass some nonsensical bill which he hopes to see made a law. But that alumnus of Centre college of Kentucky takes the rail from any legislator so far.

"Because University of Kentucky, for good and sufficient reasons, sees fit to drop Centre from its football schedule, this legislator wants to pass a measure prohibiting any college or university football team under state supervision from playing a football game outside the state, or with any team from outside the state.

"In other words Kentucky must play Centre—must play Centre every week during the football season. We have seen men ready to fight to the last gasp for old Siwash, and have admired them for their undying faith and loyalty. But this Kentucky senator is carrying things too far, we believe.

"If Kentucky doesn't want to play Centre, then Centre should do like Sewanee has done with teams that didn't want to play her—gladly get out of the way. And it hardly seems like any state senator's professional business to try and arrange college football schedules."

THREE TOUCHDOWNS TO NONE.

Harry Mehre, Georgia head football coach, in a note to a personal friend here mentions his new son's apparel.

"He is growing so fast we can't keep him in clothes. However, he still can wear the hat I wore in the first half of the New York University game," Harry says.

Now how is one ever to get ahead of a coach like that! Harry will be just a step ahead of fate as long as he keeps that sense of humor. "The breaks" can never get him.

TUNNEY IS BUMPED.

Jack Tunney, the young heavyweight prospect from Birmingham who made such a good impression here on the Stribling-De Mave card, ran into somebody named Jesse Akers in Memphis the other night and lost a 10-round decision.

The news report stated that Akers outboxed Tunney and won on his ring knowledge.

The setback need not discourage the backers of Young Tunney. A youngster just starting out is liable to run into a cagey old-timer any day who can outbox him. Tunney no doubt learned plenty.

IF I HAD A TALKING PICTURE, ETC.

After panicking the audience that Phil Scott was the logical opponent for Jack Sharkey in the semi-final for the world's championship, the New York boxing commission set the crowd roaring with the announcement that Johnny Risko was "too small" to fight Victorio Campolo.

A talking picture of the New York boxing commission could be booked as a short subject at movie palaces everywhere. It would be funnier than any cartoon comedy.

RAIN, SNOW HALT HANDICAP

Two Famous Figures at Dixie Handicap Shoot

SINGLES EVENT SLATED TODAY FOR GUN CLUB

By Roy White.

Rain, snow and sleet Wednesday caused postponement of the class championship, opening event of the annual Dixie handicap shoot at the Atlanta Gun Club traps. It is planned to have the event sandwiched in somewhere in the remaining three days. The Wednesday night program also was postponed.

The Dixie handicap singles championship for amateurs, ladies and professionals' singles, will start today at 9 o'clock and will be followed by a Dixie handicap practice doubles of 25 pairs. There will be 200 singles in the ladies, professionals and amateur singles championships.

About 20 trapshooters drove out to the gun club early Wednesday morning to await developments but much to their disgust they were forced to abandon all ideas of trapshooting and spent the remainder of the day in hotels, shows and dowtown shops.

Visiting trapshooters after Wednesday's idleness, learned that it was the ninth out of the last 10 days of trapshooting here that the weather has been unfavorable. Many newcomers, those who have not shot here in several years, found the going mueh different from former Atlanta visits, but kept up their spirits in the hopes of better weather during the remaining three days.

In the preliminary practice event Tuesday afternoon only a small percentage of the trapshooters worked out. Burt Shotton, the Phillie baseball manager, and Charles A. Young, a veteran of many events, tied for highest honors with 98 out of 100 singles. Both Young and Shotton missed one clay target in the first event and also in the last event.

Mrs. J. C. Wright, Atlanta woman, and former ladies' champion in singles, doubles and handicaps of North America, was among the Tuesday participants and was in the firing squad that had the highest aggregate score. She broke 82 targets, not a bad record for unfavorable conditions.

ABSENT.

Dr. H. N. Alford, president of the Atlanta Gun Club, who with his fellow officers and club members are hosts to the four-day event, was not at the club Wednesday, due to a severe cold. He was in his office and later spent some time chatting in the different hotel rooms with visiting trapshooters.

A check of hotel registers revealed more than 75 of the most prominent trapshooters in the country registered here. M. C. Somers and his wife, from Los Angeles, Cal., arrived Tuesday in time for Mr. Somers to win the doubles practice event with 47. A large number of shooters from Wisconsin, Illinois and Ohio are entered in each of the three-day events.

While impossible to determine the exact figures, it is estimated that between 150,000 and 200,000 rounds of shells will be fired during the remainder of the week. That figure is based on approximately 70 entries for each event, not including the lady shooters.

NOISE.

Starting at 9 o'clock this morning there should be a continual bang, bang, bang on the gun club traps during the remainder of the week. There will be five persons in each squad and there should be seven or eight squads firing all the time.

There will be more than $4,000 in cash prizes together with added money and trophies to winners of the various events. The Wolf and Lamb 100 and the International 100, two of the feature events on the program will attract the expert shooters and a guaranteed cash prize of $500 awaits the winners of each event.

Those two feature events will be fired Friday and several records are likely to be approached or broken, with such an array of trapshooting talent entered.

Special preparations are being made for the night program Friday night, starting at 8 o'clock. All of the flood lights have been installed and when turned on recently, several shooters found the targets very easy to see. "They look twice the ordinary size at night," Dr. Alford said, "and visitors should see some good records."

'Sparrow' Young Shot 27,000 Shells in Year

By Ralph McGill.

Pulling the trigger, or squeezing it, one should say, behind 2,000 shells is about what one busy trapshooter will average during one season.

Imagine how many exclamations escaped startled lips yesterday afternoon when it was discovered that Charlie (Sparrow) Young shot at 27,000 targets in one year, 1905 to be exact.

"Well, he's quite a Sparrow," said Arthur Cuscaden, one of the officials of the shoot and also one of the leading professionals gathered here for the annual Dixie handicap shoot at the Atlanta Gun Club. "He is always good. I saw him at the grand national in 1927 in the 23-yard handicap. He knew there were two men already in with 99 each. He had to break an even 100 to win and he stood there and did just that to set a new record."

Charlie Young, of Springfield, Ohio, sat around the lobby, philosophizing about the weather all the afternoon. "Let it snow," he said, "what do I care. I feel great and I've seen it snow more than this. This is just a little blow. I came through Cumberland Gap last year and there was just 27 feet of snow in there. This is fine."

MODEST.

He was very modest about those 27,000 targets he fired at in 1905. The odds are that he hit 26,000 or more. He is usually up in the money. He was Tuesday, for instance, when he and Burt Shotton, manager of the Phillies, and a newcomer to trapshooting ranks, tied for high gun in a practice shoot with 98 each out of 100.

"I was just shooting a lot in 1905," he said, "and I went to all the matches. I shot something over 27,000 shells that year. I have the records at home."

Shooting that number of shells is really an appalling feat. The average denizen of the city, who ventures out to the traps now and then, comes in with a stiff shoulder well marked with black and blue spots, after shooting at a couple of hundred targets. Blasting more than 27,000 out is something else. The wear and tear on

Motorcycle Club To Meet Tonight

A meeting of the newly organized Motorcycle Club will be held tonight to perfect plans for an amateur motorcycle hill climb Sunday, February 9, at Kennesaw mountain.

Committees to handle the event and to receive entries will be appointed by President Jack Hanie. All motorcycle riders in the city are invited to be present, and if not already members of the club, file membership applications.

GEORGIA BEATS AUBURN, 43-35

AUBURN, Ala., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Displaying a fine offense in the last few minutes of play, the University of Georgia swept to a 43-to-35 victory over the Auburn basketball five here tonight. Sanford, Palmer and Strickland played the leading role in the Georgia Victory totalling 40 of their team's points.

Tilden Defeats Foe at Cannes

CANNES, France, Jan. 29.—(United News.)—William Tilden, No. 1 tennis player of the United States, won from G. De Stefani, Italian net star, in the final match of the Cannes international championships here today by scores of 6-1, 6-4, 6-1.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan, former Californian, now living in England, won the women's singles. She defeated Miss Amelie Valerio, 6-2, 2-6, 6-0.

Williams Claimed By Yankee Club

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Ken Williams, veteran major league outfielder, was claimed today by the New York Yankees on waivers from the Boston Red Sox.

Williams spent nine years with the St. Louis Browns before being sold to the Red Sox after the 1927 season. The 37-year-old veteran cannot be expected to make a place for himself in the Yankee outfield, but probably will be useful as a pinch hitter.

Horse Show Body Will Meet Today

An executive committee meeting of the Atlanta Horse Show Association will be held at 1 o'clock at a dinner at the Atlanta Athletic Club today. Plans for the horse show to be held April 17-19 will be discussed and perfected at the meeting.

Invitations will be mailed to the leading horsemen of the country and the event is expected to be the best in the history of horse shows in Atlanta.

J. P. Five Beats Birmingham, 38-23

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Jewish Progressive Club, of Atlanta, beat the Y. M. H. A. quintet, of Birmingham, 38 to 23, here tonight, showing both a consistent offensive and a dependable defense.

Harry Speilberger, of Atlanta, was the big threat of the game, sinking five field goals and a foul throw for a total of 11 points. Browdy, of Y. M. H. A., and Friedland, of J. P. C., counted as the big shots of their respective teams, were well bottled up, counting but 5 points each.

The visitors ran up a lead of 14 to 2 in the first 10 minutes, but were unable to maintain the pace.

Title Bout.

Several promoters are seeking the match, but Fitzsimmons is believed to have the best chance because he promoted the title winning fight for Fields against Dundee.

PURPLE SINKS CADET FIVE, 40-18

Boys' High continues to lead the city prep basketball league by virtue of its 40 to 18 victory Wednesday afternoon over G. M. A. on the Henry Grady court. Despite its large score the Boys' High passing was decidedly off for the most part and the G. M. A. aim was not up to its standard.

The Purple Hurricane fired away constantly at the baskets and was leading 20 to 8 when time was called for the intermission.

In the first few minutes of the second half, Boys' High continued its rapid firing and piled up a comfortable margin. Coach Dave Johnston then sent in a substitute team, but the scrubs failed to click like the varsity and did no particularly serious damage.

During the intermission Coach Burbage gave his Cadets plenty to think about and they rallied to play a much better game. The Cadet passing was very good all the way but their aim was not so accurate as in former games. Hackney was the leading scorer for G. M. A. with 11 points and shared scoring honors with Gatlin, of Boys' High. A large majority of the points made by Hackney were from follow up shots, for the entire Cadet team followed the ball like hawks.

Red Sox Get Oliver By Waiver Route

BOSTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox management today announced the acquisition, by waiver route, of Thomas H. Oliver, an outfielder, from the Philadelphia Athletics. Oliver played with Little Rock in the Southern league last year and was obtained by the Athletics in the draft. His home is in Montgomery, Ala.

A. A. U. Suspension On Barbuti Lifted

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Ray Barbuti, former Syracuse track star and Olympic 440-meter champion, tonight was reinstated by the National Amateur Athletic Union. Barbuti was barred from further competition in meets sanctioned by the A. A. U. nearly a year ago when he aroused the ire of the organization by stating that certain amateur athletics were paid.

Barbuti made his appearance before the registration committee at the St. Joseph Catholic Club indoor track meet at Newark, N. J., tonight and handed in a written apology for his statements. The apology was addressed to John J. Deignan, chairman of the A. A. U. registration committee.

The Olympic champion was immediately reinstated and given a registration card. Barbuti said he planned to enter indoor competition as soon as he could get into condition.

Atlantan Wins.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 29.—C. T. Dunham, of Atlanta, won his second round match today over Dr. J. J. Barrett, of Syracuse, N. Y., in the annual LaGorce-Bay Shore golf championship. Dunham, in the fourth flight, won 2 and 1.

Strib Refuses $15,000 For Bout At Miami

MACON, Ga., Jan. 29.—(AP)—"Pa" Stribling announced tonight following a telephone conversation with Frank Bruen, Madison Square Garden official in charge of promoting the Scott-Sharkey bout at Miami Beach, that he had declined an offer of $15,000 to Young Stribling, his fighting son, to box Jimmy Maloney, of Boston, in a semi-windup to the battle between the Briton and the Boston sailor.

In a long distance talk that lasted 15 minutes "Pa" demanded a flat guarantee of $25,000 for his son's services on the card and Bruen said that he could not meet those terms.

"That settles it, then," Pa told Bruen, "for my boy will not fight at Miami Beach for less than that."

Garden officials have been making a strong effort to get Stribling on the Scott-Sharkey card as an inducement to southern fans to attend the bout.

"If we can't get a main bout at Miami we don't want anything," Pa Stribling stated. "And we're not interested in helping put over a bout that is not able to support itself as a main attraction."

Winter Book Odds Favor Whitney Colts for Kentucky Derby

Open Race Seen For May Classic

By Frank Getty,
United News Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(United News.)—Looking forward to that day in May when the Kentucky Derby, for most of us the class of classics of the American turf, will be run at Churchill Downs, racing enthusiasts are scanning the winter book odds and predicting one of the "most open races in many years."

Recalling the downpour last spring, when gallant little Clyde Van Dusen took the bit in his teeth and with the fire of his grand old daddy, Man-O'-War, in his eye, raced to victory through mud and storm, one hopes the heavens, at least, will stay closed. Otherwise, predictions of an "open" derby seem justified, and welcomed.

ALL BEATEN.

The two-year-olds of '29, which will be the contenders in the Louisville classic next May, beat each other back and forth in the juvenile events.

Even Which One, winter book favorite for this year and recognized as the leading juvenile last season, tasted dust from a stable mate's heels, while Boojum, Gallant Fox and the others, great racers though they were, all developed faults which kept their backers guessing.

Boojum used to tire and run out, Gallant Fox was beaten by Hi-Jack and Polygamous. Hi-Jack proved a moody juvenile, bolting in the futurity and the Johnson memorial. Flying Heels is small for a champion. Caruso failed when sent against the best of the two-year-old division.

SOME ODDS.

Here are some odds quoted by Tom Kearney, who makes one of the big winter books, in which you back a horse at the odds offered and if it fails to start in the derby, that is just your hard luck:

Horse. Owner.	Strt.	Plc.	Shw.
Which One, Whitney	4	2	1
Boojum, Whitney ..	10	4	2
Gallant Fox, Blair...	10	4	2
Spinach, Zeigler	20	10	5
Goneaway, Zeigler ..	20	10	5
Caruso, Coe	20	10	5
Flying Heels Cochrane	20	10	5
Dedicate, Camden ..	20	10	5
Hi-Jack, Widener ...	20	10	5

Bruen Announces Prices for Fight

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 29.—(United News.)—Frank J. Bruen, who is staging the fight here February 27 between Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, and Phil Scott, of England, for Madison Square Garden, is going to take care of the mass of fight fans this year, he has announced.

Bruen announced top-price for this year's battle of the palms will be $25, with 20,600 outer-circle seats selling for $5.49. The inner circle seats will sell for $12.50, he said, and there will be no other prices.

"I've done this to take care of the fight fan who cannot afford to meet the ringside seat price, yet who can always be counted on to support boxing," Bruen said.

Bruen said there were only 14,000 seats available at bottom prices last year and all $5 orders could not be filled. The price changes were made to care for those low orders.

Bruen was telegraphed by Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, today that Jacobs was leaving for Europe Saturday to bring the German heavyweights to America. Schmeling is expected to come to Miami for the Sharkey-Scott fight immediately on his arrival in New York.

Ouch, That Hurt!

Vigo Doman, Husky Young Giant, Socked Emanuel His Hardest Blow.

By Armand Emanuel.

A husky young giant named Vigo Doman hit me my hardest wallop, and at the same time he gave some movie stars a thrill. We fought in the Hollywood American Legion stadium.

Vigo, I think he was of Swedish decent, was a pretty sure bet to win if he made connections. He certainly was a knockout wonder. In 20 fights around Los Angeles he bowled over 19 opponents.

I had been boxing professionally only eight months, and was unbeaten. I won the national amateur championship in Boston in April, 1926, beating Add Warren on the opening night; and a 6-footer named Lindblott, from Harvard, and Harry Beum, of Los Angeles, in the finals. Beum was a pupil of George Blake, famous coach who developed Fidel La Barba and Jackie Fields, two Olympic title winners in 1924.

Three months after carrying off the national I began to box for money, as there was no competition left for me among the medal maulers. I fought only eight amateur matches in my short career as a member of the famous Olympic Club, which turned out Jim Corbett.

When they matched me with Doman there was tremendous intersectional rivalry between us. I had made Tony Feunte, the Mexican, look like a chump, and I had flattened Walter Hoffman, a local sailor pride. As I crawled through the ropes that night I was well aware of the time that Vigo hit "Duke" Horn so hard that burning matches under "Duke's spine as he lay spread-eagled on the canvas in mid-center failed to budge him.

As I pulled away from a punch about midway through the second round, my back came up against the taut ring ropes and I rebounded toward Doman just as he threw his right.

The next thing I knew I heard the referee yell "eight." I jumped to my feet to be blackjacked by another right. What happened after that was told to me by my father. The second blow sent me crashing face downward to the canvas. At eight again I pulled myself together and was on my feet. Vigo rushed in to finish the job and I crossed my right to his chin for a complete lesson in arithmetic.

I didn't know I had won or that I had been in a fight until hours later. It looked odd to me as I read the dramatic account of what had happened, in the early edition of the Los Angeles Times.

Joe Cantillon's Condition Same

HICKMAN, Ky., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The condition of "Pongo Joe" Cantillon was practically unchanged here today as the former baseball player, manager and umpire clung to life by a slim thread. Physicians were amazed at his resistance, but said there was no hope for him. He is unconscious and under the constant administration of opiates.

Jack Elder Wins In Sprint Series

Notre Dame Star Takes 60 and 70-Yard Dashes in Fast Time; Loses Short Race.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Speeding over the board floor in near record time, Jack Elder, Notre Dame speed demon, tonight won the Rupert F. Mills memorial series over the 113th Regiment armory track in the St. Joseph Catholic Club meet. Elder won the 70 and 60-yard dashes and placed second in the 50-yard sprint.

The Notre Dame star, whose sprint of 95 yards defeated the Army football team last fall, stepped the 70 yards in 7 2-5 seconds to win and clinch the series after dropping the 50-yard dash to James Pappas, of the Newark Athletic Club, and winning the 60-yard dash in 5 4-5 seconds. Elder's time for the 70 and 60-yard sprints was only two-fifths of a second off the world's record.

After bowing to Pappas at the shorter distance, Jack came back to clearly demonstrate his superiority in the last two races. He breasted the tape four feet in front of Pappas in the 60 and led the Newark Athletic Club star six feet in the deciding race at 70 yards.

William Bruder, of Newark Athletic Club, ran third and Sol Furth, of New York University, fourth in the latter.

Eddie Roll, of the Newark Athletic Club, set a new meet record for the 600-yard Waldron memorial, when he was clocked in 1:13 2-5. The old record of 1:14 3-5 was made by Johnny Gibson, of Bloomfield, N. J., last year. Gibson did not finish in tonight's race. Fred Veit, of New York University, was second and Maxwell Bates, of Brooklyn, and former Bates college runner, was third.

The assurance of your satisfaction of service and menus is made possible by the co-operation of men experienced in the Club and Hotel business. For many years they have been known for their endeavors in this capacity.

IN AN atmosphere of the Orient, unique and distinctive—the FAN-TAN, Atlanta's newest dining salon, opens today and offers Atlantans something decidedly new in menus and surroundings.

Mr. W. A. Wells, many years in Atlanta in Hotel and Restaurant business, and for a number of years operator of clubs in Hollywood, California, will be manager of The Fan-Tan.

While the menus present a diversified assortment of Chinese foods especially prepared by Chin-Woon, our Chinese chef, they also offer all the American dishes and dinners of popular demand prepared especially by our head chef, Allan Browne, who is nationally known in the club and hotel business. Service to the individual tables is handled by white waitresses only, who by their experience and special training afford the courtesies that are so necessary for perfect service.

Sprinters Take Spotlight for 1930 Indoor Track, Field Season

EAST PROVIDES TRIO TO MEET WESTERN STARS

Middle-Distance Men in Background After Five Years' Prominence.

By Herbert W. Barker.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Sprinters, it appears, will furnish most of the thrills of the 1930 indoor track and field season.

With no Nurmi, Wide, Peltzer or Hahn in the immediate offing, the middle distance events, source of most of the sensations in the track world for the last five years, may have to take a back seat, as it were, while the boys who specialize in the short distances do their stuff.

The east has a great trio of dash men in Karl Wildermuth, Georgetown's intercollegiate outdoor champion; Jimmy Daley, of Holy Cross, indoor intercollegiate titleholder, and Chet Bowman, Newark A. C. veteran. But they will have to be at top form to make a showing against the invasion of such western stars as George Simpson, of Ohio State; Simpson's teammate, Kriss; and Jack Elder, of Notre Dame, as well as the Southwestern flash, Cy Leland, of Texas Christian.

RECORD HOLDER.

Simpson, the world's record holder at 100 yards—9 2-5 seconds—has entered the New York A. C. games at Madison Square Garden February 17.

Elder, Criss, Bowman, Leland and two Canadians, Johnny Fitzpatrick and Leigh Miller, are entered in the sprints of the Millrose A. C. games February 8.

Elder, with a victory over Wildermuth already to his credit this year, makes his second eastern appearance in the St. Joseph's Catholic Club games at Newark tonight. His chief opposition probably will come from Daley. Elder is to run in the Rupert F. Mills sprints series at 50, 60 and 70 yards, distances well suited to the Notre Dame football player. Exceedingly fast off the mark, Elder is a formidable contender in any field at distances under 75 yards.

DEFEAT.

Elder gave Percy Williams, Olympic sprint champion, his only defeat of his American tour a year ago, and beat out Wildermuth in a close race at the Brooklyn college games this year at 75 yards. On the same evening Wildermuth equalled the indoor records for 60 and 100 meters and consequently was in top form.

Fred Sturdy, famous Yale pole vaulter, will make his first appearance of the year against such rivals as Barney Berlinger, of Pennsylvania, and Vic Pickard, formerly of Pittsburgh, and a member of the 1928 Canadian Olympic team.

LAPCHICK STAR OF ROSENBLUMS

Basketball fans have tabbed February 6 as one of the outstanding dates on the winter schedule, when the Cleveland Rosenblums, the fastest professional quintet in the world and the fast Tepcos from Chattanooga, clash on the auditorium floor.

Bill Redd, former University of Chattanooga player, now coach and star performer with the Tepcos, has arranged the game, the second "annual" exhibition in Atlanta. The game last year drew a big crowd and the scintillating play of the Cleveland professionals captivated Atlanta fans.

One of the main factors which led to the Cleveland team's winning the championship of the world last spring was its wonderful center, Joe Lapchick.

Lapchick, who joined Cleveland with Barry, Dehnert and Beckman last season, displayed all through the season his great power and wonderful effectiveness at the center position. He is carrying on in a like manner this season and many of the victories which the Cleveland club can chalk up to its credit will be due to his fast, brainy basketball.

A player who can handle a basketball with one hand is always an attraction. Lapchick can do this. He is a big Bohemian, who stands 6 feet 5 3-8 inches and weighs 198 pounds, has big hands. He can catch a basketball with one hand, hold it and pass it on. In this play he outsmarts his opponents and helps his team win.

Before joining the Celtics, Lapchick played with various league champs, such as Holyoke in the western Massachusetts league, Schenectady in the New York State league, and Brooklyn Visitation in the Metropolitan league.

Joe joined the Celtics in 1923, as center. He was a fixture in that position until the Celtics disbanded and he joined Cleveland. Lapchick has gained the reputation of being the best center in the business. With the Cleveland club he is playing the same sort of basketball that helped the Celtics to many of their victories. His teamwork with Barry, Dehnert, Beckman, Husta, and the others is perfect.

Fishing on the Seine.

This information is for Mr. Frank M. Stevens, who caught the big salmon that year on the Miramichi and the big trout on the Payne Whitney place on Tupper lake, so that he may judge for himself if the fishing on the upper Seine river in France is not more exciting. Gaston and Jacques, from the town of Giverny, were my hosts and were kind enough to furnish the tackle, the guides and the boats.

The rods used on the upper Seine are about 30 feet long and as strong as young saplings, and the lines are strong enough to be used as tow lines. But the hooks are of microscopic size. It seemed to your correspondent that the fish of the upper Seine must be of enormous size and ferocity, but with small mouths. The landing nets were large enough to hold the father of all of the tarpon in Florida, but the mesh was very fine.

Guilliaume, the guide, and I anchored between two Seine barges, where the women of those staunch river craft were doing the weekly washing because it was Monday. "The soap, which is infrequent on the river, attracts the fish," said Guilliaume. He is one of the most sagacious guides of the upper Seine, I was told.

Gaston and Jacques were anchored close by with their guides. Guilliaume skilfully baited the small hook with a bit of truffle and sprinkled it with a bit of dressing Francais. "It is most appetizing to the fish," he said. "They cannot resist it, if they are here."

We took some long draughts of Norman hard cider and waited. Fishing on the upper Seine requires infinite patience. The fisherman is supposed to remain as immobile as a Georgia cracker or a visitor to St. Petersburg, Fla., starting to sit it out for the winter.

At the end of the second hour there was a great commotion on the boat of Jacques. Something appeared to be tugging on the line of Jacques, and the fisherman, uttering cries of anticipatory triumph, reeled in on his prey. The guide shifted and held the net ready.

There was a swirling in the water as the catch neared the surface. The guide made a sweep with the net and missed. A cry of anguish came from Jacques, but again the guide dipped desperately with the net. This time it caught the prey in its meshes and a strong lift brought it to the surface and swept it into the boat. Jacques held it up for our edification. It was an umbrella, somewhat the worse for a long session in the water.

Then Jacques dropped his catch gently back into the water. "It is too bad," observed Guilliaume, my guide. "It is the closed season for umbrellas and the fishermen of the upper Seine always obey the law. When it is not the season we always put back the umbrellas that we catch. It is for that reason that we always have umbrellas in the upper Seine."

All of us drank to the success of Jacques who landed the first one, and as umbrellas go it was quite as good as the average umbrella caught in the Seine. It was the turn of Gaston next. He got a heavy strike, and I must say that he played it well, working it in toward one of the barges so that the people aboard might observe the landing.

His guide was more skillfull with the net and brought it into the boat with one strong gesture. It was a Norman sabot, a bit waterlogged. "Lucky Gaston," said my guide, Guilliaume. "He always catches sabots. You may not believe it, but twice he has caught in that very spot a pair of sabots that were mates."

Behold the Fish.

It was toward dusk when Guilliaume, the guide, whispered to reel in cautiously. Slowly your correspondent complied, and was just lifting the end of the line from the water when Guilliaume, the guide, uttered a warning shout. Something was gleaming like a newly minted dime at the end of the line where the truffle had been.

Guilliaume shouted, "Be calm and hold him fast. Name of a name, It is a fish. Work him around this way to the net and do not permit him to escape. He will make a dash if you give him line."

With a mighty sweep Guilliaume dipped his net into the water and brought it into the boat. Gaston and Jacques abandoned all operations on the other side and brought their boats alongside. "The glass for the magnifying, if you please," requested Guilliaume, and Jacques handed it across. Guilliaume lifted the net and handed me the glass.

"Monsieur can see for himself if he does not believe," said Guilliaume excitedly. "Truly it is a fish and there will be great excitement in the village. Careful with him until I can get him into the case."

"You had better weigh him now," suggested Gaston, "before he loses weight," and he handed over a small set of scales. Guilliaume, handling the catch with the skill of a Seine fisherman, placed it on the scales.

"But this almost is incredible," he gasped. "Is monsieur certain that the scales are correct? But the scales say this fish weighs as it is 18 full carats. Without doubt it is the record fish of the season. It is one carat heavier than the one caught by Monsieur the Fat from England three years ago. Into the case with him lest in his desperation he should escape."

The Loss of the Trophy.

In the bar of the Hotel Baudy at Giverny the townspeople assembled to view the catch. The fish was laid on the bar beside Gaston's sabot, which had gathered many barnacles. It glistened in the lamplight and was much admired.

"Later," said Jacques, "when all have had a chance to view it it will be first skinned so that you may have it mounted and take it back to your own country with you. After the skin has been removed it will be cooked in the vin blanc and then there will be a big dinner of the fish. Never has there been such great, good fortune in the fishing on this part of the Seine.

"It is best to wear the fish in the form of a pin for the cravat. It is the most chic ornament of the sport. But there are few fishermen who have such a magnificent trophy to remind them of the great excitement of the fishing. It may even be that they will give you a decoration for the capture of this one. Men have been decorated for less important fish than the one which was caught today. Let us again embrace. It was a magnificent afternoon."

We sat at one of the little marble-topped tables to get a little refreshment, for the strain of the afternoon had been terrific. The fish lay on the bar beside the sabot. Suddenly there was a scream of horror from Alphonsine, the maid.

Aristide, the cat of the Hotel Baudy, leaped to the bar and with one bite had devoured the fish. And there was no chance to retrieve it, for Aristide the Cat rushed to the garden and ascended a tree, where he remained at the highest bough until the record fish of the Seine was fully digested.

27,000 SHELLS IN ONE YEAR

the old shoulder must have been tremendous but Uncle Charlie Young still has plenty of shoulder left and is still busting them when they come out of the traps.

METHODICAL.

He is a methodical man, is Charlie Young. He keeps a record of every shell fired and has kept them for 25 years. He has them every one in Springfield in his files. Next year he is going to let some of the secrets out. He had a new high run last year which went rather high. His best run was more than 450 targets and this one must have been well over 500.

Shooting 27,000 shells at that many targets in one season, though, and standing there in the Grand National with two men already in with 99 and then killing 100 dead as the proverbial door nail—well, that is shooting.

I asked him about that 100 straight from 23 yards. How did he do it and all the other inane questions that reporters ask. "Well," he said, "I don't know. Some days you can and some you can't. I've been shooting a long time and I can't explain why you have it one day and don't the next. I know this day I knew I had to break 100 without a miss and I did. Every time I looked down that barrel the pigeon seemed to right on the end of it. There will be some days when you have to hunt around for it. I don't know what it is. No one does."

GRADUATION.

Arthur Cuscaden voiced the same idea. "I came into Atlanta two years ago with an average of more than 97," said Cuscaden. "I was hitting them as soon as they nosed out of the trap. I went out the first day and was down in the 80's on my first 100. That didn't worry me. The next two times out I was down in the 70's. And that shot the old record down a bit. There is no way to explain it."

Mark Arie, one of the greatest shots in the game, admitted that he was quite a golf fan and got as much, if not more, kick out of sinking a good putt or getting a long drive as he did from a perfect 100 at the traps.

"If I could eliminate two or three holes in my game I would be all right," he said. "I played my home course last year a lot. Once I had a 32 through seven holes and on the 8th, a par three, took a seven. I always do things like that."

BURT SHOTTON.

Burt Shotton, manager of the Phillies, and the miracle man who pulled them off the bottom last year, continues to attract a lot of favorable comment from the trapshooters here.

Shotton has been shooting but two years and yet they are already saying that he has one of the best shooting forms in the game.

Shotton continues to mix baseball with trapshooting in his conversation. Not willingly but on the asking. He thinks, for instance, that there is no harm at all in taking a ball club out of Florida into a colder climate.

BARNSTORM.

"The trouble with most of them is that they barnstorm all the way back," said Shotton. "That's where the players get out of shape. They play on bad diamonds and get a lot of off days when they just sit around hotels. That's where they get out of shape. We hump right back to Philadelphia for the city series and no matter what the weather is we get out to the park for some exercise. I don't believe in barnstorming."

Mr. Shotton kindly explained that his name is spelled "Shotton" and not with an "en" as some of the boys insist.

The Dixie handicap will get going today. All of the entrants stuck despite the weather. The shoot can easily be completed in the remaining three days.

Woodberry Sextet Defeats Rainbows

Woodberry Hall's basketball team scored almost at will to take an easy 50-2 decision from the Rainbow Club of the Y. W. C. A. league.

The Rainbow girls were hardpushed to score their two points as the Woodberry sextet handled the ball with skill to retain possession almost throughout the game.

The Woodberry team will meet the Washington seminary girls on the Y. W. C. A. court Friday afternoon.

WEATHER GIVES JACKET ELEVEN THIRD REST DAY

By Herb Clark.

Snow and slush, featuring Atlanta's third successive day of inclement weather, gave the football squad of Georgia Tech its third successive holiday from the present spring practice grind Wednesday afternoon.

And Wednesday afternoon the gridders were not even called out for a lecture, Coach Alexander deciding that a full day of rest from the gridiron and its laws would be of as much benefit as a talk on formations and fundamentals.

The squad is ripe for scrimmaging, and there is no more effective method of picking up the principles of correct play than that of trial and error in scrimmage.

SCRIMMAGE.

Scrimmaging will start with the next practice, unless it is so long delayed that the squad should lose much of the good derived from the recent conditioning. In that event a day or so of drill will be inserted in the program. It is hardly to be expected that the present crop of snow will disappear fast enough to allow any immediate resumption of activity. The delay will be lengthened by the drying-out process which must be taken into account if the surface of Grant Field is to be in any sort of condition.

The old fullback tangle will occupy the coaching staff during the first few days of scrimmage, with a solution somewhat nearer now than last fall but still in the future. The addition of Tom Cain, freshman plunger, and Sid Williams, last year a varsity end, to the crew from which the fullback for the 1930 Jacket machine is to come has given rise to high hopes for the lineup of the fall. Both these new lads, as well as Gene Hauck and Bob Strickland, who did the work last fall, show better form, and it is thought that the puzzle will shortly be ironed out.

With the addition of Frank Speer and the host of ex-frosh to his stable, Bill Fincher is well satisfied with his line prospects, while Captain Robinson, inheriting a number of promising sophs-to-be as well as receiving Ed Herron back into his fold, has like ideas of his end task.

And aside from the fullback problem, the backfield situation is causing little worry at the moment around the Flats. Fall may exhibit a new angle, but today the Jackets look much better than they did last year.

Tech Courtmen Prep for Vandy.

With their time well filled with the combination of final examinations, study for the exams and practice, Georgia Tech basketball squad members are finding themselves hard pushed in their drive toward preparedness for the coming of the Vanderbilt quintet. The Commodores are slated to face the Jackets Saturday night on the Atlanta Auditorium court.

Tech, with but one victory in five conference games played, is faced with the necessity of turning sharply upward in their play or being left off the rolls of the conference tourney which is scheduled for an opening on February 28. The Jackets rank eighteenth in the present standing and but 16 teams are eligible for the classic.

The Jackets have not yet found themselves on the court. Though the material was of an almost superexcellent quality, it has not shaped up into a smooth machine.

Vandy, just one notch above the Jackets in the race, must needs take the same turn as the Jackets, and the battle Saturday will come very close to determining just which team, if either, may be counted on to crash the favored group.

Favorites Survive In Pan-Am Tourney

Jack Westland, French champion, put out H. F. Bowbeer, Chicago, 12 and 11.

played the best game for the winners. Katz was off in his passing during the first half, but came back to play a much better game in the second half. SCOTT UNAFRAID OF 'RAZZBERRY' IN MIAMI BOUT Englishman Is Supremely Confident of Defeating Jack Sharkey.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(United News.)—"The Bird" holds no terrors for Phil Scott.

The British heavyweight, before departing for Miami, Fla., said he expected to be "booed" when he entered the ring for his 15-round match with Jack Sharkey on February 27.

"But I don't care what kind of a reception they give men as long as I win," added Scott.

"Wouldn't it be funny, though, if they gave both me and Sharkey what you call the "Bronx cheer." You know Sharkey isn't any too popular himself."

UNPOPULAR.

Scott has never been popular with American ring fans, and his foul victory over Otto Von Porat in Madison Square Garden in December added a few more sprigs of razzeberry to the Britisher's crown of thorns.

"It doesn't worry me at all because I'm not popular," said Scott. "I always try to do my best. There is a certain type of boxing fan who will always give you the bird. I don't care for the plaudits of that type, anyway."

Scott's farewell message was a boast that he would knock out Sharkey.

"When Sharkey finds out that I am not afraid of him," said Scott, "he will lose courage and leave me an opening to finish him.

KNOWLEDGE.

"I saw Sharkey knock out Loughran and I learned from that bout that Sharkey can lick anbody that is afraid of him. Loughran was scared of him and all Sharkey had to do was charge in and knock him out."

Scott already considers himself heavyweight champion, and looks upon the coming match as a defense of his title.

"I have defeated 15 champions of other countries," he said, "and have won the right to claim the title. I'll prove it beyond a doubt against Sharkey."

Six times in his career Scott has won on fouls, but he does not consider these victories black marks on his record.

"There are only two reasons why a boxer commits a foul," said Scott. "Either he is too dazed to know what he is doing, as was the case with Von Porat, or he is getting the worst of it, as was the case with George Cook, Ricardo Bertazzolo, Guardsman Penwill, Yale Okum and Ted Sandwina.

"I hope that Sharkey does not hit me low, but if he does I shall certainly expect the referee to disqualify him and award the bout to me. I am going into the ring to put up a clean sporting fight and I expect the same from Sharkey."

Scott Arrives For Sharkey Go.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 29.—(United News.)—Phil Scott came to Miami tonight bearing the heavyweight championship hopes of Great Britain easily on his shoulders.

Scott stepped off the train that brought him from New York on scheduled time and found everything waiting for him except the promised Kilties band. The band, in the form of a seven-piece orchestra, came marching down the platform some five minutes later playing "God Save the King."

The British champion said when he left London he was given one of the warmest farewells he had ever received, and that had determined him more than ever to return to England with the world's heavyweight crown.

"I'm going to knock out Sharkey," he added, but he did not hazard the round.

Scott was taken immediately to his hotel, where he will rest until his first public training session Saturday.

Hunter Faces Job In Beating Obie

When Happy Hunter, Atlanta heavyweight veteran, runs into Bearcat Obie, the Savannah giant, Monday night in the Atlanta theater, he will have a chance to break a record, according to Promoter Cleve Roby, who states that Obie has won 18 straight fights, has never been knocked down or out, or never defeated.

"It's a great chance for Happy to show what he can do," said Roby. "If he whips Obie he will have whipped a good, game, heavy-hitting ringman, as Speedy Freeman, of Conyers, or Seldom Heard, of Fort Benning, and a lot of other negro heavyweights who have fallen before his punching, will tell you."

Obie scored a sensational victory here on Roby's last card when he knocked out Freeman in one round.

The fact that he will carry a 20-pound advantage into the ring with Hunter is another angle in his favor which will help to offset Hunter's greater experience. Hunter has been boxing for over six years and has fought the outstanding negro light-heavies and heavies of this district, including Eddie Cox, Charlie Booker, Cecil Flowers, Texas King, Speedy Freeman, Charlie King, Bearcat Wright, Battling Moon, Roy Clark and Henry Johnson.

Risko Is Sought For Strib at Tampa

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Young Stribling, Georgia heavyweight, has agreed to fight any available opponent in a 10-round bout here February 21, George J. Kennedy, 116th field artillery promoter, announced today. Johnny Risko, Cleveland baker boy, has been offered the match, but has not accepted yet. If Risko is unavailable, Promoter Kennedy plans to seek some other outstanding heavyweight.

"Pa" Stribling, father-manager of the Georgia heavy, told Kennedy over long distance that any opponent would be agreeable.

"We bar nobody," he said.

If the fight materializes, it probably will take place in an outdoor arena to be constructed at the local fair grounds, with seating capacity of 23,000 planned.

City League

For the first time this year Pattillo Memorial girls met defeat on the basketball court, being beaten Wednesday night by the Georgia Power Company in an extra period game, 15 to 14. The score was tied three minutes before the game ended and the teams had to play three minutes extra to break the deadlock. Matthews and Pirkle were the leading shooters for the Power Company.

Western Electric won from Girls' Athletic Club, 18 to 12; G. M. A. C. was defeated by Chamblee 21 to 8, and Crum and Forster won from Southern Business University 13 to 11 in the other games.

Star Ineligible.

HAMILTON, N. Y., Jan. 29.—(United News.)—Dick Kent, intercollegiate 220-yard champion, was declared scholastically ineligible by the Colgate University faculty today and will not compete in track this season.

During the 1929 season Kent was undefeated at 220-yards and was Colgate's high scorer in every meet.

BART MADDEN CALLED GAMEST MAN IN RING

Fought Seven Rounds With Arm Broken in Three Places.

By Walter Trumbull.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(North American Newspaper Alliance.)—Gene Tunney, wrapped in a bath robe, sat in a big hospital chair, looking perhaps a bit thin, but with color good and eyes bright. They are not going to keep him in the hospital a whole lot longer.

Sam Pryor, Jr., Lou Fink, Tunney's old trainer and this correspondent visiting him naturally began talking of operations. But our talk soon drifted to boxers. Fink spoke of Canzoneri and the fine record he had made for himself, but also of how this boy, born on a farm, hated to get away from the big city with its theaters and movies.

From boxers in particular, the conversation drifted to boxers in general and the qualities they needed to make a success in the ring. One of the chief of those qualities, we decided, is gameness.

GAMEST.

"The gamest man I ever fought," said Tunney, "was Harry Greb. The harder you hit him, the harder he came back. You might land a punch that you thought would finish him, but the next second you'd find yourself in trouble. He would be swarming all over you like a wildcat."

"Who is the gamest man you know?"

"I think Johnny Risko," replied Gene. "He is another man you can hit so hard you wonder what holds him up, but he is never discouraged. He keeps right on bouncing in."

"I though you told me once," I said, "that Chuck Wiggin was the gamest boxer you knew."

EXPERIENCE.

"There never was anybody gamer," said Tunney, "but Wiggin was not put to the test quite as much as Greb and Risko. I've told you my experience with Chuck. It was when I was pretty inexperienced and I was trying to perfect a right to the body. I had not learned to control the punch and twice I hit Wiggin low. He might have claimed a foul on either occasion or have acted a little for the benefit of the crowd, but he never protested by word or act, although the referee said:

"'Keep them up, Tunney.'

"I little later, I let go a hard right, misjudged the distance and landed solidly below the belt. Chuck didn't double up or go down, but he looked at me and exclaimed:

"'Hey, Gene; that was low!'

"'Sorry, Chuck,' I said sincerely, and I didn't try any more rights to the body. There was a game fellow."

COURAGEOUS.

"Yes," said Lou Fink, "Wiggins was game and so were Greb and Risko; plenty of courage, all of them. But the gamest man I have ever seen in a ring is Bartley Madden.

"I was behind Madden in a fight once when, in the third round, he started a left hook and the other fellow gave him his head. Bartley came back to the corner looking white, with cold drops of perspiration forming on his forehead.

"'What's the matter?' I asked.

"'Nothin', he said. 'Give me a drink of water and I'll be all right.'

"I gave him a drink and he finished the fight. After it was over a doctor climbed into the ring.

"'I think you hurt your left arm,' he said.

"'I think it's broken,' said Madden.

"Well, it was. Broken in three places, that's all. And Madden had fought seven rounds with it in that condition. Talk about game men! I'll take Bartley Madden for mine."

And we all freely admitted that Lou Fink had made a pretty good choice.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN.
Associated Press Market Editor.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Big setbacks in price for all grain brought wheat within 3-4c a bushel of the season's bottommost level here. Corn, oats and rye fell below any previous quotation for the present crop. Sudden widening out of pressure to sell wheat from Russia to other European countries was largely responsible, together with British reports that Argentine is also giving evidence of anxiety to rush export marketing of wheat.

After a day of heavy liquidating sales of wheat futures deliveries, Chicago closing quotations of wheat were nervous, 2c to 2 5-8c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1-4c to 7-8c down, oats 5-8c to 1 3-4c off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2c.

Hand in hand with disconcerting advices that Russia had disposed of 370,000 bushels of wheat to Italy and Germany and was offering 400,000 bushels more elsewhere including Great Britain, North American wheat export business today came to a virtual halt. Signs that foreigners were sellers of wheat future deliveries in Chicago acted also as a disturbing influence. It was not until wheat prices here had collapsed nearly 3c a bushel that rallying power developed. Meanwhile, the fact that the Winnipeg market was weaker than Chicago proved a decided handicap on efforts to check price breaks here, especially in view of the meagerness of export demand today for wheat either from Canada or the United States.

Accelerating the downward course of wheat values in Chicago was execution of many standing orders that future delivery holdings be sold out at various fixed limits so as to put a stop to further losses. No buying of wheat for the farm board's co-operative allies was done in Chicago today, although prices went somewhat below the farm board's loan basis. The reason for absence of such purchasing here was the fact that only wheat from rural sources is being taken by the co-operatives, and that fresh arrivals of country run wheat in Chicago at present are small. Confronted by reports that Argentine wheat is being offered in Europe cheaper than wheat from the United States, the Chicago futures market closed within 1-2c of the day's bottom figures.

Although corn as a result of sympathy with wheat weakness established a new all-around low price record for the season, the corn market showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure. Oats followed corn.

Provisions were easy owing to grain weakness and a late downward trend of the hog market.

Sugar.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Raw sugar was firmer today and the asked price of the single selling agency in Cuba was reached, with sales of 280,000 bags of Cuban for February shipment by the committee at 3.77 delivered. This upturn in Cubas naturally had a strengthening influence on holders of uncontrolled sugars, although it was believed that a small quantity of duty frees could be had at 3.74.

Except for a little irregularity at the opening when prices ranged from 1 point advance to 1 point decline, raw futures were generally firmer, reflecting the steadiness of the spot market. The volume of business was larger, but it included considerable exchanging from the near to the more distant positions. The upturn was due to covering and some buying by houses with Cuban connections, promoted by the better tone of the market. Offerings were comparatively light, and following the opening irregularity, prices gradually hardened, closing at the best and from 2 to 3 points above the previous close. Approximate sales 61,200 tons. March closed 1.83; May 1.91; July 2.01; September 2.09; December 2.16; January 2.17.

Refined was quiet in all departments and prices were unchanged with refiners listing at 5.20 and second hands still available at around 5.15.

Coffee.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The market for coffee futures was lower at the opening today on reports of an easier tone in Rio exchange, but the offerings were absorbed by covering or trade buying and there were rallies later.

No. 7 contracts opened at a net decline of 3 to 8 points and closed net 4 points lower to 1 point higher. Sales estimated 13,000. Santos contracts opened 3 to 8 points lower and closed net unchanged to 7 points higher. Sales 14,000. Closing quotations: No. 7 contracts: March 8.70; May 8.19; July 7.98; September 7.89; December 7.74. Santos contracts: March 13.40; May 12.50; July 12.00; September 11.70; December 11.45.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY,
Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Convertibles afforded most of the action in today's bond market. In the share privilege group the heaviness of International Telephone 4 1-2s and American O. G. Chemical 5 1-2s stood out, the former dropping to 113 7-8, or just under its low at the time of the stock break. The other debenture lost a point and a half on fairly heavy selling coincident with the Chemical Foundation's demand for an inquiry by the state bureau of securities into the $30,000,000 flotatoin last April. The telephone bond closed at 115 for a net loss of 2 points.

Chicago & Northwestern convertible 4 3-4s were active, but made no change on the day. American Telephone 4 1-2s rose 1 1-4, while Missouri Pacific 5 1-2s and Baltimore & Ohio 4 1-2s each gained a small fraction.

There was little interest in the standard investment list, which was again irregular. The Liberty 3 1-2s and fourth 4 1-4s were in slightly better demand, but moved narrowly, while the high-grade rails and utilities made mixed changes.

Canadian National 5s, Atchison general 4s, Burlington general 4s, Delaware & Hudson 5 1-2s, New York Central 3 1-2s and Union Pacific 4s of 1968 worked lower. Moderate inquiry for Missouri Pacific general 4s, New Haven refunding 4 1-2s, Lehigh Valley (Pennsylvania) 4s, Pennsylvania general 4 1-2s and St. Louis & San Francisco 4 1-2s found a firm market. The Seaboard listings advanced about a point. New York City tractions were again buoyant.

Rise in Rubber.

Features in the industrial section included a 6-point rise in Fisk Rubber 8s, a 3-point loss in North American Cement 6 1-2s and a 2 1-2 point rally in White Sewing Machine 6s, without warrants. United States Rubber 4s finished nearly a point higher.

Rather persistent offerings of the new American Telephone 5s, for which payment has now been made, pared a quarter point from the quotation and the debentures closed at 100 1-8, their lowest since the offerings at 99 1-2. International Telephone debenture 4 1-2s were marked up nearly a point in small dealings.

The foreign list saw numerous declines of 1 and 2 points, although prominent European loans were steady. Brisbane City 5s, Buenos Aires 6s, April maturity, Queensland 6s, Bolivia 7s and Bergen City 6s were heavy. On the other hand, French 7 1-2s and 7s sold at their high levels for the last year. Belgians and Germans 7s were firm.

Southland Company Shows Gain in 1928

Remarkable growth during the past year is shown by the Southland Loan and Investment Company, 61 Poplar street, N. W., according to the reports submitted to the stockholders recently at their annual meeting.

The company was organized in 1922. Since that time it has enjoyed a steady growth. The stock is on a quarterly dividend basis and the stockholders have recently received their twenty-sixth regular dividend.

The board of directors elected for this year is composed of J. F. Pickard, R. R. Lanham, A. D. McGaughey, J. H. Lovell, C. M. Lanham, E. T. Booth and C. B. Whitager. At the board meeting, immediately following the stockholders' meeting, the following officers were elected for this year: R. R. Lanham, president; J. H. Lovell, vice president; J. F. Pickard, secretary; and V. Richard, acting treasurer.

R. R. Lanham has been actively identified with the company in directing its business since its organization, and is an outstanding figure in the loan business. He was recently elected to the presidency of the Georgia Industrial Lenders' Association for the third time. Mr. Lanham states that he is looking forward to an even better year during 1930.

General List Advances Within Narrow Range

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL,
Associated Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Trading in today's Curb Market showed a sharp contraction in volume, but the main price tendency continued upward. Chief interest centered in a handful of issues in which special developments are pending, the general list moving within a rather narrow range, due to the absence of any extensive public participation.

Deere & Co. soared 10 points to 640, or within 2 points of the record high established last year, and then dropped back 5 points on realizing, in response to the announcement of a 5 for 1 stock split-up. Gleaner Combine Harvester (new) advanced 1 3-4 to a new top at 23 1-2.

Oils failed to make any response to reports of a sharp decrease in crude oil production last week. Cosden dropped 3 1-4 points and Gulf 3 7-8, with the other active issues showing only narrow fractional changes. Pandem, a low price issue, was turned over in large volume.

Public utilities display a rather firm undertone, with gains of 1 to 4 points recorded by American Light & Traction, American Gas & Electric, Bell Telephone of Canada, Dixie Gas, Standard Power & Light (new) and United Gas. Electric Bond & Share recorded a large fractional gain but Commonwealth Edison dropped 5 points and New England Power 3 on small turnovers.

Republic Steel (new stock) sold down 4 points at one time but recovered more than half its loss. A gain of 3 points in Western Air Express was based on reports of a favorable 1929 earnings report. United Zinc & Smelting (new) fell 5 1-4 points to a new low at 2, and Kobacker Stores broke 13 1-2 points to a new low at 29.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON.

Sales, 300; receipts, 896; shipments, 375; stocks, 100,900.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The selling movement which made its appearance in the cotton market at the beginning of the week became more active and general during today's trading. Prices for all deliveries made new low ground for the season with near months relatively weak under heavy liquidation. May sold down to 16.77 or 44 points net lower and more than a cent a pound below the high level reached on the mid-month rally. That delivery closed at 16.81, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 27 to 40 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points and after showing net losses of about 3 to 6 points the market rallied slightly on trade buying and covering. The latter may have been promoted by rumors that farm board interests were bidding for cotton in the Houston market, but the demand was readily supplied on bulges of some 2 to 5 points from the lowest, and the market soon showed renewed weakness. Near-month liquidation was heavy, while there was scattered selling all along the line which seemed to come through commission houses and brokers with Wall Street and western connections.

Offerings became more active following denials of the rumors that farm board or co-operative interests were buying cotton and stop-orders were uncovered on the break. March contracts sold off to 16.53, July to 17.01 and October to 17.18, making net declines of 30 to 44 points.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET DECIDEDLY EASIER.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The cotton market was decidedly easier today and prices made new lows for the season. A report that the federal farm loan board was offering to buy spots supported the market for a time but when the rumored offer was found impracticable values sold off rapidly and at the lowest showed declines of nearly $2.50 from the highs. May contracts sold off from 17.05 to 16.57 and closed at 16.60, or 41 points net lower. The general market closed steady at net declines of 25 to 41 points.

Although Liverpool cables were relatively favorable, the market here opened easy with initial trades showing declines of 2 to 3 points. Prices continued to ease off in early trading until active positions showed losses of 6 points. The rumor that the federal farm loan board was bidding for spots induced sufficient demand to absorb offerings and carry March to 16.78 and May to 17.05, or 4 points above the previous close.

The market weakened later, however, when it was said the reported offer was impracticable and under heavy long liquidation prices receded rapidly, active positions soon showing declines of 48 points from the highs. Stop loss orders were uncovered on the scale down and added to the weakness. Final prices showed a few points recovery from the lowest with Marche at 16.33 and July at 16.60.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Speculative interest in today's markets was divided between the further recovery in stock prices, which carried the index of 90 leading issues to a new high level for the year, and the renewed weakness of wheat and cotton futures, the latter touching new low levels for the season. Gains in the stock market ran from 1 to 12 1-2 points but these were interspersed with a number of declines ranging from fractions to 4 points.

Excellent steel news, including the publication of the unexpectedly favorable statement by the United States Steel Corporation and reports of a further upturn in steel mill activity, provided the chief stimulus to the buying movement. This was fortified by a series of favorable dividend developments, including a resumption of payments by Colorado Fuel after a lapse of nine years and extra payments by Liggett & Myers and International Silver, and by a further reduction in the daily average of crude oil production.

Irregularity.

Such irregularity as developed in the stock market during the day was due largely to liquidation by traders who had piled up profits in the recent advance. There was little evidence of any aggressive short selling, although the resistance encountered by many stocks on the way up indicated that large blocks of stock, some of which is believed to represent securities bought for supporting purposes during and since the break, were still overhanging the market.

The money market showed no evidence of a month-end strain although February 1 dividend and interest disbursements are expected to run close to $500,000,000, a record for this period. Call money dropped from 4 1-2 to 4 per cent with the supply plentiful, and there was an easier undertone for the shorter maturities in the time money market.

United States Steel common was marked up more than 5 points to a new high for the year at 182 1-4, or within a point of the high price reached since the November break, and then eased 1-2 a point. Youngstown Sheet & Tube jumped 10 points on a couple of sales. Vanadium ran up 3 1-2 points. Transue & Williams, which is expected to show earnings of around $3 a share for 1929 and has just received a contract to supply Crumbian steel to a new American company, advanced nearly 3 points. Colorado Fuel made only a slight response to the dividend announcement.

Drop in Oil.

Except for a gain of nearly 4 points in Simms Petroleum the oils made little response to the sharp drop in crude production. Farm implement shares lost none of their buoyancy, Case soaring 12 1-2 points. Auburn Auto jumped 10 points on reports of record-breaking January business. Business Machine shares extended their recent gains. International Telephone was one of the few active soft spots.

The reaction of more than 2 cents a bushel in wheat prices, based on publication of a bearish government weather forecast and reports of increased Russian offerings in foreign markets, carried quotations to within a fraction of the season's low levels. Cotton dropped about $2 a bale on selling inspired by reports of difficulties encountered in attempts to control acreage and output during the coming season. Corn prices yielded slightly. Coffee and sugar markets showed little change.

Trading in the foreign exchange market was featured by a rally of about half a cent in Spanish pesetas, part of which was lost on buying inspired by the fact that a change of government was being accomplished without any serious disturbances. Sterling cables were slightly firmer around $4.86 9-16. Other changes were nominal.

Southern Spring Bed Reports Big Earnings

At the annual stockholders' meeting of the Southern Spring Bed Co., Tuesday the company reported earnings available for interest and preferred stock dividends, before depreciation, but after all other charges, of $112,572. The annual report showed the company in excellent financial condition, current assets being 7 1-2 times current liabilities.

Sales for 1929 showed an increase of 21 per cent. Despite this marked increase in sales, their inventory decreased during the 12-month period about 10 per cent. In his report to stockholders, Robert W. Schwab, president of the company, stated that the prospects for 1930 were most encouraging and that based on present indications, total sales for 1930 should run in the neighborhood of $2,000,000, as compared to approximately $1,500,000 in 1929. Shipments in January have broken all records and show a 60 per cent increase over the corresponding period of 1929.

The following directors were reelected for the present year: Otto Schwab, Robert W. Schwab, Richard N. Schwab, C. S. Moeckel, John Trounstine, Louis Nowelt, R. W. Courts, Jr., Jack Pappenheimer and Hugh D. Carter, Jr. Two of the present directors, Otto Schwab and Louis Newelt, were the founders of the company when it was started, in 1883.

Cotton Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Liquidation in March was renewed today on a large sized scale and was accompanied by considerable selling for short account. Straddlers were also reported heavy sellers of other old crop months against purchases of new crop positions, numerous stopless orders were reached and forced out thus adding to the burdens of the market.

Pressure from this combined selling proved too much for the market to absorb in view of restricted speculative and trade buying and values dipped over $2 a bale, closing near the bottom.

The same influences which started the liquidation early in the week were again at work. In addition most traders placed a bearish interpretation on reports from Houston to the effect that Carl Williams, a member of the farm board, had stated that the board or its marketing corporation would buy any cotton offered at prices fixed by the board for loans, traders assumed that this means that the marketing corporation would buy cotton or was offering to buy cotton at the value fixed for loans at Houston which was 16.20 and which was also 70 points under the prevailing quotations for March cotton at New York.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Considerable liquidation of longs and selling by the south, New Orleans and locals was the feature of today's cotton market. Trade interests and shorts were the best buyers on a scale down. The range of prices was from 30 to 46 points during the day and the market closed barely steady, 40 to 27 points under yesterday.

A Washington dispatch denied any action on the part of the co-operative association. Generally speaking, there has been very poor support of the market.

The technical position of the market has been strengthened by the liquidation of old long accounts and we believe that purchases on a scale down will show good profits later. March Liverpool due 8.81.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—There was an outburst of general liquidation today particularly in the near months which uncovered stop loss orders and resulted in a decline of about $2 a bale. The fact that prices declined about $2 a bale under the farm board's loaning figure at New Orleans apparently discouraged longs and contributed to the decline. The prospects for year's consumption of less than expected, the slow demand for spot cotton and unsatisfactory reports from milling centers apparently had much to do with unsettling confidence. The trade is in a liquidating mood at the moment and the action of the market indicated possible further easing of prices.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Trading again today was very active, prices making new lows for the season. The report that Mr. Karl Williams, cotton member of the farm board, had announced that the farm board would take all the cotton offered in Houston at 70 off March, did not check the general liquidation which came in from all quarters. Many limited trade buying orders were withdrawn or reduced. On a report late in the afternoon that Mr. Williams denied having made such announcement, there was further liquidation and further decline in prices. There is some local buying but volume is small. Market closed easy only a few points up from the low of the day and 40 down from yesterday.

We prefer to stand aside for the present and await developments. Liverpool futures are due tomorrow: March 8.80; May 8.90.

Stock Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—After a brief period of irregularity early in today's session, the reaction which set in yesterday was checked and the entire list turned aggressively upward under the leadership of United States Steel.

The steel corporation's earnings of $4.14 a share for the fourth quarter of 1929 made a distinctly favorable impression which was augmented by trade authority reports indicating a continuation of improvement in steel buying. Improved demand was reported from the automobile industry, this development causing a more buoyant tendency in motor stocks.

Agricultural and electrical equipment issues continue to reflect unusual strength based on the satisfactory outlook for these industries, the principal units in which—International Harvester, J. I. Case, Allis Chalmers, General Electric and Westinghouse—are among the most strongly fortified American industrial corporations.

JACKSON BROS., BOESEL & CO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The apparent soundness of the present stock market structure lies in its selectivity. Stocks of companies which have not yet shown evidence of increased consumer demand for their products are either receding or are barely holding their own. This is as it should be. On the other hand, there is an increasing investment and speculative demand for the shares of those companies which give definite promise of sustained earning power in 1930. This also is as it should be.

Aside from selected utilities and rails, stocks which have indicated a definite upward trend for 1930 are to be found in the farm implement, food, amusement, chemical and steel groups. Utilities will be helped this year by expected important developments in the natural gas field and in this group we repat that Columbian Carbon should be an outstanding performer.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Following an active morning on the strength of favorable overnight news as to 1929 earnings of the Steel Corporation, buying of the steel shares received a further vigorous impulse in the early afternoon upon the appearance of an exceedingly bullish review by the Iron Age, which stated among other things that the extent of the buying movement was a surprise to everybody concerned in the steel industry, that the price situation was becoming stabilized, that further expansion is to be anticipated and that producers of automotive steels have experienced the sharpest gains in bookings.

Cottonseed Oil.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Cottonseed oil was more active and distinctly easier today, closing 5 to 12 points net lower. Refiners hedging in July added momentum to the selling pressure from locals and commission houses in sympathy with the weakness of cotton and grains and the easier trend to crude oil and tallow. Buying was light and scattered coming principally from shorts. Sales 14,800 barrels. Prime crude 7.37½; prime summer yellow spot 8.45; March closed 8.83; May 9.04; July 9.24; September 9.39.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29.—Cottonseed oil futures ruled somewhat easier today in sympathy with somewhat lower cotton, corn and lard. Prime summer yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.90 and prime crude closed at 7.25@7.50 Futures closed steady: February 7.90; March 7.95; May 8.10; July 8.27; September 8.40.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 29.—Cotton seed futures closed firm. Closing bid: February 36.00; March 36.75; May 36.75; July 36.75; September 35.25. No sales.

Cotton seed meal futures closed steady. Closing bid prices: February 33.00; March 32.75; May 32.75; July 33.00; September 33.25. Sales, 4,925.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The cotton goods demand continued light for the day in gray goods for printing and converting, save in the finer end where moderate activity continues. Burlaps are unchanged and quiet. Silk merchandise is moving moderately. Raw silk was unchanged. Fancy men's wear suiting manufacturers are preparing new fall lines to be opened next month.

Produce

ATLANTA.

Demand and trading was only moderate Wednesday. Strawberries were slightly higher in price, with supplies light. Green vegetables were liberal in supply, with prices unchanged from yesterday. Apples remained steady, with holdings and demand about normal: prices were unchanged. New supplies of Georgia sweet potatoes arrived and were selling at unchanged prices.

Autoists Warned To Drive Slowly Over Icy Roads

A caution to northbound motorists to proceed with extreme care over the snow-covered roads was incorporated in the report of the Atlanta Motor Club on road conditions Wednesday afternoon. The same road conditions continue through the Carolinas, said the report, which follows:

"Atlanta-Asheville via Georgia Nos. 8-13 and 11. Paved to Gainesville. Nine mile dirt, very poor, chains necessary between Gainesville and junction highway No. 43. Paved thence to Asheville. Snow covers this highway the entire distance today.

"Atlanta-Greenville. Two routes. Very little choice until weather clears. The better of the two at present is via Lawrenceville, Winder, Athens, Danielsville, Hartwell and Anderson, S. C. Optional route through Buford, Gainesville and Toccoa offers more pavement but is more mountainous, and two inches of snow lies upon the unpaved section between Gainesville and Baldwin. While crushed stone has been placed in the boggy places, the road is cut up very badly and is likely to become impassable in another 12 hours unless the weather moderates. Chains are necessary.

"Atlanta-Augusta. Georgia No. 12. Rough, bumpy, muddy from Avondale to Newton county line. Some pavement between Covington and Augusta, but this is a dirt road the greater distance and is slushy and only 'fair to middling.'

"Atlanta-Birmingham. Either via Chattanooga or Montgomery. The latter route, via Newnan, West Point and Opelika is paved to Opelika. One half mile of very poor road inside city limits of the latter town. Chains necessary. Beyond Opelika the road is good, but not paved, to Montgomery. Montgomery to Birmingham is paved. The short routes to Birmingham are temporarily impassable in Alabama.

"Atlanta-Brunswick, via Lake City and Jacksonville, Fla., paved. The short route via Macon and Baxley is in very poor condition due to rains. While no impassable spots are reported the going is slow and rough."

Eleventh Man Held In 'Cigarette' Ring

George Catsimigos was bound over to the federal grand jury under $2,000 bond on charges of complicity in what agents believe was a giant "ring" for robbing freight cars of cases of cigarettes, following a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith here Wednesday afternoon.

Government witnesses declared that Catsimigos had helped receive some of the stolen property at the store of George Bombas where he was said to be employed. Bombas and nine others alleged to be implicated in the scheme were bound over several days ago. Catsimigos denied his guilt.

The "ring" was believed to have been broken by the arrest of ten men by government agents working with city men and special agents of the railroad. All were placed under heavy bond following hearings before Commissioner Griffith. Nearly $6,000 was said to be involved in the transactions over a period of months.

PLAN TO ROB CHARGED

Youth, 18, Is Given Three to Five Years.

Possession of a screwdriver, "jimmy" and other tools with alleged burglarious intent Wednesday cost Roy Smith, 18, a term of from three to five years when he pleaded guilty before Judge E. D. Thomas in Fulton superior court. In another indictment, on which he was given a 12 months suspended sentence, it was alleged that Smith pried off a sheet of tin from the rear door of the Kingan Packing Company on Alabama street in an attempt to commit burglary, on December 15.

Northern Trice, 39, negro, was sentenced by Judge Thomas to serve four years on a charge of robbery. Trice pleaded guilty to snatching a purse containing $3.30 from Francis Wiggins, of 216 Merritts avenue, N. E.

Richard Wynn, 25, negro, was given a net term of from five to ten years on a plea of guilty to six indictments charging robbery.

English Cotton Industry Special Weekly Report

MANCHESTER, England, (By Mail.)—In the Manchester market this week there has been a better feeling than for some little time back. The tendency of raw cotton rates to harden has resulted in more confidence in values and inquiry in yarns and piece goods has expanded.

The feature of interest in the raw cotton situation has been the attention centered on the activities of the farm board in the United States. This organization is evidently making almost frantic efforts to bring about a rise in prices. Well-informed authorities are not convinced that a movement of this kind will achieve the desired result. The scheme put out several weeks ago for the purpose of financing cotton growers has not done much good and big efforts are now being made to prevent an increase in the acreage for the new season. Traders here hold that these artificial means of forcing up prices are seldom successful. Operators are more interested in the tendency of trade demand.

Prospect Better.

The prospects in the cloth market are rather healthier. Merchants and dealers have been very much afraid of serious political disturbances in India, but there is ground for believing that the agitators are not meeting with the support expected. In trading circles confidence is increasing and more business is coming round for manufacturers. The outlook in China is also rather better. For several weeks a quieter state of affairs has prevailed in that part of the world, and trade prospects are more encouraging, especially should there be a further reaction in the price of silver and exchange rates. Inquiry for certain minor outlets tends to broaden and makers as a body are dealing with a larger inquiry. The prices offering are still very low, but in several directions limits have been raised since a week ago.

It is exceedingly difficult for spinners of American yarns to secure better prices, but during the past week the sales have increased. The low rates ruling have stimulated speculative buying in some quarters. There is still over-production and heavy stocks prevent any real headway being made. Demand in Egyptian yarns has also been on rather larger lines than recently.

The higher prices for raw cotton are not likely to be maintained unless there is a definite improvement in demand from trade sources. In industrial circles, however, the prospects are rather brighter with a possibility of increased activity during the next few weeks. It is reasonable to expect larger sales in yarn and cloth, but it remains to be seen whether the business will be of sufficient weight to enable producers to improve prices.

Special Meeting Called.

It was officially announced this week that the Master Spinners' Federation had called a special meeting of members in the American spinning section to be held in Manchester on Friday, January 24, in order to discuss the state of trade. It is well known that spinners in this section have been steadily losing ground for months past and the position has been reached when it is advisable for the whole trade to consider whether or not some system of restricting production should be adopted.

Cloth Exports.

Year.	Linear Yds.	Pounds.
1927	4,189,109,600	109,995,715
1928	3,968,189,300	107,298,462
1929	3,764,851,400	99,263,987

Increased shipments have taken place to Australia (26,882,000 square yards), Egypt (22,949,000 square yards), Chile (22,294,000 square yards), Straits settlements (20,368,000 square yards). Principal decreases have been to Bombay (175,675,000 square yards), Switzerland (31,105,000 square yards), Dutch East Indies (22,885,000 square yards), British West Africa (22,409,000 square yards), Calcutta (22,286,000 square yards).

DAY IN FINANCE

By R. L. BARNUM

Wall Street's Interest in Fox Situation and Outlook Continues To Make Subject Uppermost in Discussion. Surplus Assets of Company Placed At $118,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—There was a quiet opening of the stock market with Steel common up but with the rest of the market seeming to bank back to see how the Steel corporation's fourth quarter and 1929 earnings were accepted. In the early trading there was some profit taking throughout the list, but in the second hour Steel common began to advance, touching the highest level since the stock market panic in the autumn, with the rest of the market following. Trading in stocks continues to fall off on price declines with increased activity on advancing prices showing plainly that there is more interest in the long than the short side of the market.

Today's weekly steel trade reviews made public in the fourth hour were extremely optimistic. The Iron Age, usually accepted as the spokesman for the industry, stated that during the past week the rapid recovery of the steel trade had been a surprise to consumers and producers alike; that some producers have continued to be skeptical, but that bookings of new orders continue to grow with increasing pressure for prompt deliveries; that increased production even of skeptical producers had been unavoidable; that Chicago showed the greatest recovery with specifications of one independent in that district calling for operations at 140 per cent of capacity, with other mills in the same line running at 100 per cent of capacity; that the Steel corporation is now running at 75 per cent of capacity, with the independents at an equally high rate, against the average of 85 to 90 per cent at this time last year and below 50 per cent at the low of the last part of 1929.

Interest in Fox Increases.

Wall Street's interest in the Fox situation and outlook continues to make that subject uppermost in discussion. This interest is increased by the fight that William Fox has made since he obtained the help of Samuel Untermyer as counsel for the Fox Film Company. In informed Wall Street circles it is no secret that Fox had only a very slim fighting chance up to a couple of days ago, last Monday, when it was necessary to appear before the court to show why a receiver should not be appointed. Much to the surprise of many Wall Street people, no receiver was named; action was suspended. Since then Fox, with the help of Untermyer, has made rapid strides in avoiding a receivership by getting the support of powerful bankers under an agreement to trustee the Fox stock for not more than a year and in the meantime raise sufficient funds to pay off all floating debt and raise additional working capital, temporary financing to be followed by permanent financing.

From trustworthy, informed sources it is learned that the Fox Film Company has surplus assets of $118,000,000 over all outstanding obligations; that profits of the company for 1929 were $18,000,000; that current profits are running ahead of 1929; that last week showed profits of $500,000, a new high trecord. It is understood that the company's total outstanding indebtedness is $91,000,000 of which $71,000,000 was created in the purchase of Loew and Gaumount, the English movie theater chain system; that Loew and the West Coast Company could be quickly sold today to raise much more than all that is needed to pay for all indebtedness; that if the proposed readjustment plan goes through which now seems likely, Fox will be able to hold on to Loew, the West Coast Company and Gaumaunt; that the bankers now behind the proposed readjustment, including Dillon Read, Lehman Bros. and the Bancamerica-Blair will raise $50,000,000 to pay off the $12,000,000 maturing Halsey Stuart notes, the $15,000,000 maturing notes held by the Western Electric Company, a subsidiary of American Telephone; $9,800,000 bank loans which are due and other maturing obligations, including some $14,000,000 outstanding notes given for the purchase of the Gaumaunt theaters, together with $5,000,000 cash, that transaction involving $20,000,000 in cash and notes.

Mixed Views in Steel.

Steel common opened up 2 3-8 points at 179 3-8 on the overnight fourth quarter and annual earnings statement, but within the first half hour lost ground, reflecting mixed views. Both statements were better than expected. There was some uncertainty, however, as to what the returns for the last three months of the year meant.

For the year profits were the largest for any peace time 12 months, being exceeded only by 1917. After all charges down to and including the $25,219,000 for preferred dividends, $172,312,000 remained for the common stock which with extra dividends and increased outstanding stock called for $63,408,000, leaving a final surplus over dividends of $108,904,000. Allowing for year-end adjustments such as were made in 1928, this is equal to $21.18 a share on the outstanding stock compared with $88,954,000 after the preferred dividend in 1928. For the year last named common dividends called for only $49,513,000, leaving a final surplus over all dividends of $39,140,000, equal to $12.50 a share on the smaller amount of stock then outstanding.

But while the returns for the year were better than expected with the fourth quarter, the best for any three months from the end of the war to the beginning of 1929 most interest was shown in the earnings for the last quarter. For October of 1929 net was $22,066,000. For November the figures were $18,367,000, and for December $15,951,000, comparing respectively for the corresponding months of 1928 with $19,399,000, $17,364,000 and $16,422,000. There is always a declining trend in the earnings for the last three months of the year, but for 1929 there was a decrease from $22,066,000 for October to $15,951,000 for December, a drop of $6,115,000 against a drop of $2,977,000 for the same months of 1928, from $19,399,000 to $16,422,000, with December of 1929 below December of 1928. Some people are wondering if the experience of 1920 will be repeated when the slowing down in the steel industry was not reflected in the earnings of the Steel corporation until the spring of 1921. The most encouraging phase of the steel industry today in any event, however, is found in the improvement that has occurred since the end of 1929.

Farm Board Approves Dry Bean Co-operative

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The federal farm board today approved organization plans for a national association to merchandise dry beans which were submitted by representatives of co-operatives in the bean industry.

Officials of co-operatives from seven states meeting with the farm board presented a tentative set-up for the National Bean Growers' Marketing Association to be incorporated with a capital of $1,000,000.

4,000 Fail To Pay Occupational Tax

Friday is the last day for payment of state occupational taxes without a penalty of 50 per cent of the levy, according to a warning issued Wednesday by W. S. Richardson, Fulton county tax collector.

Four thousand Fulton county people are subject to the tax, and only 60 per cent have paid it, Mr. Richardson said. He called attention to the fact that all operators of automobile parking lots are subject to the tax. The occupational tax is imposed on a wide variety of subjects, and ranges from $5 to $300.

SEARS-ROEBUCK SHOWS INCREASED EARNINGS

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Sears, Roebuck & Co. today reported its net income for 1929 was $30,057,652, equal to $6.70 a share of common stock, as compared with $26,907,902 and $6.28 a share in 1928. Net sales of the mail order house last year were $403,472,007. In 1928 they were $319,773,787.

The General Baking Corporation today reported net earnings of $7,170,381 for 1929, equal to $6.49 a share on the preferred stock. This compares with 1928 net of $7,545,789, or $6.86 a share on the same issue.

F. H. Frazier, chairman of the board, informed stockholders that operations last year were hampered by expenditures of $4,808,024 for physical improvements in two-thirds of the corporation's 50 plants. Four new plants were built. Sales gained $2,850,253 over 1928 and the corporation retired the remainder of its funded debt.

The Pittsburgh Steel Company's net income for 1929 was $3,922,567, or $12.58 a common share, against $2,880,882, or $8.47 a share in 1928. Profit for the last six months of the year was $1,166,358, or $3.15 a share, compared with $1,743,270, or $5.43 in the same period of 1928. Net for the December quarter was equal to $1.08 a share on the preferred compared with $2.58 on the common in 1928.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 58

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

After selling Meriem, the native chief demanded of the girl's new masters that they leave his village next morning early. He told them of her savage mate who would surely attempt her rescue. The Swedes needed no urging to hasten them on toward the Sheik's country. Already they were gloating over the gold they would receive from him in exchange for the lovely prize luck had thrown across their path. Two days they marched.

During this hard trek across the African plains, Malbihn feasted his eyes upon the face and figure of the beautiful captive. His desire to possess her for himself became even greater than his greed for the ransom money. The fourth evening they pitched camp. Meriem began to give up hope. Why did not Korak come to her? She had been left alone until near midnight when Malbihn entered her tent. The look of a beast was on his face.

Like a trapped creature Meriem shrank from the approaching man. She saw his hands extended, claw-like, to seize her; heard his breath come quickly. Then she screamed—loud and shrill, once, twice, a third time before Malbihn could leap across the tent and throttle her cries with his brute strength. Then she fought him. Beneath her rounded curves, and fine, soft skin lay the muscles of a young lioness. The man found her desperate.

But Malbihn was of giant strength and stature and he was brutal. Slowly he subdued the girl's fighting fury. Meriem still fought back but she was growing weaker from the choking fingers at her throat. Her cries had awakened Jenssen. Long suspicious of his partner, he guessed rightly what might be happening. With a muttered curse he dashed from his tent. Out in the jungle, another heard faintly the screams and broke into a rapid run.

MRS. THOMAS ALSTON DIES AT RESIDENCE

Funeral Services Will Be Conducted at 11 O'Clock This Morning.

Mrs. Thomas H. Alston, 77, died Wednesday at the residence on South Candler street, Decatur, following a long illness.

In addition to her husband she is survived by two sons, A. H. Alston, of Augusta, and R. A. Alston, of Decatur; a sister, Miss Cora Kennon, of Atlanta; a brother, C. F. Goree, of Atlanta, and six grandchildren, Misses Martha and Margaret Alston, both of Augusta; Howard Alston, of Annapolis, Md.; Marion Alston, of Augusta; Robert A. Alston, Jr., and Wallace McP. Alston, of Decatur.

Funeral rites will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the residence, with the Rev. Horace Smith, assisted by her grandson, the Rev. Wallace McP. Alston, officiating. Burial will be in Decatur cemetery. The following pallbearers have been selected: Robert C. Alston, Philip C. Alston, Ott N. Alston, A. H. Alston, Gleason Goree, Robert A. Alston, Jr., and Wallace McP. Alston.

Final Rites Friday For 'Holdup' Victim

Final rites for Thomas A. Watts, who died Tuesday at Grady hospital of wounds received Saturday night when he was shot by Otis C. Waller, in the Rawson street apartment where they both lived, will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the residence, 157 Ormond street. The Rev. W. Lee Cutts will officiate and burial will be in Crest Lawn cemetery.

In addition to his widow, Watts is survived by a daughter, Miss Jewel Watts; his mother, Mrs. T. P. Watts; two brothers, H. M. and W. B. Watts, and two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Hagy and Mrs. J. R. Mote.

The shooting occurred when Watts and Cora Belle Brown, both of whom lived at the Rawson street address, tried to play a joke on Waller, calling him to the door and commanding him to throw up his hands.

Miss Murphy's Rites Will Be Held Today

Final rites for Miss Katherine Murphy, who died Tuesday at a private hospital will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception with the Rev. Father Joseph E. Moylan officiating. Miss Murphy was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Murphy, of 161 Boling road. She was educated in Sacred Heart parochial school, and later attended St. Joseph's college, Emmettsburg, Md.

McGee Funeral Rites Are Held at Forsyth

FORSYTH, Ga., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Funeral services for S. H. McGee, 86, who died Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. O. B. Ingram, at Opelika, Ala., were conducted today from the Juliette Methodist church. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Mr. McGee was a resident of this county for a number of years. He served in the War Between the States.

He is survived by three sons, J. F. McGee, of Juliette; J. L. McGee, of Forsyth, and S. R. McGee, of Atlanta; three daughters, Mrs. O. B. Ingram, of Opelika, Ala.; Mrs. M. J. Moore, and Mrs. L. A. Rider, of New York.

AUTO VICTIM BURIED

Driver in Crash Faces Recorder Saturday.

Funeral rites for five-year-old Harry Love, who was instantly killed Tuesday when struck down on Capitol avenue near Woodward by an automobile driven by Dr. H. M. Holmes, negro physician, were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the chapel of Sam Greenberg & Company with Rabbi Harry Epstein officiating. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery. In addition to his parents, the child is survived by two brothers, Phillip and Seymour. Holmes was released in $1,500 bond. His case is set for Saturday.

BENTLEY RITES TODAY

Fulton Courts To Close Until After Funeral.

Final rites for Ernest Bentley, attorney and former member of the state legislature from Fulton county, who died suddenly Tuesday at the residence, 3700 Peachtree road, will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at Spring Hill chapel with the Rev. W. H. Oakey officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Bentley was associated with his father, C. P. Bentley, and a brother, W. R. Bentley, in the practice of law. Fulton county courts will recess at 10:45 o'clock this morning, until after the funeral, out of respect to the deceased and his family.

MORGAN RITES TODAY

Last Services Will Be Held in Rockmart.

Funeral rites for the Rev. Thomas A. Morgan, 60, former member of the North Georgia Methodist conference, who died Saturday at his residence in St. Petersburg, Fla., will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at Rockmart Methodist church, followed by burial in Rockmart cemetery. Dr. John S. Jenkins, presiding elder of the South Atlanta district of the Methodist church, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. J. B. Spense, of Rockmart, and Charles D. Tillman, of Atlanta. His widow and five children survive Mr. Morgan.

BY THE DIAL TWISTER.

Takeoffs on tintypes and chromos of the old family album with amusing biographical sidelights on all the relatives known as "Family Photographs," and a negro skit "Easy to Play," in which he impersonates two darkies musically inclined, are presented by Phil Cook, radio's most versatile comedian, during his appearance with Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees on the Fleischmann "Sunshine Hour" this evening at 7 o'clock over WSB and a coast-to-coast network of stations affiliated with the National Broadcasting Company.

Phil Cook.

The complete program is as follows:

Theme: "My Time Is Your Time"
1. I May Be Wrong.
   If He Cared.
   I Love You More Each Day.
   I May Be Wrong.
   Rudy Vallee and His Connecticut Yankees.
2. Crying for the Carolines.
   That's When I Learned to Love You. —Waltz Group
   Rudy Vallee and His Connecticut Yankees.
3. Family Photographs."
   Phil Cook, Comedian.
4. Poems.
   Rudy Vallee and His Connecticut Yankees.
5. What a Perfect Night for Love.
   My Man Is on the Make.
   Singing in the Bathtub.
   Bouquet.
   Rudy Vallee and His Connecticut Yankees.
6. "Easy to Play"—Skit
   Phil Cook, Comedian.
7. Only Girl.
   My Life Begins and Ends With You.
   Only Girl.
   Rudy Vallee and His Connecticut Yankees.
8. Guess Group
   Rudy Vallee and His Connecticut Yankees.
9. Main Stein Song
   Rudy Vallee and His Connecticut Yankees.
10. I Love You, Believe Me, I Love You. Can't You Understand?
   Rudy Vallee and His Connecticut Yankees.

An outstanding program will be broadcast this evening at 9 o'clock through WSB and the N. B. C. system, when Mischa Elman, internationally famous violinist, assisted by the Victor Symphony orchestra under the direction of Nathaniel Shilkret, is heard in a program on the R. C. A. Victor hour, under the sponsorship of the Victor division.

Of chief interest in the program which Mr. Elman will play is the Concerto in E Minor by Mendelssohn. Other numbers will be a recent composition of his own, "Tango," and such favorite selections as a gay Hungarian dance by Brahms and "Hymn to the Sun," from Rimsky-Korsakov's opera-ballet, "Le Coq d'Or."

In addition to supporting Mr. Elman in the concerto, the Victor Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Nathaniel Shilkret, will play an unusually interesting program of selections, among them the "1812 Overture," by Tschaikowsky, and the "Scherzo," from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" suite.

The complete program follows:

1. Victor March .... Shilkret
2. Scherzo (Midsummer Night's Dream) .... Mendelssohn
   Victor Symphony Orchestra
   Nathaniel Shilkret, conducting
3. Concerto in E Minor .... Mendelssohn
   Mischa Elman With Orchestra
4. (a) Etincelles .... Moskowski

The enchantment of tender love scenes, the heartaches of parted sweethearts, the joy of "living happily ever after," will be pictured on the ether at 8 o'clock this evening over WSB when the Seiberling Singers turn the pages of a musical romance and broadcast a vocal and instrumental love story. It will be a story that will bring the thrills of a "best seller" to thirty million radio listeners throughout the country.

The complete program follows:

Prelude in G Minor... Rachmaninoff-Black
Quartet
Ich Liebe Dich .... Grieg
Tenor Solo
Arabesque No. 1 .... Debussy
